I dedicate this book to the Almighty God. He brought me back to Earth and anointed me for thirty-two months, enabling me to receive the revelation expounded in this book: His earthly kingdom is at hand. He dispatched two of His spirit angels, saints Michael and Gabriel, to support me throughout the revelation period. He is the author of this book—I am a mere scribe.

May all glory and honour be to Him, now and forevermore. Amen.

PREFACE

This book is based on the Almighty God's revelation, which He brought to light between May 2016 and December 2018. Towards the end of this period, He would seemingly link me up with His active mind and His Truth would flood my soul. His spirit angels intervened when certain aspects of the revelation needed clarification. The angels' names, Michael and Gabriel, sound different in angelic language, but I have used these anglicised versions throughout the book.

Reading from the revelation, humankind is about to come to the end of a lengthy spiritual dark age, marked by the rise of Satanism (humanism) and misdirected carnal-based growth. Symptomatic of this darkness is the near-complete disconnect from the knowledge of God among many societies around the world; where as a result, righteousness is frowned upon and the Creator's name is mentioned with a hint of embarrassment.

Let us imagine a scenario where the Almighty God decrees a dress code upon humanity—His prophet approaches a young woman on a New York street, "I'm God's prophet; He'd like you to cover your hair and to rethink your hot-pant-style jean shorts." She would rebuke the prophet, "Dude! What have you been smoking?"

If you asked the USA to show leadership by abandoning her nuclear weapons programme, President Donald Trump would arrogantly remind you why his kingdom is the sole superpower: unmatched nuclear capability. In 2016, over twenty million people faced starvation in Yemen, Somalia, South Sudan, and Nigeria; if you had asked one of that year's nine super rich men—they collectively owned the same as the bottom half of the global population<sup>1</sup>—to donate half of his fortune to save those hapless souls, there would have been stunned silence.

Synthetic recreational drugs have arisen, for example Fentanyl, which pose grave danger even to first responders. Canada has reacted by establishing 'safe injection sites', where nurses administer illicitly acquired drugs, hoping to check the widespread overdosing crisis—it claimed almost 1,500 lives in one province alone in 2018. Drug-fuelled criminal activity, characterised by stabbings and shootings, is on the rise; the situation is worse in the USA.

Despite these woes, recreational use and personal cultivation of cannabis was legalised across Canada in October 2018—so far, cannabis enjoys legal status in ten USA states. And because cannabis has made its way into food recipes, concerns about unintentional consumption in edibles such as pastries, including by children, can no longer be ignored. Mind you, this is a mere snapshot of the crisis in North America, where data is readily available.

On its part, the global defence budget continues to rise; it stood at US$1.7 trillion in 2017, with the USA spending about US$610 billion, almost 40 percent of the global total. Unlike human beings, the Almighty God is not delusional: All defence spending is intended for the spillage of human blood. If US$100 can spill a litre of blood, the USA's capability stands at over six billion litres annually.

As spiritual darkness deepens, the Almighty God's anger keeps multiplying. Increasingly ferocious disasters are overtaking the earth. By His revelation, the frequency and intensity of catastrophes and the growth of the pharmaceutical industry, taken together, correspond to humanity's level of unrighteousness. The global pharmaceutical industry has sustained a steady growth over the years: It surpassed the US$1 trillion mark in 2014.

Suppose you had the power to take over a planet in one corner of the cosmos and to establish intelligent life there. What would be your measure of success regarding your project? Would it be that parts of your planet were experiencing some growth even as people starved elsewhere? Or would it be that nine of the nations in your planet possessed nuclear weapons and were ready to annihilate your project at the press of a button? No: Your measure of success would be your creation's level of righteousness—the expression of love among its members and towards you. The Almighty God is no different.

Understandably therefore, the Creator of the universe, including its spiritual and cosmic life, has started the great reset, whereby He will right what has gone wrong, cleanse the race of spiritual misfits, and reorient growth away from self-directed to righteousness-based. This reset will facilitate a far-reaching renewal of the race, stopping its approaching death and enabling it to flourish.

During the revelation period, the Almighty God clarified that He has annihilated countless defiant civilisations across the cosmos. Sometimes, the extermination has been through alien attacks from nearby inhabited celestial bodies. In our present spiritual and technological backwardness, we could see neither the alien attackers nor their weapons. As humanity dies off, we would heap the blame on our usual scapegoat: Satan. Yet we do not understand who or what Satan is.

According to the Almighty God, the signs of His ending of the Second Epoch around this time ought to have been clear. But our present spiritual foolishness would not allow such discernment. And as a result, only He can inform humanity of the imminent Third Epoch, The Kingdom of the Almighty God, which He is putting into effect.

This book is the first of His upcoming divine actions, geared towards moving humanity from faith to knowledge. This will enable Him to reign in the heart of every kingdom citizen, even as He culls the herd of those who defy Him. Years into the great reset, state borders will be used for administrative purposes, but not to delineate political exclusion zones.

Finally, over the past forty years, the Almighty God has been giving back bodily life to those human beings who lived righteously on Earth in the past: His saints. They will assist Him to set up and govern the upcoming kingdom, guided by Jesus Christ, who is also back on Earth. In the revelation, the Almighty God identified St. John's beast as prophesied 2,000 years ago. This beast is also the little horn whom Prophet Daniel had dreamt of 600 years earlier.

<sup>39</sup> But be sure of this: if the homeowner had known at what time the thief were coming, he would have watched and would not have let his house be broken into. <sup>40</sup> So be ready, because the Son of Man is coming at a time when you don't expect him.

THE END OF THE SECOND EPOCH

INTRODUCTION

“Owing to the novel nature of this work, I have used some unfamiliar terms: Spirit angels, unlike cosmic angels, are without physical bodies. The revelation led me to use the term cosmozens to refer to the numberless spirit-driven bodily beings inhabiting the cosmos. Think of the Spirit Universe as the ordered existence of ‘spirit matter’ and energy; obviously, these two are part and parcel of the popularly imagined universe, beyond which nothing can exist.”

As I noted in the Preface, the Almighty God took thirty-two months to conclude this revelation. Initially, He would stir my soul and lead me to ask Him questions pertaining to humankind’s many contemporary challenges. He would then answer me in a dream, a vision, or via spiritual communication—sometimes strong enough to immobilise me for minutes. After about two months, He became more affable and responded to my questions through immediate revelation, instead of having to wait for a dream or a vision. It felt as if He was peeling off layers of spiritual illiteracy from my soul to reveal His knowledge.

By the end of the thirty-second month, I had received a clear and coherent revelation about the history and future of humankind; also, the Almighty God and His two spirit angels had dictated most of the paragraphs in this book.

At first, I did not realise the significance of what I was getting into.

Let me use the first message for illustration.

To start off, Angel Michael made me appreciate that he had to apply a mighty hand to keep me outside religion: A person steeped in religious dogma and bias cannot accommodate an outside-in perspective regarding the true knowledge of God. The angel therefore maintained upon me a spirit of philosophical questioning of religious beliefs, though I would pray and meditate in solitude. Hence I was unaware of Christianity's recent subtle trends.

After I began attending church services in February 2016, I grew curious about the mainstream Christian view that Jesus Christ is God—coequal, co-essential, and co-eternal with 'God the Father' and 'God the Holy Spirit'. One preacher stated categorically, "If one of the three divine persons in the Holy Trinity were to be removed, God would cease to exist." I also noticed that many Christian ministries, including online ones, used the name of Christ in prayer, praise, and worship, paying no regards to the Almighty God.

I cried out to God. I reminded Him of some spiritual support work I was involved in at the time, among some homeless people, yet I was not sure if humanity should worship the Almighty God, Jesus Christ, or the former through the latter. He answered me during a deep meditation session, through a strong spiritual vibration which left the right side of my head in spasm for about ten minutes: "It doesn't matter."

It is in order therefore to praise, worship, and pray to Jesus Christ, just as one would to the Almighty God. Later, however, Father clarified that this position will change at the end of the Second Epoch. After He sets up His earthly kingdom, all its citizens will exclusively worship Him.

This message encouraged me to keep asking the Almighty God questions on any profound matters that came to my mind, and He always answered me, directly or through His angels. But I later discerned that He was stirring my mind to ponder specific spiritual issues, which I would then address to Him in prayer. My pleadings were not originating from my mind: He had planned our interaction in such a way that in the end, I would have received a comprehensive revelation.

“Joseph, I chose you for this kingdom project thousands of years ago during your first life on Earth. The time has come to fulfil my promise to humanity. Accurately record what I’ll reveal to you,” the Almighty God cautioned me in a dream in late May 2016.

In the days following that dream, I got apprehensive about being involved in a project where I always had to await His instructions. I feared what would happen if I made a significant mistake. The realisation that I did not have control of my mind also concerned me, but His friendly approach strengthened me.

As a highlight, the revelation paints a picture of the Almighty God, and His spirit and cosmic angels, being in much firmer control of our lives than many of us are aware of. A loving but strict Father, He treasures righteousness while severely punishing disobedience.

I have used the term meditation to refer to that peaceful state one attains while at a quiet place, at the point when the noisy conscious mind virtually shuts off. Meditative prayer can be contrasted with the ‘shopping list prayers’ most of us engage in, whereby we allocate two quick minutes to tell the Almighty God what we want, followed by a hurried amen. We ought to dialogue with God, as opposed to issuing Him a monologue. Being in a meditative mood can create the perfect opportunity for listening out to cosmic intelligence—the Almighty God, His angels, and other benevolent spirits. Their messages carry much more significance than what you feel you must tell them.

Versions of English Bible translations abound, bearing many subtle disagreements and some direct contradictions. The two spirit angels—they were instrumental in the development of all holy writings in the first place—led me to the correct translation for each quoted scripture.

Owing to the novel nature of this work, I have used some unfamiliar terms: Spirit angels, unlike cosmic angels, are without physical bodies. The revelation led me to use the term cosmozens to refer to the numberless spirit-driven bodily beings inhabiting the cosmos. Think of the Spirit Universe as the ordered existence of ‘spirit matter’ and energy; obviously, these two are part and parcel of the popularly imagined universe, beyond which nothing can exist.

CREATION REVEALED

THE SIX 'DAYS' OF TERRESTRIAL CREATION: FROM LIGHT TO ADAM

Before the discovery of radioactivity in the late 1800s, the age of the earth was always considered in terms of the six biblical 'days' of creation and the genealogy from Adam to Jesus Christ. Taken together, they returned a young age running into several thousand years.

As geologists and physicists gained increasing knowledge in the early twentieth century, estimated dates of the age of the earth in the region of two billion years surfaced. Currently, Science guesstimates the age of the earth at about four and a half billion years, while that of the observable universe is thought to stand at thirteen billion years.

Medicine, chemistry, astronomy—the subjects our science studies are approached just like our research into the age of the universe. It is a slow, grinding process. Yet lying beyond our immediate consciousness is complete knowledge, as possessed by the Almighty God and His angels. Our only connection to them is spiritual: God and His spirit angels are spirit beings; cosmic angels live many light-years away in paradise. They bequeathed our ancestors some writings millennia ago, in the only style our forebears could understand given their ignorance. We have dismissed those writings for their 'simplicity', after eying them through literal lenses; hence we have failed to grasp the term 'day' in the following scripture, for example. As for the cosmic angels, "Well, they're just aliens," many of us would say.

<sup>1</sup> In the beginning God created the heavens [sky, i.e., the rest of the cosmos] and the earth. <sup>2</sup> The earth was formless and empty, and darkness covered the deep waters. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the surface of the waters. <sup>3</sup> Then God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. <sup>4</sup> And God saw that the light was good. Then He separated the light from the darkness. <sup>5</sup> God called the light “day” and the darkness “night”. And evening passed and morning came, marking the first day.

—GENESIS I NLT

Due to the prevailing spiritual darkness, many readers have given up ever ‘hearing’ the interpretive voice of the Almighty God as they perused their holy books, resigning to literal understanding. Based on this storybook-style reading, others have become fierce but irrational apologists for their religions’ holy writings—some to the extent of physical violence.

One of the significant results of this literal reading of holy writings is the Creation vs Evolution Debate, which paints a reality where spirituality and science run on parallel rails. It is as if evolution, as a phenomenon, can exist and affect the Almighty God’s creation for billions of years, while the Creator looks on wondering what was happening. But there cannot be multiple ultimate truths.

No scientist can discover what we call evolution without the Almighty God facilitating such discernment. And He does not spur us to discoveries in a series of happenstances: We ‘discover’ crude oil because He needs to warm the environment and to make human life easier. Our Heavenly Father is not a stumbling block to human advancement. He desires to bless us with knowledge, wishing we could know more and quicker, but within the matrix of His righteousness.

In the revelation, St. Michael identified soul programming as the cause of what Science calls evolution. The Almighty God encodes every soul He creates so it reacts to stimuli by its divine programme. He brings about conditions which cause certain species to go extinct while His chosen ones thrive. He isolates a section of a species causing it to develop into a new species, for His own divine purposes. Without having the ability to manage His creation using approaches like these, He would not have arrived at His ultimate terrestrial handicraft: humanity.

“Science without religion is lame; religion without science is blind.”

—ALBERT EINSTEIN

The Bible tells us that within four ‘days’, the Almighty God positioned the then formless and empty Earth to receive optimal energy from the sun, set it spinning on its axis to partition day from night, spurred it into a tilting motion around the sun to create seasons, and caused its waters to gather into depressions to reveal dry land, sprouting with all kinds of vegetation. Were these calendar days? One of the notable aspects of my revelation is that these were not calendar days, and they were not even equal. For instance, regarding terrestrial creation work, God is still on Day 7, resting from His earthly travail.

Building upon the achievements of those four ‘days’, the Almighty God created aquatic animals and birds of the air on Day 5. He blessed them saying, “Be fruitful and multiply: Let the fish fill the seas, while the birds multiply on the earth.” Later, as Day 6 broke over the earth, He created land animals.

Is it possible that the land was populated through an ‘evolution invasion’ from the seas? Yes, it is. Does that mean, for example, that the Almighty God did not create the land animals? If He had programmed the souls of some of the sea creatures so that their fins would adapt into legs as they took to the land, does that make Him less of a Creator? Am I the only one who finds this to be even more ingenious than having to mould every one of His creatures from clay, and then breathing life into each clay form?

ADAM & EVE ARE BORN

Before delving deeper into this section, it is important to understand that the Almighty God does not electrify the bodies of sub-human creatures using spiritual souls. And because such lower-life souls are matter-based, they die along with the animal. On the other hand, He electrifies a human body in the field of a spiritual soul. This is what sets us apart from animals. Human souls rejoin the Spirit Universe upon the loss of bodily life.

Ever since He created Adam and Eve, He has been moving us away from our animal heritage, towards a more spiritually aware existence. As Second Epoch humans, however, we still possess both animal and spiritual aspects. By the Fourth Epoch, He will have done away with most of our animal attributes.

<sup>26</sup> Then God said, "Let us make human beings in our image, to be like us. They will reign over the fish in the sea, the birds in the sky, the livestock, all the wild animals on the earth, and the small animals that scurry along the ground."

—GENESIS 1 NLT

By the Almighty God's revelation, Adam and Eve were fathered by His spirit about 10,000 years ago, soon after the Last Glacial Period—sometimes referred to as the Last Ice Age. In those days, there were sub-human species whose members closely resembled humans. From one of my visions, they even had basic weaponry skills and an interest in the sky. They could also conjecture the weather. But they did not have intelligent communication and could not organise into civilisations of any complexity. And most importantly, they were not human. Nevertheless, it is from one of these species that He identified His 'Mary' for the virgin conceptions.

These are the ‘people’ Cain feared in the scripture below, when God spelt out his punishment after he murdered his brother Abel.

<sup>13</sup> *Cain replied to the LORD, “My punishment is too great for me to bear!
<sup>14</sup> You have banished me from the land and from your presence; you have made me a homeless wanderer. Anyone who finds me will kill me!”*

—GENESIS 4 NLT

The part of the revelation about the creation of Adam and Eve took the form of a series of visions in mid-February 2017.

I recall the Almighty God asking me to pay close attention as He took over the mind of the leader of the First Paradise, which is a great number of stars away from Earth. God had kept referring to him as ‘the First Paradise Jesus Christ’. I then witnessed Him, accompanied by six cosmic angels, arriving in two spaceships and establishing the Garden of Eden. They marked off the farm’s boundaries with rotating gadgets that gave off awesome light. According to Angel Gabriel, this was the first time spiriticity, a form of angelic electricity, lit up the earth.

While still wearing the body of ‘the First Paradise Jesus Christ’, the Almighty God isolated Adam and welcomed him to the farm—he seemed to be in his mid-twenties. Father set about imparting to Adam the skills he needed as the progenitor of the human race, such as the elementary language alluded to in the scripture below. Adam’s sub-human relatives did not possess the mental and spiritual capability to improve their limited language skills to complex levels, based on social interaction; as I recall from the revelation, they referred to animals in vague terms that depended on each animal’s predominant sound.

<sup>19</sup> The LORD God formed out of the ground every living animal of the field and every bird of the air. He brought them to the man to see what he would name them, and whatever the man called each living creature, that was its name. <sup>20</sup> So the man named all the animals, the birds of the air, and the living creatures of the field.

—GENESIS 2 NET

Later, the Almighty God brought Eve, a beautiful young woman, into the garden. Before her arrival, Adam had been interacting only with God and the cosmic angels. He could tell that the heavenly hosts were not his kind, hence his relief when Eve entered the farm.

<sup>23</sup> “At last!” the man exclaimed. “This one is bone from my bone, and flesh from my flesh! She will be called ‘woman’, because she was taken from ‘man’.”

—GENESIS 2 NLT

From what I witnessed, there was so much to learn that by the time Adam and Eve disobeyed God, they were yet to cover the important subject of the shame of nakedness. The Almighty God instilled this notion into humanity from the beginning, for social order and as a check on immorality.

Outside the Garden of Eden, the sub-humans would not have covered their bodies out of the shame of nakedness: Such an idea would have been as foreign to them as it is to sub-human species today. The few who occasionally covered their bodies did so differently from humans, and for reasons other than the shame of nakedness—minimising skin injuries, keeping warm, looking distinct.

<sup>1</sup> Now the serpent was more crafty than any other beast of the field that the LORD God had made. He said to the woman, “Did God actually say, ‘You shall not eat of any tree in the garden?’” <sup>2</sup> And the woman said to the serpent, “We may eat of the fruit of the trees in the garden, <sup>3</sup> but God said, ‘You shall not eat of the fruit of the tree that is in the midst of the garden, neither shall you touch it, lest you die.’”

<sup>4</sup> But the serpent said to the woman, “You will not surely die. <sup>5</sup> For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil.” <sup>6</sup> So when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and that the tree was to be desired to make one wise, she took of its fruit and ate, and she also gave some to her husband who was with her, and he ate. <sup>7</sup> Then the eyes of both were opened, and they knew that they were naked.

—GENESIS 3 ESV

This scripture is one of the most misunderstood in holy writings. It is misconstrued on two levels: the nature of the mentioned-serpent, and the workings of the Almighty God. In several situations, God has used the symbolism of the serpent, as humankind’s worst enemy, to point out human defiance, or Satan. Every defiant human can be said to have a little serpent in their minds, spurring them towards disobedience. This was therefore not a real snake.

The Almighty God was testing Adam and Eve. He warns them not to eat the fruit of a certain tree in the garden, decreeing that if they disobeyed Him, they would realise they were naked. Yet He had not edified them on that subject. In my vision, this fruit was the most popular among the angels in the garden; they had carried its seeds along as they left paradise. I often witnessed them processing the fruit into angelic food inside their spacecraft. Adam and Eve must have wondered if the angels' wisdom resulted from their partaking of that fruit.

From what I saw, Adam and Eve appeared not to apprehend their unique status: They were different from their sub-human relatives. The inflection point came when the Almighty God opened their eyes to their nakedness after their disobedience.

Had he not defied God, Adam would have been the young race's spiritual guide and ruler for the almost 1,000 years he lived on Earth. But unlike Jesus Christ, eight millennia after him, Adam fell to God's testing. This has resulted in humankind enduring a difficult 10,000-year period, as God identifies the saints who will populate the ultimate and unchanging Fourth Epoch—humanity's cosmic paradise. The revelation shows that He has enough saints from the first two epochs to justify the establishment of His earthly kingdom.

God had intended that humanity would live in the Kingdom of the Almighty God from the word go. For illustration, He pointed out to me four of the six paradises where the beings obeyed Him from the beginning; their 'Adams' became their 'Jesus Christs', and their 'earths' turned into paradises.

Given this revelation, do I consider the holy writings' account of the creation of Adam and Eve to be true? Though the account does not portray the events literally, it is truer than the truth because it is part of the Almighty God's Truth. It is regrettable that our present spiritual illiteracy does not leave room for the narration of an event in abstract terms, without the reporter being declared logically wrong.

From a spiritual standpoint, it suffices to say that the Almighty God moulded Adam from the dust of the ground and breathed life into his nostrils. For one, this clarifies that the body is composed of matter that will decompose into the earth, while the breath of life (the soul) is external to such corporeal matter. The people of faith are not unscientific. They spiritually understand that natural science is inbuilt into divine discourses, because God is the arch-scientist—the Omniscient One.

Regarding the biblical account of the Almighty God creating Eve from Adam’s rib, or side, the spiritual implication here is that ‘a wife is a part of her husband’s body’. While she ought to cooperate with her husband for the sustainability of the family unit, he should treat her with love and care as only an insane person would hurt a part of his own body.

Before their significant westernisation, many societies around the world prized abstract narration and storytelling. In my community in Central Kenya, just a few decades ago, village elders would summon a young man after he would have made an unmarried woman pregnant, and the elders would never ‘stoop’ to the level of using words such as pregnancy, intimacy, marriage, money, or young woman. This elevated the deliberation to a level of decency and mystery that cannot be achieved with plain speech, though such discussions were difficult to follow for the socially unskilled.

THE FIRST EPOCH: FROM ADAM TO NOAH

<sup>1</sup> Then the people began to multiply on the earth, and daughters were born to them. <sup>2</sup> The sons of God saw the beautiful women and took any they wanted as their wives. <sup>3</sup> Then the LORD said, “My Spirit will not put up with humans for such a long time, for they are only mortal flesh. In the future, their normal lifespan will be no more than 120 years.”

<sup>4</sup> In those days, and for some time after, giant Nephilites lived on the earth, for whenever the sons of God had intercourse with women, they gave birth to children who became the heroes and famous warriors of ancient times.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD observed the extent of human wickedness on the earth, and He saw that everything they thought or imagined was consistently and totally evil. <sup>6</sup> So the LORD was sorry He had ever made them and put them on the earth. It broke His heart. <sup>7</sup> And the LORD said, “I will wipe this human race I have created from the face of the earth. Yes, and I will destroy every living thing—all the people, the large animals, the small animals that scurry along the ground, and even the birds of the sky. I am sorry I ever made them.” <sup>8</sup> But Noah found favor with the LORD.

—GENESIS 6 NLT

After the Almighty God chased Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden, they were no longer separated from the sub-human relatives living around them. This caused many challenges, the most consequential being interbreeding between the daughters of the humans and the sons of the sub-humans.

And why are the sons of these sub-humans referred to in the Bible as ‘sons of God’? I prayed and meditated for several weeks while I sought the Almighty God’s clarification on this scripture. He made me understand that the individuals of that sub-human species were often of a stronger build than the humans. God was effecting a transition in His earthly creation, from beings who depended on brute force to spirit-driven beings whose power derived from ‘software’ capability.

In one vision, I saw Him struggling to settle humankind into agriculture and close-knit civilisations, away from the hunter-gatherer lifestyle of the coexisting sub-human species. But during the transition period, bodily strength and might were still prized attributes among males. And the sub-human males mated quite successfully among the daughters of early humans, bringing forth strong sons—some were fierce Goliath-type warriors.

Why did the Almighty God get so angry about this interbreeding? Why did He feel compelled to wipe out humanity save for Noah's family of eight? Because the occasioned pollution stifled humanity's correspondence with Him, and the spirit and cosmic angels. They could no longer guide humankind towards rapid spiritual and socioeconomic development. Though we think of the 120-year-lifespan-curse as a supernatural punishment for the sins of early humans, it can also be viewed as resulting from species pollution and degradation.

On the other hand, Noah and his family were righteous and God-fearing. They had maintained an unpolluted and unbroken lineage from Adam, and therefore presented the Almighty God with a near-perfect opportunity to restart His project from scratch, this time with a population of eight as opposed to two.

<sup>22</sup> Everything that breathed and lived on dry land died. <sup>23</sup> God wiped out every living thing on the earth—people, livestock, small animals that scurry along the ground, and the birds of the sky. All were destroyed. The only people who survived were Noah and those with him in the boat. <sup>24</sup> And the flood waters covered the earth for 150 days.

—GENESIS 7 NLT

Was the Great Flood truly global? Did the waters cover the entire Earth? This aspect of the revelation has important implications for human history and spirituality. The Almighty God is surprised that humanity has not sought His knowledge regarding such matters. In a vision, He showed me that the flood waters covered only the region where humans, as delineated earlier in this chapter, had populated. This area encompassed present-day Northern Iraq, Syria, and Eastern Turkey.

The account of the flood was then passed down through the generations, and later recorded under God's inspiration. To the eight eyewitnesses, and considering His reason for the flood, the 'entire world' was engulfed in flood waters.

THE SECOND EPOCH: FROM NOAH TO THE KINGDOM OF THE ALMIGHTY GOD

Among other reasons, the Almighty God brought about the Great Flood to annihilate the sub-human species that had been interbreeding and competing with the early humans. Despite His anger at humanity's sins, He was determined that the blessing spelt out in the scripture below would come to pass.

<sup>28</sup> God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply! Fill the earth and subdue it! Rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and every creature that moves on the ground."

—GENESIS I NET

Unfortunately, pollution to the human race persisted from multiple fronts during the Second Epoch. After the dispersion at Babel, humankind came across different sub-human species beyond the area obliterated by the Great Flood. But those incidences of contamination were not serious enough to warrant the Almighty God's drastic action. Notwithstanding, there are two main undesirable effects of this pollution:

- ✦ The average human's difficulties with spiritual correspondence. This has the effect of setting humankind apart from the Almighty God, His spirit and cosmic angels, and the force behind all transformations—abstraction.
- ✦ Our widespread physical and mental abnormalities and dangerous diseases, for our degraded bodies cannot fight off infections.

Beyond species pollution, cultural-religious segregations have frustrated the return of human bodies to the pre-Babel Adamic state. Today, only an insignificant fraction of the population is 100 percent human, in keeping with the Almighty God's design.

Racial and sub-racial exclusions have played the starring role in making our thousands of cultures and languages a defining feature of the Second Epoch. And as the pot of spiritual corruption boiled, all these human divisions have caused the billowing of thousands of religions, denominations, and sects. The Almighty God will break the curse of human divisions and misunderstandings as we enter the Third Epoch. His people will be one unified human race once again with a common language and ken. Every barrier will fall, starting with nation-state boundaries.

THE RISE & FALL OF ISRAEL

Yet another notable of the Second Epoch is the failure of Israel to live up to God's intention as an example of a God-governed kingdom, from where He would have radiated His governorship to other nations around the world.

By the revelation, God's final disappointment with Israel was her failure to recognise Jesus Christ, causing Him to abandon her as His special possession. He therefore kept off during her A.D. 66 to A.D. 135 failed revolts against the Roman Empire. They resulted in many Jews being dispersed around the world or being sold into slavery. This is what He had promised would happen if she disobeyed Him. Remarkably, the A.D. 135 revolt was led by one Shimon Bar-Kokhba, who many Jews of the time regarded as the Messiah. The Almighty God and His angels had fought alongside Israel in most of her earlier wars, leading to many miraculous successes.

The current state of Israel, established in 1948, is not the model, spirit-led dominion the Almighty God had intended. It is smeared in shame and iniquity like all other world jurisdictions, and it is Jacob's only by name. From the revelation, if God were human, He would have been deeply traumatised. The Lord has been in punishment mode towards Jacob's children ever since they instigated Christ's crucifixion. He is prepared to meet them on the battlefield if they will not accept Jesus Christ 2.0.

THE SECOND ADAM: JESUS CHRIST 1.0

Jesus's world was startlingly different from ours. For one thing, it was a lot less crowded. At the time of his birth, the earth's entire population was just 300 million—smaller than that of the USA by itself today. About 45 million of those people, including Jesus himself, lived in the Roman Empire, whose borders stretched, in Jesus's time, from modern-day Portugal in the west to Turkey in the east.<sup>2</sup>

About 2,000 years ago, amidst human violence, the Almighty God presented the world with His second direct son: Jesus Christ. At the time, most people were committed to some form of idol worship or to one of the many pagan religions.

The Almighty God sent the good news of His upcoming kingdom through Christ. But by the fourth century, Christ's true followers had been subjugated. From that point onwards, dogmatic, doctrine-based religions, denominations, and sects have continued to spring up, from the Roman Catholic Church to the latest village sect somewhere in the African jungle. Though they purport to preach what Christ stood for, they are heavily married to the world. Only through the death of either the world or religion can a clean separation occur.

Out of disappointment, the Almighty God then set up Islam, after A.D. 600, among the descendants of Ishmael—Abraham's eldest son. He set up Islam to be a true spiritual expression. According to Angel Gabriel, it is the most successful of the three so-called Abrahamic religions, noting its lifestyle approach and insistence on individual worship. Some of its sections have nevertheless endured spiritual uncertainty, where cultural practices have been confused with God's expectations, and violent coercion has been considered a viable tool. It has therefore become yet another religion, following in the footsteps of Judaism and Christianity.

FAVOURABLE CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

The Almighty God has maintained the earth's climatic conditions within a comfortable zone for human habitation for 10,000 years, humankind's present age. We have His promise of eternal climatic order, unless He must use global climate chaos as a tool for our punishment. He has been disciplining us through isolated climate disarray; in the revelation, He showed me how He can escalate the situation.

Terrestrial temperatures have been on a steady climb from around 10,500 years ago, but with notable swings as captured in the following text.<sup>3</sup> These swings have been anything but wild, and can in a sense be understood as adding flavour to human existence:

- ✦ CLIMATIC OPTIMUM [circa 5000 B.C. to 3000 B.C.]: Reconstructions show temperatures warming from around 10,500 years ago and peaking during this period, settling at perhaps up to two degrees Celsius warmer than today. Under these conditions, the first great ancient civilisations began and flourished.
- ✦ COOLING TREND [circa 150 B.C. to A.D. 900]: During this cooling period, the Nile River froze over in A.D. 829 and the Black Sea between A.D. 800 and 801.
- ✦ THE LITTLE ICE AGE [circa A.D. 1550 to 1850]: This period saw probably the coldest temperatures since the Almighty God established the human race. It was marked by wars, inflation, crop failure and famines, and declining populations in Europe.
- ✦ CONTEMPORARY CLIMATE [circa A.D. 1850 to present]: Since the end of the Little Ice Age, we have been on a warming trend, which was given impetus by the discovery of crude oil in A.D. 1859 and the still-continuing, unprecedented population growth.

In the revelation, Angel Michael illustrated that a warmer global climate is more conducive to human existence than a colder one. A warming climate is both the cause and the result of a thriving population. As we will see in Chapter 6, the buzz about global warming is political noise from those who believe the current borders and the associated world order will last forever.

Humans and the Almighty God cannot both control the climate. Our covenant with Him is that He grants us the climatic conditions we need (or deserve). Ours is to obey Him, and to enjoy His benevolence without hindering one another. When I asked Angel Michael how a human being can enjoy the climatic conditions in Northern Canada, where wintery conditions persist year-round; or in the Sahara Desert, where you could fry an egg on the bonnet of a car in the afternoon sun, his revelation was that our primitive human boundaries will fall soon. Kingdom citizens will read about them in history books.

FREE-WILL EQUALS SATAN

“Neither the Almighty God nor the angel suggested a suitable human name for that wonderful spiritual software; I decided to call it the Spirit of God, or SoG. While the soul gives the human body life, SoG powers the soul and connects us to God, the angels, and the great spiritual consciousness pervading the cosmos, imparting to us intellectual ability, and giving us the opportunity to access transformational extraterrestrial knowledge.”

THE SPIRITUAL SOUL

It is worth recalling what we learnt in Chapter 1, about the difference between the souls of humans and those of animals, including apes, our presumed close relatives. From the smallest insect to the intelligent monkey you will occasionally see on TV, all sub-human creatures have matter-based souls. Besides humans, God has created no other being on this planet with a spiritual soul; were He to do this, the extinction of the human race would be a likely result.

To aid our further understanding, let us contemplate the workings of a computer. If you bought a laptop with no software installed, you could bring it on, but you could not use it to access the internet, type a letter, or calculate a sum. If this laptop were a human being, he would suffer a sub-human existence. To function as you do, you must have a will, a spiritual indwelling driving force. Consider will in terms of having a hunger to act and in a rationalised manner, or being driven, or being spirited really.

Still on the computer analogy, we need many types of software to live intelligently; we programme these as we learn new ways of doing things. But for us to be spirited and therefore facilitated to learn in the first place, the primary software known as the operating system (OS) must be installed in our spiritual computers (our souls). Just like in a working computer, your spirit-based OS runs in the background, as it aids your soul's countless functions.

All human bodily and intellectual processes are facilitated and managed by the soul. During the revelation, the Almighty God showed me an image of the soul and the spiritual field it creates in and around the body to electrify it. He asked me, at some point, "Joseph, how can such a powerful super-computer be invisible to the human eye? How do you think I operate it so that the trillions of activities and processes in the human body and mind run flawlessly?" I could not answer.

Thereafter, St. Michael opened my spiritual eyes, enabling me to witness God linking up the soul of a man, suffering mental incapacity, with the soul operating system He has decreed for humans; He had withdrawn it from that man's soul to punish him for his sins. As I watched, the spiritual software downloaded into the sick man's soul, and his mental faculties were restored. A psychiatrist then arrived at the man's hospital bed and evaluated him; he declared him healed and handed him a bill, which the patient was eager to pay, appreciating the doctor's care. I wanted to shout at the man, "Thank the Almighty God instead," but my lips could not move.

Neither the Almighty God nor the angel suggested a suitable human name for that wonderful spiritual software; I decided to call it the Spirit of God, or SoG. While the soul gives the human body life, SoG powers the soul and connects us to God, the angels, and the great spiritual consciousness pervading the cosmos, imparting to us intellectual ability, and giving us the opportunity to access transformational extraterrestrial knowledge.

Because SoG incorporates the (complete) essence of God, it carries all the drives necessary for a blessed and righteous life. These drives can be grouped into two categories: Love and Free-will. Before its corruption, the software integrates its drives into the soul in the divinely decreed proportions and relative strengths.

The SoG Love drives I am referring to relate to love-for-others, including the Almighty God, as opposed to the self-love prevalent among humanity. Though the subject of love is too expansive to be fully addressed here, I challenge you to analyse the love situations you come across daily. Nearly all, when sanded down to their essence, will reveal self-love, as the deceptive veneer of love-for-others collects in an ugly heap. Conscious love-for-others sets apart spirit-driven beings from sub-human creatures. It will be the evidence of personal spiritual growth during the Third Epoch.

Some people give to the less fortunate expecting a blessing in return. They attempt to bribe God, hoping to force a blessing out of His hand. Equally, when we give to experience the feel-good-factor, we give out of self-love, and not love-for-others.

Love, compassion, judgement, sovereignty—the attributes SoG transfers into the human soul are the same as those of the Almighty God. But unlike Him, we are neither self-existent nor omniscient. It is important therefore that SoG imparts these attributes in the right proportions and relative strengths. For example, as we carry on with the business of life, the attribute of judgement must be modulated by that of compassion, if appropriate outputs are to be expected.

The same way the Windows 10 operating system software in your laptop needs regular updates over your Wi-Fi network to function properly, SoG becomes corrupted over time if it does not receive regular updates from its server—the Almighty God, including His cosmic and spirit angels and other benevolent cosmic intelligence. Compare this with a large Microsoft server communicating with billions of computers, updating their OS, and troubleshooting and repairing their software defects.

When SoG is disconnected from the server for a prolonged period, it degrades predictably, losing its Love drives in the long run. What remains, powering the souls of defiant humans, is a corrupted fragment of SoG; I will call that shard Free-will throughout this book, but we should not confuse it with the Free-will drives that are healthily incorporated into SoG. To illustrate, if your soul is operating on relatively uncorrupted SoG and a guiding angel has prepared you for a task, he will let you finish it using Free-will.

That corrupted fragment of SoG, in which only the Free-will drives are still functional, is what the Almighty God has identified as Satan. The persistent expression of negative traits such as judging, criticising, complaining, and committing cruel acts, is the evidence of a soul running on Free-will.

Since one of the Almighty God's key attributes is Free-will, as expressed through His sovereignty, those of us who insist on operating their souls on this corrupted OS act like little gods, who are opposed to God's will and purpose. They possess their own misguided corporeal wills, which they attempt to fulfil at any cost.

Can a living saint gravitate towards the SoG Free-will drives? To put it differently, can a righteous person misuse the SoG Free-will drives in a manner that resembles defiance to God? It is possible, because humans are subject to error. SoG, however, is enriched with judgement drives as well. And as soon as a saint senses divine conviction about a certain matter, they will take it more seriously than a worldly court's ten-year sentence; they will repent with remorse.

Since SoG integrates all the drives necessary for a virtuous existence, righteousness can be expected from those who maintain this soul OS well-updated, via connectedness with the Almighty God. Religions spur their adherents to degrade their SoG Love drives by encouraging intolerance, hate, exclusion, and even murder, against those not practising their religion. Ironically therefore, absolute righteousness can be achieved only by those who approach the Almighty God directly.

Does God keep contact with those operating their souls on Free-will? Yes, with the aim of punishing and ministering to the offending little gods. He looks forward to them re-establishing contact and updating their soul OS. Were He to give up with you and yank away your soul, your bodily death would happen simultaneously.

DEFINING SATAN

I prayed for a prolonged period in the middle of 2016 after the Almighty God gave me the message: “Free-will equals Satan.” “How could what we consider God’s most endearing gift to humanity be equated to Satan?” I had wondered. But He kept pushing that notion into my soul, trying to make me appreciate the true nature of Satan. I grasped His message only in mid-January 2018: Satan is not a single spirit being. As we saw earlier in this chapter, Satan, or Free-will, is a corrupted soul operating system. He is a corrupting spirit.

Satan refers to the totality of the Free-wills powering the souls of those who have disconnected from the Almighty God, the angels, and other benevolent spirit life across the universe. Regarding humankind, these spirits, which are SoG fragments, can be grouped into two categories:

- ✦ The Free-wills powering the souls of those living on Earth in defiance towards God. These individuals’ lives will always be punctuated with the mark of unrighteousness.
- ✦ The Free-wills powering the spirit beings who persist in their defiance to the Almighty God. These spirit beings, domiciled in Hell, are the souls of the defiant dead from around the cosmos.

Considering the three spirit realms that are pertinent to humanity—Heaven, Hell, and the world—the Free-wills of the living are domiciled in the world spirit realm. They feed on each other, coalescing to form a compounded spirit entity, featuring a different identity from the individual contributing spirits. This compounded spirit entity cannot act in its own capacity; nonetheless, it facilitates the activities of the individual spirits and multiplies their malevolence.

Given that the spirit is the real person, this interaction among the spirits of the living can be used to explain mob psychology. It is common in some cities and towns in the poorer countries to witness a mob lynching a suspected street thief. You might notice the crowd has a strange spiritual presence and energy, which cannot be accounted for when the spiritual contributors are looked at separately. Under different circumstances, the noisy middle-aged man, who is about to drop a large stone onto the victim's head, would probably not hurt a fly.

Similarly, each person running on uncorrupted SoG has a spirit node about them, which attracts and interacts with like nodes. Some Christians refer to the resulting spirit agglomeration as the Body of Christ. A single Free-will-driven person can pollute the so-called Body of Christ. Likewise, a lone uncorrupted SoG node can interrupt a network of Free-wills. As a result, one righteous person can intercede and persuade Heaven to stop a calamity it would have decreed towards the general locale of some Free-wills.

Although some souls of the dead-in-Hell are benign and innocently lost and do not persist in opposing God, others turn out to be His worst opponents. In one vision, He showed me how the souls of the defiant dead achieve growth over time while they collaborate in Hell. During the current spiritual epoch, He fights them as they break out of their prison and superimpose onto the souls of the living. While they band together and endure their fight against God, even initially benign souls can transform into mildly evil spirits, later to malevolent spirits, and eventually to full-blown demons.

It is noteworthy that none of the various types of the Free-will-driven souls of the dead can superimpose itself onto the soul of a living person running on uncorrupted SoG: They seek a like host. When they overlay themselves onto the souls of the living, they bring about negative changes in personality. Symptoms in the affected persons can range from mild traits, such as mental confusion, to schizophrenia; indeed, the complete gamut of mental instability. Such superimposed individuals—they are by far the majority—cannot ‘hear spiritually’ since they lack the requisite peace of mind.

Clearly then, Satan has no power to cause an earthquake, a flood, or a hurricane: He has no capacity to bring about natural calamities. The evil that can be properly attributed to Satan falls into three broad classifications:

- ✦ The evil that persons running on Free-will get into.
- ✦ The bad deeds that a person with a superimposed soul can do; for example, an individual whose soul is overlaid with the demon of a past drug addict, who then takes up the vice and resorts to drug-fuelled crime.
- ✦ The danger a person whose soul is superimposed with that of a misguiding malevolent spirit experiences. Such an evil spirit can simply impart a tendency of carelessness to the sufferer’s behaviour pattern, but this can still see the victim ending up in jail, for instance. On the extreme end of the scale, the attacking spirit can lead the victim to choices that result in their death. The demon might be a defiant bodily dead person who knew the victim well; it could attack the remaining family members upon the victim’s death.

This does not mean satanic demons are weak. Ever since worldly kingdoms have existed, each has been ruled over by a specific demon, superimposing onto the soul of the most influential person in each political setup. As a modus operandi, demons fight among themselves for the control of the key minds in a kingdom. The winner treats the kingdom as their own evil spiritual enterprise, where they keep the humans domiciled there from righteousness.

When the Almighty God assigns His angels benevolent tasks around the cosmos, such as the release of Israeli deportees from the Kingdom of Persia in the following scripture, these demons—referred to in the scripture as spirit prince—resist such deliverance. They sometimes engage in lengthy confrontations with God’s angels.

<sup>12</sup> Then [the angel] said, “Don’t be afraid, Daniel. Since the first day you began to pray for understanding and to humble yourself before your God, your request has been heard in Heaven. I have come in answer to your prayer. <sup>13</sup> But for twenty-one days the spirit prince of the kingdom of Persia blocked my way [withstood me in a fight]. Then Michael, one of the archangels, came to help me, and I left him there with the spirit prince of the kingdom of Persia.”

—DANIEL 10 NLT

Who oversees the prison from where these evil spirits break out? The Almighty God and His spirit and cosmic angels. In fact, none of the prison breakers can land on your soul unless Heaven abets such an attack. What is more, God skilfully uses demons to punish errant humans.

From the foregoing, Satan is allied to cosmozens and not to God; he is synonymous with the defiant section of God’s creation. He is not an exceedingly strong spirit being punishing evildoers in Hell, neither is he a formerly beautiful but now fallen angel. According to my long-running revelation, not a single of the Almighty God’s angels has ever abandoned Him: His will has always been done in Heaven. Both St. Peter and St. Jude were wrong to insinuate otherwise—notably, they were reading from one of the several apocryphal writings attributed to Enoch, the great-grandfather of Noah. Before God created cosmozens, Satan could not have existed.

I do not need biblical support for the Almighty God's revelation, but it is glaring how the scripture below corroborates the message that to be a Free-will-powered human, acting in the flesh, is equivalent to being satanic. Only when you significantly update your soul OS towards uncorrupted SoG, do you cease to be significantly satanic.

<sup>23</sup> Jesus turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me; you do not have in mind the concerns of God, but merely human concerns."

—MATTHEW 16 NIV

The following scripture is often cited by those looking for some comfort in their understanding that Satan was once domiciled in Heaven, and was only 'thrown down' to Earth after he unsuccessfully took war to Angel Michael. But the spiritual war referred to in the scripture is yet to take place; according to the angel, it will happen soon after the Third Epoch begins.

<sup>7</sup> And there was war in Heaven, Michael and his angels waging war with the dragon. The dragon and his angels waged war, <sup>8</sup> and they were not strong enough, and there was no longer a place found for them in Heaven. <sup>9</sup> And the great dragon was thrown down, the serpent of old who is called the devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world; he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him.

—REVELATION 12 NASB

Once the Almighty God's end-of-epoch agenda becomes clearer, the full cast of demons will arise. With their faces twisted to their meanest, many will bear rusty and broken spiritual swords from past encounters with God. They will be supported by Free-will-powered humans, led by the rulers of the kingdoms of this world. The humans will be opposed to the bringing down of national borders and the handing over of their kingdoms to God's control.

That St. John saw the war taking place in Heaven means the army of demons and the Free-will-powered humans supporting them will confront God directly. But notice that He will not get involved personally and will need to deploy only minimal spiritual resources: one archangel and his host. Nevertheless, this will be the gravest episode of human defiance since the creation of Adam and Eve.

Humankind should be concerned that a spiritual war of such a magnitude could impact the earth and the proximate cosmos, since they are held together and ordered using mighty spiritual forces and bonds. In a worst-case scenario, it could cause catastrophic earthquakes or the cataclysmic re-conversion of matter back into the Almighty God's creative energy.

What can we do to escape such end-of-epoch calamities? Concisely, ensure the spiritual war does not materialise in the first place, by turning to the Almighty God and supporting His kingdom agenda.

While spiritual darkness raged, we have tended to apportion all benevolent activities to God and all evil to Satan. But the Almighty God wants humanity to understand that He creates peace to bless His creation but also decrees evil upon His people when they err—He does not mind the bad press. As we enter the Third Epoch, He wants the whole Truth about Him to spread. For instance, He tests humans from time to time, including His most faithful servants. He urged me to clarify that He tested Adam (not a serpent), Job (not Satan), and Jesus Christ (not the Devil).

SATAN WORSHIP

Before Jesus Christ revealed the Almighty God, leading to His knowledge spreading beyond Israel, idol worship and Satan worship were the predominant modes of spiritual expression. Both are still alive and well as the Second Epoch ends. In fact, Satan worship is on the upswing.

By the Almighty God's revelation, we have understood who Satan is. What then is Satan worship? Satan worship is anchored on the spiritual manipulation of mildly evil spirits, malevolent spirits, and demons. The key to Satan worship is the ability for supernatural communication with these dark forces.

A Satan worship adherent believes in and looks forward to undeserved harm befalling their rivals. The worship extends to the belief and expectation of unearned benevolence to the adherent, often at the evil disadvantage of their opponents. Then there is the protection industry, where you could for example patronise a witch doctor to protect you from possible malevolence from fellow witch doctors, acting on their clients' instructions.

Given that worship is a spiritual event, and can include thoughts, mere talk, as well as conscious prayer, are we taking to Satan worship unknowingly? Yes. For illustration, a one-sentence curse in a spiritually susceptible situation can invoke the most malevolent demons, with its effects lasting generations within a family. Speak life to fellow humans.

Who are the Satan worship dark priests who can provide adherents with better linkages to evil spirits? They are countless, and their spread is global. But the Almighty God will soon overturn their tables and burn their paraphernalia, to stop their despicable practices. As He brings the Second Epoch to its decreed end, He will imprison the evil spirits now enjoying worship around the world. Your gods are going to jail.

Shaman, isangoma, medicine man, witch doctor, genie, mundunugu, faith healer, alternative practitioner, sorcerer, obeah doctor, wizard, voodoo priest, wangateur, charmer, conjurer, diabolist, diviner, juju practitioner, enchanter, fortune teller, seer, soothsayer, spellbinder, thaumaturge, non-medicinal therapist—dark priests come in innumerable names. In certain cases, they blend their practice with orthodox religion, and what appear to be benevolent spiritual activities, to such an extent that lines are fully blurred.

Case in point, some Pentecostal pastors in Nigeria incorporate African witchcraft beliefs into their brand of Christianity, sometimes occasioning violence upon children. The preachers make money out of fear, as they provide costly exorcism services, with some of the children and babies they identify as demon-possessed being abused, abandoned, and even murdered.<sup>4</sup> Apart from Nigeria, similar child abuse is prevalent in Angola and Congo, where thousands of children have been abandoned after being accused of possessing demonic powers.

Further, I know of an independent church in Nairobi, Kenya, where the ‘spiritual proprietor’ used to sell a pinch of what looked like petroleum jelly for about US$200, on the understanding that an adherent would receive a promotion once they applied the ‘holy oil’ to the door frame at their boss’s office.

Though Satan worship is a global phenomenon, I have looked at Western Europe and Sub-Saharan Africa as two relevant case studies.

WESTERN EUROPE

The current materialistic societies developed out of a solid relationship with the Almighty God, as bastions of Christianity. But they no longer recognise God's authority and power, since Second Epoch humans seek God only when they need His blessings. And therefore the Western Empire heartlands, more so Western Europe, are marching towards a neo-pagan resurgence. The neo-pagan community encompasses shamans, sacred ecologists, Odinists, heathens, Wiccans, and their adherents.

In the United Kingdom, for illustration, you are likely to hear of ghost hunters and whisperers, mediums, spiritists, black and white magicians, rocks and crystals, secret names, protective charms, talismans, guiding spirits, past lives, ancestral presences, and crossings over; as well as Tarot, crystal, and palmistry shops. Druidry, a highlight of the worldwide pagan community with over 50,000 adherents, prides itself in practices such as shamanism and magic. It was officially recognised as a religion in 2010.

During this transition period to the Third Epoch, the revelation shows the Almighty God ramping up punishment against defiant Satan-worshipping societies. He is serving up His wrath using numerous approaches: breaking up nations to result in weaker entities; heightening racial, political, ethnic, and religious tensions; imposing previously unimaginable inept leadership; abetting war, terrorism, and calamities; weakening economies; and affecting demographics through reduced fertility and shortened lifespans.

Even at a personal level, the Almighty God does strike down Satan worship adherents, more so where suffering and loss of life result. This is especially true when it comes to the deadliest dark priests: the jealousy-consumed, demon-directed psychics who possess telepathic capability. Preying on a civilisation that lacks herd telepathy, they sometimes instigate societal conflicts and wars as a way of celebrating their powers and assuaging their jealousy.

SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

This region is the worst affected by Satan worship. Its population endures the greatest suffering from the effects of this phenomenon. Instead of being at the forefront tackling this crisis, religious institutions have turned a blind eye. Some of them have gone as far as accommodating witchcraft practices.

Development agencies, including local and national governments, do not analyse or report on the negative effects of witchcraft on socioeconomic and political development. Yet many people, including the better-educated, often abandon the rural areas where they grew up, hoping to remain one step ahead of the feared effects of witchcraft. This has resulted in large swathes of otherwise high-potential areas stagnating into societal wastelands in the worst-affected countries.

The unspoken crisis then follows the witchcraft refugees right into their perceived safe havens: the urban areas. In many Sub-Saharan African cities and towns, one is greeted by posters on trees and streetlights advertising witch doctor services such as black magic and the casting, removal, or protection against evil spells and curses. Many such banners also offer ‘help’ with job promotions, troubled marriages, and success in business and electoral races.

Typical is the case of a wife in a failing marriage—she contracts a witch doctor to invoke a suitable demon onto her husband’s spirit, leading to him falling under her virtual control. While God affects our thought patterns to direct our actions benevolently, these dark priests spiritually manipulate demons to jumble the thought patterns of the witchcraft victim.

Fake witch doctors abound. But once a witch doctor separates a victim from his hard-earned cash, there is no recourse for one is unlikely to involve the authorities, due to the stigma associated with witchcraft. Because of the fear generated by this practice and its ever-spinning rumour mill, many seek protection services from the same witch doctors, including the fake ones, fearing they may become future targets of witchcraft.

In traditional South African healing, the physical, psychological, spiritual, and ancestral worlds are interconnected. Sangomas and nyangas are the Southern African version of the shaman, traditional doctors who communicate with the spirit world and treat ailments with traditional medicines. In South Africa, over 80 percent of the population regularly consult a traditional healing practitioner, either a sangoma (traditional healer) or nyanga (traditional diviner).<sup>5</sup>

Regardless of whether the witchcraft narrative is mainly informed by its many fake dark priests, or the real ones with access to millions of ready demons, or the rumour mill all witch doctors willingly feed, its effects are real and tragic.

One of witchcraft's most despicable tragedies is the hunting down of albinos in the African Great Lakes region, more so in Tanzania and Malawi. In Tanzania alone, more than eighty albinos have been killed, and many others maimed for their body parts. Witch doctors who believe albino body parts have magical powers reportedly offer up to US$75,000 for a complete set. Thousands remain at risk of losing their lives or suffering serious injury.

Separately, the fight against the HIV/AIDS epidemic continues to be impacted by witchcraft. Despite efforts at civic education, some people, particularly among the more than 700 million rural Sub-Saharan Africans, remain convinced that the condition is caused by witchcraft, like many other of their diseases. And dark priests are happy to entrench such disinformation for their evil selfish gain.

As the Western Empire heartlands, the source of early Christian missions to Africa, stand on the cusp of a neo-pagan resurgence, their prevalent mode of Satan worship, Sub-Saharan Africa is regressing deeper into spiritual darkness. This statement might be surprising given the many public shows of religiosity in this part of Africa. But the region's manifest material poverty is symptomatic of the unseen spiritual indigence.

WHAT DOES GOD HAVE TO SAY?

The spiritually literate understand that malevolent spirits are busy at work in the spirit realms. And because we are first and foremost spirit beings, we are in constant contact with them. Positive religiosity during this now-ending Second Epoch has been all about a believer's never-ending fight against these dark forces. Jesus Christ taught that evil spiritual powers are real: Exorcising demons was an important part of his work.

When the Almighty God anointed me in early 2016, I struggled for almost a year while He cut me loose from the power of a malevolent spirit, which had taken a stranglehold in my life and staged a string of nasty happenings. He described how this spirit had become lodged into my soul and promised to free me from its grip. He had abetted this attack so I could gain first-hand experience with the workings of evil spirits. Now I can say confidently—success in life depends on Heaven rectifying your spiritual situation.

Those living scared of evil spirits around the world need only the Almighty God's spiritual armour, which no evil spirit can breach. Just how serious is this spiritual crisis? In many situations in rural Sub-Saharan Africa, it is a matter of life and death. Even in the less serious circumstances, it stifles socioeconomic and political development, trapping its victims in a vicious circle of poverty and disease. Does this spiritual syndrome respect worldly authority? No: In March 2005, the former President of Malawi, Mr Bingu wa Mutharika, was forced to abandon a 300-room state mansion after episodes of ‘ghost attacks’.

IDOL WORSHIP

<sup>3</sup> You shall have no other gods before me. <sup>4</sup> You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any likeness of anything that is in the [sky] above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. <sup>5</sup> You shall not bow down to them or serve them, for I the LORD your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on their children to the third and the fourth generations of those who hate me, <sup>6</sup> but showing steadfast love to thousands of those who love me and keep my commandments.

—EXODUS 20 ESV

Though most of us think of themselves in purely physical terms, we are primarily spirit beings. Those intent on living without God in their lives simply turn to idol worship and Satan worship, since our spiritual souls will not countenance a spiritless life.

It is difficult to develop an exhaustive list of the idols humans have worshipped over the last ten millennia. In a nutshell however, idolatry is all about worshipping, idolising, or believing in the Almighty God’s created things. Sometimes, we are fixated on some cosmic or worldly attribute of His creation such as majesty, size, power, wealth, beauty, or sexuality. That which consumes your time and energy is your god.

We think of idol worship as reverence to creations of our own hands; for example sculptured or manufactured artefacts. This is true even when we consider such objects worthy religious artefacts. But the definition of idol worship must extend to believing in God's cosmic handicraft—stars, planets, galaxies—the cornerstone of the practice of astrology. On their part, Earth's physical features and vegetation cover have received worship around the world as far back as human history goes.

<sup>15</sup> The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of human hands. <sup>16</sup> They have mouths, but do not speak; they have eyes, but do not see; <sup>17</sup> they have ears, but do not hear, nor is there any breath in their mouths. <sup>18</sup> Those who make them become like them, so do all who trust in them.

—PSALMS 135 ESV

Before Christianity was introduced to Africa, members of my tribe had a firm belief that God (or Ngai) lived at the top of the 5,200-metre-high, snow-capped Mt. Kenya. The tribesmen always prayed while facing the mountain, believing that God would otherwise not hear and answer their prayers. And there wasn't a clear distinction between Ngai and the mountain. Obviously, no tribesman would have climbed the mountain for fear of meeting Ngai face to face.

I can only imagine the tribesmen's bewilderment, in 1899, when Halford Mackinder scaled the mountain right to the top and returned safely, and Ngai was not even there. I suppose the tribesmen had to agree with the missionaries that Ngai is omni-active across His entire creation: He was not domiciled at the snow-capped mountain peak.

The most damaging form of idol worship is Satan worship. It encompasses consorting with malevolent spirits and demons. This practice is not benign: It produces results—harmful results. In this case, the object of idolatry is spiritual rather than material. Physical idols are so different from the True God that it is easy to convince someone that the tree, river, or mountain they are worshipping cannot be God. Spiritual idols, on the other hand, are a difficult subject, for the same reason that it has not been easy to relate to the True God: They belong to the unseen part of the universe.

For instance, when considered casually, Voodoo can be summed up as a blend of African animism and indigenous religion. But in some circumstances, its spiritual expressions encompass elements of shamanism, black magic, and witchcraft; therefore it is a form of Satan worship, as reflected earlier in this chapter, but try putting that fact through to a Voodoo adherent.

Separately, among some rural societies, Christianity is practised alongside traditional religiosity, and it is possible for a ‘devout’ Christian to be involved in spiritism or black magic on the side, without having a conscious sense of the irony.

THE RIGHTEOUS PRAYER

Earlier in this chapter, we saw that one can get involved in Satan worship unintentionally. How then can I tell with certainty that my worship is directed to God? Just keep in mind Jesus Christ’s two most important commandments: If your prayer is not in tune with the thinking of someone who loves the Almighty God with all their heart, soul, and mind; and loves their neighbour as they love themselves, then God is not listening. He is not even in your presence. A demon, however, might catch a spiritual whiff of your prayer and identify you as a suitable host.

Engaging in ‘shopping list prayers’, where an adherent’s main aim is personal material possessions and physical well-being, leans to Satan worship and can become a perfect entry point. In the scripture below, Christ teaches us how we should approach our Heavenly Father.

<sup>33</sup> But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these [material] things shall be added unto you.

—MATTHEW 6 KJV

Many remain unaware that our prayers cannot change God’s will and plan. In your prayers, you should instead beseech Him to reveal His will and purpose for you. That way, we would avoid the widespread disillusionment with our Creator. We also need to comprehend that our prayers, however lengthy and impassioned, reveal nothing to Him that He did not already know.

After decreeing a blessing upon you, He will prompt you to prayer as He guides you towards its realisation. And why is belief in God’s promises crucial to the actualisation of His blessings? Because without belief, you will not cooperate as He stirs your soul towards His promises. Where He can bring a blessing to fruition without the need for your prayer, He will proceed and await your gratitude; He ends up waiting forever most times. Normally, He will ignore unsolicited and unrighteous prayers, particularly from those not working towards the entrenchment of His kingdom.

Prayer does not change the Almighty God: It changes you, as He points you towards the realisation of His decreed blessing.

Certain forms of prayer must be considered ‘fighting God’. Sometimes we decide what we want; in other words, we answer our own prayers. Then, armed with baseless faith, we try to force the Almighty God to see our point and join our cause. We become so insistent, to the point of ‘righteous violence’. Yet it would suffice to pray for the successful establishment of His kingdom, and to thank Him for what He has already done in our lives.

Finally, we should not purport to engage in prayer or offering to the Almighty God in our mosques, churches, synagogues, community centres, at the park, or at home, while we have unresolved differences with fellow humans. In the scripture below, Christ edifies us to first seek reconciliation, before God could accept our offerings or answer our prayers.

<sup>23</sup> Therefore if you are presenting your offering at the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, <sup>24</sup> leave your offering there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother, and then come and present your offering.

—MATTHEW 5 NASB

THE KINGDOM CITIZEN

“The Second Epoch is ending when the world is in a Western civilisation chokehold. People from societies that are not yet fully under her intoxicating influence are considered losers, and many will risk life and limb to be under her umbrella. In cahoots with her husband, the Western Empire, she is the god of this world. Together, they have devoured at birth any child they suspected would grow up to challenge them, ever since their childhood in Ancient Greece. Under these circumstances, only the Almighty God can bring up an alternative civilisation.”

WHO IS A BELIEVER?

I was by a river on 4 September 2016, absorbed in prayer, when the Almighty God revealed His views on religions. He is happy with all believers, regardless of their religions and denominations. Those who have found righteousness outside religion are His spiritual role models. He nevertheless cherishes the religions which have kept their adherents from idolatry and Satan worship during the Second Epoch—the age of faith and religions.

Just to be clear, God does not punish or reward humans in religious or denominational groupings, despite the prevalent thinking in most religions. I am aware the faithful attach great significance to their religions and denominations, and therefore this message will be shocking, perhaps even heartbreaking.

As I persisted in prayer, He added that He maintains a common yardstick for human judgement, irrespective of cultural backgrounds. Later, Angel Gabriel directed me, in a dream, to the following verse in the Holy Qur'an. Though subsequently interpreted differently by Muslim scholars, it shows that Islam was established as an open-minded religion.

Surely those who believe, and those who are Jews, and the Christians, and the Sabians, whoever believes in Allah [the Almighty God] and the Last Day and does good, they shall have their reward from their LORD, and there is no fear for them, nor shall they grieve.

—QUR'AN 2:62

The Almighty God sees His servants everywhere in the world; He smiles as they worship Him, verbally or in the Spirit. Above all, He appreciates the exemplary humans who avoid violence, eschew idolatry, and assist His orphans and widows (the less fortunate in society). Many of those we view as living saints—for example the most senior clergy—might miss out while a peasant who was socially or racially excluded from religious buildings inherits His everlasting kingdom.

Had God been the Lord of dogmas and doctrines, He would have allowed only one religion to evolve, carrying with it a global dogma and a universal set of doctrines. But He stands for the absolute knowledge: His Truth. Moreover, there would have been no religions without Satan. When He cages Satan, religious and denominational divisions will no longer exist.

Haven't we seen how religions cause wars and give impetus to terrorist activities? Religious teachers and leaders around the world need to learn one lesson:

Love is the mightiest weapon; it disarms indiscriminately.

As I wrote this book, I happened to watch a USA-based televangelist deliver a worldly political rant against Islam, state welfare recipients, and immigrants in general, in the name of preaching the Word of God. He claimed to be ministering to a worldwide audience in over 100 countries. I thought he gave Christian extremism a new meaning.

The televangelist was using his 2,000-year-old religious book as a weapon against hapless children of God: Some had no place to call home; others could not feed their children without state welfare. As I pondered his rant, the Almighty God asked me in a vision, "Joseph, do you think I have had nothing to say for 2,000 years? Can my Truth fit in one trillion books similar to the one the televangelist was reading?"

I remember the televangelist repeatedly saying, "Immigration without integration is an invasion," as he digressed into the 2016 USA presidential campaigns. He was touting candidate Donald Trump. In the vision, the Almighty God clarified that the 'invasion' was His idea, and what the televangelist had observed was a mere rehearsal.

Abraham is celebrated by Jews, Muslims, and Christians as the ‘Father of Faith’. Many consider him to have been God’s intimate friend. Yet he did not practise Judaism, Islam, Christianity, or any religion; he corresponded with God directly. The Almighty God is calling on aspiring kingdom citizens to emulate Abraham.

Isn’t it amazing that Abraham would not allow a quarrel between him and his nephew Lot, over how to partition the land the Almighty God had given him, to damage their relationship? In Abraham’s position, many of us would have dealt with everyone else with a sense of entitlement. Perhaps we would have lorded it over Lot saying, “God has chosen to deal with me and not you: I must receive the larger and better-placed part of the land.”

<sup>1</sup> So [Abraham] went up from Egypt to the Negev, he and his wife and all that belonged to him, and Lot with him. <sup>2</sup> Now [Abraham] was very rich in livestock, in silver and in gold. <sup>3</sup> He went on his journeys from the Negev as far as Bethel, to the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bethel and Ai, <sup>4</sup> to the place of the altar which he had made there formerly; and there [Abraham] called on the name of the LORD.

<sup>5</sup> Now Lot, who went with [Abraham], also had flocks and herds and tents. <sup>6</sup> And the land could not sustain them while dwelling together, for their possessions were so great that they were not able to remain together. <sup>7</sup> And there was strife between the herdsmen of [Abraham’s] livestock and the herdsmen of Lot’s livestock. Now the Canaanite and the Perizzite were dwelling then in the land.

<sup>8</sup> So [Abraham] said to Lot, “Please let there be no strife between you and me, nor between my herdsmen and your herdsmen, for we are brothers. <sup>9</sup> Is not the whole land before you? Please separate from me; if to the left, then I will go to the right; or if to the right, then I will go to the left.”

<sup>10</sup> Lot lifted up his eyes and saw all the valley of the Jordan, that it was well watered everywhere—this was before the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah—like the garden of the LORD, like the land of Egypt as you go to Zoar. <sup>11</sup> So Lot chose for himself all the valley of the Jordan, and Lot journeyed eastward. Thus they separated from each other. <sup>12</sup> [Abraham] settled in the land of Canaan, while Lot settled in the cities of the valley, and moved his tents as far as Sodom.

—GENESIS 13 NASB

One righteous person can save an entire civilisation. I recall the Almighty God telling me in a dream, “Joseph, my friendship with your father Abraham is the reason I laid the foundation for this kingdom. I had to wear a body so we could meet and enjoy a meal. Otherwise, I’ve annihilated countless races around the cosmos for their iniquity.”

And He added, “Just recently, in a faraway world, I noticed that a sizable number of their males had turned to homosexuality. I moved with might and made it a fashion among the remaining upright men. With few newborns, the civilization’s population declined sharply. Thereafter, I decreed a serious sexually transmitted disease on the diminished population, leading to the destruction of that race. As I witnessed the last of them fighting off vultures in vain, I felt fully repaid. I’m also easily disgusted by lack of love-for-others. When I see it getting entrenched, I just strike, like I did with the Great Flood. I don’t even bother to establish religions on many occasions.”

Regarding judgement, I have heard Christians lament the fate of those born before Jesus Christ. Also, Muslims believe a sorry fate awaits those who remained non-Muslim until death, yet they were born after Prophet Mohammed, PBUH. Pity has also been expressed over those who live in societies where the gospel of Christ remains unheard. But the Almighty God is accessible everywhere, from the deepest sea to the furthest corner of the cosmos, via His universal language. His amazing works manifest and reveal Him in a dialect that is available to everyone, regardless of race, cultural background, colour, creed, age, or literacy level.

It should be clear to independent-minded persons, even if spiritually illiterate, that religions, denominations, and sects; and their associated dogmas, doctrines, and processes, are largely culturally informed. Those identifying with the culture in question would nonetheless want to paint their religion or denomination as being uniquely spiritual and forming the only route to the Almighty God.

For instance, the case of Israel is unique only because the Almighty God chose to reveal Himself through her, via the events recorded in the Holy Tanakh and the phenomenon of Jesus Christ. But that revelation of the Living God through Israel must not be treated as a cultural possession by the Israeli.

As the Almighty God revealed Himself through Israel, He still watched over the rest of His creation, adopting a merciful or judgmental stance as His justice demanded. The scripture below clarifies that while He handed over the 'promised land' to Israel, He was punishing the earlier inhabitants for their idolatry. Later, He would judge the Israelites harshly when they themselves defied Him and took to idol worshipping.

<sup>1</sup> These are the statutes and the judgments which you shall carefully observe in the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to possess as long as you live on the earth. <sup>2</sup> You shall utterly destroy all the places where the nations whom you shall dispossess serve their gods, on the high mountains and on the hills and under every green tree. <sup>3</sup> You shall tear down their altars and smash their sacred pillars and burn their Asherim with fire, and you shall cut down the engraved images of their gods and obliterate their name from that place.

—DEUTERONOMY 12 NASB

According to the revelation, a righteous person can be unaffiliated with religion and may never verbalise their prayers. When we pray, we send out spiritual bytes. Words are necessary only if they help you establish a firmer spiritual connection.

Nikola Tesla, Albert Einstein, Isaac Newton—our top scientists and innovators are some of the most spiritually wired humans, enabling them to receive life-altering extraterrestrial knowledge from the Almighty God, the spirit angels, the cosmic angels and the countless other benevolent cosmozens. But many such greats cannot fit into the narrowness of religion, and therefore keep away from religious habits, for example voiced prayers. But they spend many lonely days engrossed in spiritual prayer, perhaps unknowingly.

The Almighty God recognises His attributes, should there be any, even in a self-professed atheist. He longs for the day when His descendants will know Him better, but He is not angered by innocent spiritual illiteracy. Though we should not judge each other as we lack adequate knowledge, we can expect the righteous to radiate good works about them.

—MATTHEW 7 NKJV

Every religion defines a believer differently, depending on its doctrines and dogma. Some regard the believers who express resentment and execute cruel acts against those outside their religion as their firmest believers. But in the kingdom paradigm, to be a believer is simply to be righteous, keeping away from violence, loving and helping fellow humans without discrimination, obeying kingdom laws. The intimate connection between a kingdom citizen and the Almighty God will be a private affair.

For the crossover generation, The Kingdom of the Almighty God will be accessible only to those who integrate their religious beliefs into the kingdom's higher individual spirituality. Before completing this process, the citizen will not thrive. There will no longer be religions, denominations, and sects; their hatred and vile fights for supremacy will belong to the past. In the revelation, the Almighty God gave a specific warning, "Do not defy this message and approach the gate to my kingdom with your religious flag raised, flattering: It will catch fire."

THE HUMAN SOUL

To understand how the Almighty God communicates with cosmizens, we need to comprehend the nature of our spiritual souls. We learnt earlier that a human being possesses a physical body and a transcendental soul, which is not destroyed during the bodily death.

In the second vision about the unseen aspects of a human being, St. Michael showed me an image illustrating the intricate processes of the soul. The image looked like a super-active spiritual circuitry around the body. Each zone in the circuitry corresponded to a part of the body or to an intellectual process.

The soul comes loaded with its OS software. We saw in Chapter 2 that this spiritual software must be updated regularly for the soul to maintain its functions and overall health. According to the angel, the soul's key function is to electrify the body. All bodily processes, including the ones we consider automated such as breathing, heartbeat, sweating, gland secretion, and digestion, depend on the soul's spiritual field vibrating the body to generate and utilise electricity. The soul's separation from the body manifests as bodily death—the ultimate power outage.

This unseen spirit person, or the soul, is who you really are regardless of whether there is a physical body trapped in its spiritual field, at a given period in cosmic time. Human beings do not just have another dimension referred to as spirituality; rather, our bodily consciousness is the other dimension to a spirit-by-default existence. We are spirit beings experiencing bodily consciousness. This is what it means to be created in God's own image.

The health of the soul depends on the Almighty God's input. Though it is impossible for our doctors to calibrate the soul's electrifying effect on our bodies, an unhealthy soul electrifies the body in out-of-kilter formats, causing disease and abnormal deviations from the human body's design state.

As Angel Michael proceeded with the demonstration on the functions of the soul, I witnessed him hyper-vibrating a zone in the soul to cause a headache, and then removing his effect to cure the headache. This made me grasp that the Almighty God and His angels do not just heal us, they are the direct cause of many of our diseases. They meter how much pain and distress an incident of disease will cause a person. They can rid us of pain because they are its ultimate or direct cause in the first place.

Besides the Almighty God's direct connection, our souls can be accessed through a second entrance, a much slower gateway incorporating our five common senses and what is sometimes called the conscious mind. The Almighty God and His angels can nevertheless plug into our souls to affect our sensory perception. You can find an example of this in the biblical Book of Luke, as quoted on page 114. Moreover, in our everyday activities, He can distract our senses away from the crucial aspect of a situation, resulting in missteps, serious accidents, or surprisingly happy endings. You truly belong to someone else. Trying to defy a being who can affect how you interpret what you see and hear is plain foolish.

While the sensory-conscious mind gateway can store data as active memory for as little as a minute, depending on its perceived importance to our lives, the soul's database is perpetual and languageless. But only the Almighty God can decide what data to bring up from your soul into your conscious mind, and what data to suppress so that you cannot access it consciously. His never-ending disappointment has to do with the trash He frequently sees our souls accepting through the sensory-conscious mind gateway.

If the sensory-conscious mind gateway is a supercomputer, the soul is a million-times-faster supercomputer. A healthy soul listens to both God's soft voice and to the visual, audio, and tactile noise landing at its sensory-conscious mind gateway.

Meanwhile, the Second Epoch is ending when the world is in a Western civilisation chokehold. People from societies that are not yet fully under her intoxicating influence are considered losers, and many will risk life and limb to be under her umbrella. In cahoots with her husband, the Western Empire, she is the god of this world. Together, they have devoured at birth any child they suspected would grow up to challenge them, ever since their childhood in Ancient Greece. Under these circumstances, only the Almighty God can bring up an alternative civilisation.

One of her profound teachings is that the Almighty God and the other things her instruments cannot measure do not exist. According to this logic, infrared rays and flowing electricity did not exist before A.D. 1800; equally, the earth was once flat. Ever worldly clever and crafty, she does not shout out her teachings at the local market, but somehow, her servants will know, love, and appreciate her carnal truth. Her adorable saints are the entertainment and political celebrities: They are worshipped by all her subjects. Her past religious saints have been voted for as such by fellow humans.

By her reckoning, the reality of spirit life is a laughable rumour; all we have, to aid us in our existence, is the sensory-conscious mind gateway. That which this gateway cannot comprehend and process must be ignored.

During the revelation period, the Almighty God and St. Michael introduced me to spiriticity, the ultimate form of electricity; it powers interstellar spacecraft and the bodies of cosmic angels. They also showed me the numberless celestial bodies beyond our observable universe—we cannot see stars that are so far from Earth that their brightness is yet to reach us. But because the Western civilisation has no instruments to confirm the Almighty God's revelation, He would have to provide alternative means of verification if she were to believe Him.

The Western civilisation attempts to solve some of the challenges arising out of her ignorance of the Almighty God by trying to install legal and societal-norm drives into citizens' conscious minds. Unfortunately, righteousness-related drives integrate better into the soul. We will therefore litter her cities and murder our enemies if we think the authorities will not catch up with us. And nations will annihilate their real and perceived opponents with nuclear weapons if they feel assured of impunity.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

<sup>32</sup> If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. <sup>33</sup> And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. <sup>34</sup> And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. <sup>35</sup> But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for He is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. <sup>36</sup> Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful.

—LUKE 6 ESV

Towards the end of the revelation period, the Almighty God and angels Michael and Gabriel appeared in a dream, the only time I interacted with all three at the same time.

It was St. Michael who spoke, “Joseph, do you appreciate this special occasion?” Like in some of the earlier dreams, I could not answer. I just stood there listening. So he carried on, “Tell everyone who desires citizenship in Father’s kingdom that all religious laws, dogmas, doctrines, and processes have been supplanted, including the famous ten commandments. Today we repeat to humanity the same simplicity Christ proffered 2,000 years ago, but which you ignored. For the sake of your brothers and sisters, communicate clearly the kingdom's Zeroth Principle: Love Unlimited. Before a citizen raises an arm or a leg, or interacts with a fellow citizen, they'll ask themselves, 'If my love-for-others were unlimited, would I take this action, would I utter these words?'"

After that dream, I spent several days debriefing my soul. In the end, the dream's import registered: Loving those who love us is easy, but it amounts to self-love. The real test of our kingdom citizenship will be indiscriminate love, more so to our enemies, critics, and miscellaneous opponents. This is the deepest of all love. Through it, we reflect God's grace and mercy. He loves us even though in our sinful ways, we do not merit His love—some of us are unyielding opponents to His will, plans, and ways.

<sup>37</sup> [Yeshua] told him, "'You are to love ADONAI your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength.'"<sup>38</sup> This is the greatest and the most important mitzvah.<sup>39</sup> And a second is similar to it, 'You are to love your neighbor as yourself.'<sup>40</sup> All of the Torah and the prophets are dependent on these two mitzvot."

—MATTHEW 22 CJB

Earlier in this chapter, we learnt that there will be no religions, denominations, or sects in the upcoming Kingdom of the Almighty God. I call on the nonreligious to use this book as a guide towards knowing God and becoming kingdom ready. The religious, on their part, must supersede their religiosity, towards becoming worthy members of a universal Fellowship of Believers, where the Almighty God will lead each citizen's spiritual transformation.

During the transition period, members of the Fellowship of Believers must make a conscious decision not to judge, criticise, or designate fellow believers as non-believers, because of their former religious beliefs, nationality, cultural background, race, age, or sex.

As the Second Epoch nears its decreed end, religions and denominations remain considerably dogmatic; their adherents believe their way is the only way to the Almighty God's blessings, and everyone outside their grouping is defying the Living God. This thinking is wrong. Were you to set aside this book and pray to God about this, He would minister to you the same Truth.

Despite the fear of many, the Almighty God will not turn away direct believers who could not entertain religious dogmas and doctrines, or those who openly questioned them. All who try their best to be righteous are justified. They will be worthy citizens in the upcoming kingdom and in the everlasting one.

What has brought about the endless divisions, resulting in thousands of religions, denominations, and sects? Satan. You will recall from Chapter 2 the Almighty God revealing that the Free-wills of the living make up one component of Satan. Thoughts, and their caused-actions, that do not spring from the knowledge of God are products of Free-will; therefore, they are Satan inspired. How many religious institutions can claim to operate purely under the inspiration of the Spirit of God, without the corrupting influence of Free-will? Is there a church in the USA that can welcome a Muslim family, in their full religious attire, and not judge, rebuke, or ridicule them?

Many independent Christian establishments are allied to Satan in such obvious ways that their adherents ought to discern this fact. Some are set up as worldly businesses, with their religious proprietors mocking God while they accumulate wealth. To keep their congregations hooked on, they preach what is called prosperity gospel: They mislead their followers that Jesus Christ would make them equally rich if only they increased their ‘seed offering’ to the proprietor’s church.

Unbeknown to many, the Almighty God has abandoned no section of His creation, not even the self-declared atheists, agnostics, animists, and pagans. He ministers to them daily, and some among them are intensely spiritual, though they remain unaware of this. They will soon acknowledge God consciously. If this were not to be the case, we would not have made the required numbers to populate His kingdom. He would have wiped us off His cosmos: He needs only to report us to one of the highly intelligent cosmic-angel civilisations.

Consider this—the most fiercely atheist individual in Sweden is likely to be the politest person you will ever meet. He gives to the less fortunate regularly, and he would probably fund the relocation of a refugee family from Syria if he got an opportunity. Were he to find himself in a quarrel, he would rather ‘turn the other cheek’ than allow it to escalate. And even if materially poor, he would still hand over your wallet untouched if you dropped it in your rush to board a bus. All these are Godly traits; they are the products of His insistent ministering.

If you are a righteous atheist, agnostic, or pagan, do not be discouraged by those who prophesy your doom for not subscribing to a religion. You know that statement does not make sense, and it is fuelled by religious dogma. You have already been praying to the Almighty God, perhaps not verbally or knowingly but in the Spirit. Recall that evening when you wished your friend’s wife quick recovery at her hospital bed, from the depth of your heart, with tears streaming down your face? You prayed for her; that is how she got healed. You have been praying subconsciously. To reap the full benefits of extraterrestrial benevolence, try conscious prayer.

For instance, if you are wondering about the great changes the Almighty God is putting in place for humanity in the upcoming Third Epoch, sit down on your bed or at a quiet corner in your local park and ask Him about it. He will answer you in His soft voice. He, or one of His angels, might even bless you by returning your call via a vivid dream.

The Fellowship of Believers is not a worldly member-only club. Are you trying your level best to be righteous? Will you acknowledge the Messiah as the King of Kings when He is revealed? Will you cooperate with him as he sets up The Kingdom of the Almighty God? If your responses are affirmative, then you already belong to the fellowship.

OUR CURRENT HOLY BOOKS

How will kingdom citizens interact with the current holy books? The Almighty God spurred my soul to contemplate this question in June 2016. I sought Him through prayer and supplication, and He illuminated into my darkness to reveal His Truth.

He shed His light into this question by leading me to various confounding scriptures in the Bible, relating to life after death. I was distressed. The following are four illustrative quotes, accompanied by brief independent-minded-reader notes.

<sup>27</sup> For the Son of Man will come with his angels in the glory of his Father and will judge all people according to their deeds. <sup>28</sup> And I tell you the truth, some standing here right now will not die before they see the Son of Man coming in his Kingdom.

—MATTHEW 16 NLT

In this scripture, Jesus Christ is quoted by the writer of the Book of Matthew. What understanding would an independent-minded reader attach to this biblical quote? That some of those in the congregation Christ was addressing would be alive at the time of his second coming.

<sup>32</sup> From the fig tree, learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts out its leaves, you know that summer is near. <sup>33</sup> So also, when you see all these things, you know that [Christ] is near, at the very gates. <sup>34</sup> Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things take place.

—MATTHEW 24 ESV

Here, Christ is once again quoted by the writer of the Book of Matthew. The implied meaning of these verses is that some people of the generation living during his first life on Earth would not have died by the time of his second coming.

<sup>15</sup> For this we declare to you by a word from the LORD, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the LORD, will not precede those who have fallen asleep. <sup>16</sup> For the LORD Himself will descend from Heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. <sup>17</sup> Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the LORD in the air, and so we will always be with the LORD.

—I THESSALONIANS 4 ESV

This scripture, presumably penned by the Apostle Paul, states that upon Christ's return, those who would have died believing in him would be resurrected first and then 'raptured' into his presence in the clouds, simultaneously with those believers in Christ who would be found alive. St. Paul believed that Christ would have returned before the apostle's death.

<sup>4</sup> Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshipped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. <sup>5</sup> The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended. This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup> Blessed and holy is the one who shares in the first resurrection! Over such the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and they will reign with Him for a thousand years.

—REVELATION 20 ESV

According to Angel Michael, St. John received his revelation directly from the Almighty God, when He appeared to him in the likeness of Jesus Christ.

This scripture, upon its full interpretation by the angel, matches my revelation about life after death. ‘Those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God’ embodies all righteous persons since Adam and Eve, regardless of the religion they practised, if any. Accompanying them are ‘those who had not worshipped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands’—this verse refers to the righteous people who had not allowed themselves to be completely corrupted by the USA-led Western civilisation. The term ‘beheaded’ is hyperbole for great suffering and sacrifice.

Later, the Almighty God took me through a series of visions and two vivid dreams between late August and early September 2016. He reminded me that everyone's soul OS oscillates between the spirit of Satan, or Free-will, and uncorrupted SoG, the Spirit of God. Even the most righteous among us endure a lifelong struggle trying to operate their souls on uncorrupted SoG for the greatest aggregate time; hence no human being can be entirely blameless. As a result, He has been judging, rewarding, and condemning us based merely on how strong-willed our attempts at ridding our souls of Free-will have been. This has important implications.

St. Michael reiterated that the Almighty God inspired the holy writings for all well-meaning religions. But once human hands and minds got involved in any form, Satan could no longer be kept out of such works. And no human is exempt from this kind of spiritual pollution, not even Christ's apostles.

Across millennia, human beings have handled God-inspired holy writing as they transcribed His messages and revelations, and during translation from one language to another. As we will see on page 112, sometimes translators experience genuine difficulties. On other occasions, there has been deliberate mistranslation, intended to support religious dogmas and doctrines.

Then there is the all-important interpretation of holy writings by various players, whom adherents within a religion or culture trust out of the worldly positions they occupy. Additionally, certain persons in several instances have adjudicated on holy writings, accepting some as holy over others, apparently while acting within a free-choice matrix.

Regarding three of the four scriptures quoted earlier, the writers applied an 'apocalyptic bend' to their works. Perhaps this can be attributed to the socio-political and persecution pressures of the time. Having seen the wonders the Almighty God had performed through Jesus Christ, the writers might have hoped that Christ would have returned sooner than later, to deal with those persecuting his early followers.

Notably, the apostles did not take daily notes of Christ's teachings. Moreover, many New Testament books were written decades after his death, in many cases by people who barely knew him.

Did the apostles grasp who Jesus Christ was before the resurrection? They did not appreciate the significance of his visitation until he reappeared to them. This can be deduced, for example, from Simon Peter's denial of Christ on three occasions within hours, Thomas's initial doubts regarding the resurrection, and Judas Iscariot's betrayal. But we should not judge the apostles; rather, we should acknowledge the contributions they made towards humanity's appreciation of the Almighty God.

And despite the tenacity of Bible apologists, both the Old and New Testament books can be looked at as works of literature, complete with literary styling. For illustration, the Book of Judges says in Chapter 20, "Among these soldiers, there were seven hundred select troops who were left-handed, each of whom could sling a stone at a hair and not miss." This does not mean these soldiers would sling a stone at a hair and hit it anytime they tried; it signifies that they were accurate and well-trained. This sort of writing or speaking style is referred to as hyperbole.

During the revelation period, I saw things in paradise I cannot attach a name to. This made me understand that the rendering of holy writings depends on the ken of the individual the Almighty God has chosen as His medium. Had He revealed a laptop computer to one of His prophets in 2000 B.C., that prophet would have described it in terms constrained within his range of knowledge.

The revelation further shows that the Almighty God is opposed to Bible apologists. His Truth does not need apologetic human legs to stand on. Regarding their significance, holy writings should not be equated to the Sovereign Lord they are trying to describe, often without success. The righteous must speak the Truth without fear, as God cherishes the Truth. That which is not part of His Truth will never fit into the Truth's perfect neatness.

Our Heavenly Father in addition revealed that what is holy about His writing is not the black typeface on white paper: It is the stream of spiritual interpretation He favours a reader with as they peruse a piece of holy works. Unless the reader is engaged in this manner, they will experience no enlightenment. Their effort will feel like the reading of a novel.

Furthermore, our current holy books were primarily meant to help us grope around the spiritual darkness of the Second Epoch. Unlike this book, which is based on knowledge, our holy books are fundamentally based on faith. The garden of faith is watered with a lack of knowledge—ignorance. Kingdom citizens will not grit their teeth as they seek to cultivate the deepest of faiths; instead, they will exhibit a triumph of knowledge over faith.

Contrary to the prevalent misconception among the faithful that God blesses only those who show great faith even in the most hopeless situations, He communicates most meaningfully through actions, as opposed to mere spiritual correspondence. Had He wanted you to go on that trip you have been fasting over, He would have provided the funds to purchase a ticket. And He does not mind a doubting servant; to Him, uncertainty is the beginning of wisdom. He expects intelligent beings to doubt in the face of a scarcity of information. He is perfectly logical. The religious types who will not change over from faith to His knowledge and logic will not flourish in His kingdom.

Do I have to mention that whole sections and chapters of our holy books will fall obsolete as soon as the Almighty God blows the trumpet at the start of the Third Epoch?

Who will want to read what Jesus Christ said 2,000 years ago, while he expounds on topical kingdom matters live on CNN? Other than for confirming its accuracy, who will want to read the biblical Book of Revelation after its prophecies would have come to pass? These books will have run their full course. Just like the religions they represent, they will beg to be retired. Also, their several inaccurate assertions will have come to light, causing certain of their sections to sound like comedy.

As you would expect, kingdom citizens will view themselves as modern; we will take the place of their backward ancestors. They will take a dim view of the fact that we used our holy books and their corresponding religions to create fear, divisions, hatred and terror, and to murder each other en masse. For those reasons alone, many of them will not wish to be associated with our books.

To answer the original question in this section, kingdom citizens who come across our holy books and wish to read them will do so meditatively, so that the Spirit of God can have ample opportunity to clarify, convict, and edify the reader. And they will believe the Spirit's interpretation over the text's literal meaning.

MY JOURNEY BACK TO EARTH

As I persisted in prayer, hoping the Almighty God could reveal more about life after death, I heard a 'faraway voice' as I slept on 21 September 2016, "To some I give two earthly lives. When they lose one, they live out the other." I was astounded.

I fervently sought the Lord for a clarification of this message. Later, He carried me in the Spirit to a time in 1977 when as a young boy, I had sustained an injury to the upper end of my spine, causing my head to rest stiffly on my right shoulder. I recall the bone specialist at Murang'a District Hospital, a diligent Italian man, inspecting my X-ray and shaking his head. He was concerned that corrective procedure could snap my spinal cord, leading to death.

Despite his concerns, the procedure was scheduled for the following morning at eight o'clock. When I regained consciousness at around four o'clock in the afternoon, I had a plaster cast around my neck and a dozen medical attendants surrounded my bed; I thought their clapping had interrupted my sleep. This scene has remained etched in my mind.

When I returned to school, I was top of my class in every assignment and examination paper I wrote, aided by a powerful memory. I had been the worst performer in my class before the operation, the ever-available laughing stock when it came to answering teachers' questions during lessons.

Outside the classroom, I was getting curious about everything. At one point, I cut off the top of a sapling and replaced it back onto the stem, then bound them together hoping they could reunite and grow into a large tree. Yet I had completed only three years of elementary school: I had not heard of grafting. Among other curiosities, I recollect repeatedly fetching water from a basin with a jug and quickly emptying it back into the basin from a height, wondering if it would eventually feel warmer.

I also developed some spirituality, though it was more of the questioning than the compliant type. I felt that I could do anything for the truth to float to the surface, even regarding the simplest contention with another boy in the village. Nothing could withstand my analytical eye without any untruth in it being exposed, not even the Bible. I often felt ashamed since in Africa those days, a child was not expected to doubt the accepted way of life, more so the cultural and religious truths.

It was only on 31 December 2017 when Angel Gabriel appeared in a dream and revealed that he managed the entire 1977 theatre operation. He watched over my bodily death and then resurrected me, albeit with the soul of a saint who had lived over 3,000 years earlier. I felt weak and confused when I woke up. He had called me by my first-life name and told me, “Father informed you last year about your first life on Earth, but you didn’t understand Him. He brought you back to fight a different kind of war and to help set up a different kind of kingdom.”

The angel then showed me what I looked like in my first life. Thereafter, He took me through three visions of bush wars, “You led only the first war, but not the other two.” I did not understand him, and I was terrified, I suppose because I was not fully asleep. He then appreciated how hard I was working on this book, “I see the same dogged determination and organisation as you displayed during your first life. Father is delighted with you.”

Before this lengthy dream, right at the end of 2017, I had not feared asking the Almighty God the hardest questions. I knew He appreciates those who seek after His light. This was different, however. I hesitated to engage the angel, but he saw the burning question on my soul, “Why didn’t you tell me who I’m all these years?” “Besides Jesus Christ,” he started off, “Father has brought back many saints in the last forty years to serve in His kingdom. But He decreed that those saints, including Christ, wouldn’t consciously understand who they’re until they read this book; yet each one of them would carry out the preparatory kingdom tasks He’s assigned them.”

Hitherto, I had suffered persistent confusion throughout my life. I knew something was odd about me, but I could not put my finger on it. I silently wondered how the other saints were faring. “It is different for every saint,” the angel clarified, “And it depends on the duties Father will assign them. Many are happily waiting to serve Him. In your case, you had to suffer: Father turned His face away from you so you wouldn't become religious." He then informed me that even after the Almighty God and His angels actively communicate with each saint, their identities will remain secretive. Apart from Jesus Christ and King David, no saint will reveal his or her identity.

At this point, the Almighty God intervened and enabled me to ask questions verbally, but I feared exasperating Him with my numerous burning issues, "Why couldn't I recall my first life before St. Gabriel revealed it to me?" He did not get angry at all, "It is because your sensory-conscious mind gateway died along with your first body, thousands of years ago. Notwithstanding, your first-life experiences are securely archived in your soul—its memory is never full. When I behold you with my all-seeing spiritual eyes, I see the same person I've always known. I can read anything from your soul and bring it up for conscious recall. But because your current sensory-conscious mind gateway is emotion-driven, you can't handle your first-life experiences. In the Fourth Epoch, I'll equip you with an emotionless, knowledge-driven gateway. You'll clearly recall your two earlier lives."

Questions still brightened my soul, so He carried on, "The good thing is, soul recall is much more consequential than conscious remembering: It informs personality accurately. For illustration, I adore Mary, Christ's first mother; I'm happy she's back on Earth. When I behold her in the Spirit, I see the same lovable and righteous Mary, though her clean-blue soul is vibrating and electrifying a different body. She is in the Somali Region in Eastern Ethiopia. Likewise, Christ cannot return to Earth and not facilitate free global communication, defeat all diseases, and revolutionise governance, as I've ingrained those transformative traits into his soul for millennia."

---

THE END OF WILFUL SIN

“And the same is true with our worldly truths and lies.

Telling a truth intending to hurt someone is sinful:

Uttering an untruth for the greater good, as opposed to evil selfish gain, is righteous. Unlike the Truth, which is not relative but an absolute spiritual good, some of our worldly truths can sting like bees and injure like a thousand swords.”

WHAT CAUSES EVIL?

In both Hebrew and Koine Greek, and in some contemporary languages such as my vernacular, the words rendered into English as sin could be more literally translated as ‘to miss the mark’, or the set goal in a sport.

If you are familiar with the game of darts—when you step back and hurl a dart at the board, you aim at the centre of the wheel, the bull’s eye. If a player were to form a habit of throwing darts aimlessly, without trying to hit the bull’s eye, the other players would consider him a nuisance; you would not characterise his actions as ‘missing the mark’ since he was not aiming for it to begin with. This has serious implications for the wilfully unrighteous: It implies that they are not sinning yet.

To sin, you must be doing your best to be righteous, but as expected, you occasionally ‘miss the mark’. This is what sets apart a believer from the world of evil around them. Because the Almighty God can see how hard they are trying to be righteous, He will keep forgiving them, anytime they acknowledge and repent their sins.

As the Second Epoch hurtles towards its terminal station, most of us are ‘throwing darts’ purposelessly, without aiming for the bull’s eye. To put it differently, they are experiencing a Free-will existence, the cause and perpetuator of the evil we see around us.

Super wars, terrorist activities, extreme poverty, ecological pollution, the tragedies of the Second Epoch have resulted from humans operating their souls on Free-will. In some cases, God tempts those running on Free-will to cause man-made calamities, as punishment to humankind. Then there are the natural calamities such as earthquakes, climate chaos, and wildfires—some of which He precipitates or abets as further punishment for our sins.

Poor governance and inept leadership are the other important contributors to evil among humankind. The only form of government that will please the Almighty God is the Third Epoch one, where He will appoint leaders through Jesus Christ and the other twenty-four emperors.

World governments in the latter part of the Second Epoch have been based on the electorates' collective Free-will, expressed through democracy. Be it same-sex marriages, euthanasia, or marijuana they want legalised, it is the people's call. A politician opposing them would be deemed to have smoked the same marijuana before its legalisation. The Almighty God and the angels view democracy as active lack of leadership.

<sup>2</sup> “Will the one who contends with the Almighty correct Him? Let him who accuses God answer Him!”

—JOB 40 NIV

The free in Free-will alludes to freedom from the Almighty God's influence. Those living out a Free-will-powered existence range from the mildly evil prosperity preacher in the USA to the vilest war criminal slaughtering people by the dozens in the Eastern Democratic Republic of Congo. Though the effects of their Free-will wanderings are dissimilar, both are flying along different orbits from those the Almighty God has charted for them. They will not be rewarded with everlasting life in the Fourth Epoch.

Free-will existence, therefore, does not always mean you are steeped in wilful sin. But to imagine that one of His creations is living out their life in a paradigm where they can chuck off a 'dart' anyhow agonises the Almighty God. This is more so because those running their souls on Free-will face an ever-present risk of malevolent spirits, or full-blown demons, latching onto their souls and polluting their personalities. Depending on the nature of such an attack, a mildly righteous person can turn into a child molester, a drug addict, a knife-wielding street killer. He could also end up taking his own life in depression-fuelled mental instability.

WHAT IS SIN?

All unrighteous actions and thoughts are sinful. God will convict you as soon as you act unrighteously, even where you might be ignorant of His expectations. As opposed to a one-off sinful action, we sometimes veer off His will, adopting a course of action that can be considered a 'project of sin'.

Many people would be filled with regret were they to break national or local authority laws unknowingly. But the repercussions for contravening the Almighty God's laws are much direr than with worldly statutes. The spiritually ignorant will not spare a mere ten minutes to pray to God and repent of their sins, yet they will happily pay a monetary fine to atone for their worldly transgressions.

<sup>4</sup> Everyone who practices sin also practices lawlessness; indeed, sin is lawlessness.

—1 JOHN 3 NET

We think of sin as something you do to the Almighty God, to someone else, or to the society at large. Such are sins of commission. But we also commit sins of omission when we fail to do that which a righteous person would have done naturally. Though we often commit them indirectly, sins of omission can have grievous consequences for others.

For illustration—in many Sub-Saharan African countries, up to a third of state revenues cannot be accounted for, year after year, owing to official corruption. Besides poor governance in general, this is the most important cause of extreme poverty, child mortality, and the widespread lack of access to social services.

Even among the accounted-for funds, colossal sums are wasted for example through entrenched tender-related corruption, to the extent that many hospitals in the region cannot undertake basic activities, like the washing of bed sheets in their patient wards. The day I typed out the first sentence of this paragraph, Angel Michael appeared in a vision, where I witnessed him boiling some filthy bed sheets and serving out the soup to a multitude of entrepreneurs, restrained with thick iron chains.

Consequently, not only is official corruption a weighty sin, but if you are aware of its occurrence and you do nothing about it, for whatever reason, you are committing a sin of omission.

<sup>29</sup> The man wanted to justify his actions, so he asked Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”

<sup>30</sup> Jesus replied with a story, “A Jewish man was traveling from Jerusalem down to Jericho, and he was attacked by bandits. They stripped him of his clothes, beat him up, and left him half dead beside the road. <sup>31</sup> By chance a priest came along. But when he saw the man lying there, he crossed to the other side of the road and passed him by. <sup>32</sup> A Temple assistant walked over and looked at him lying there, but he also passed by on the other side. <sup>33</sup> Then the despised Samaritan came along, and when he saw the man, he felt compassion for him. <sup>34</sup> Going over to him, the Samaritan soothed his wounds with olive oil and wine and bandaged them. Then he put the man on his own donkey and took him to an inn, where he took care of him. <sup>35</sup> The next day he handed the innkeeper two silver coins, telling him, “Take care of this man. If his bill runs higher than this, I'll pay you the next time I'm here.'<sup>36</sup> Now, which of these three would you say was a neighbor to the man who was attacked by bandits?"

<sup>37</sup> The man replied, "The one who showed him mercy." Then Jesus said, "Yes, now go and do the same."

—LUKE 10 NLT

For decades, the question of what causes extreme poverty and underdevelopment has been an uncomfortable one. If you are confused about it, I am not. Poverty and under-development are the fruits of specific and easily recognisable sins within the affected society. This does not mean citizens in developed countries are not also living in sin. They are committing different types of sins, which their societies allow or facilitate, but which do not result in present or near-future material poverty.

And as we make casual observations about each other's level of righteousness, we need to be cautioned that no human can judge another. The Almighty God and His angels judge us fairly because they spiritually see right into our souls. What is clear is that our world would become a semi-paradise were we to eliminate most sins of omission. Consider this—neglecting to help a starving or sick person, anywhere around the world, is a sin of omission, for which you may already be suffering punishment.

In the following scripture, Jesus Christ further illuminates on sins of omission.

me into your home.<sup>36</sup> I was naked, and you gave me clothing. I was sick, and you cared for me. I was in prison, and you visited me.”

<sup>37</sup> Then these righteous ones will reply, “LORD, when did we ever see you hungry and feed you? Or thirsty and give you something to drink?<sup>38</sup> Or a stranger and show you hospitality? Or naked and give you clothing?<sup>39</sup> When did we ever see you sick or in prison and visit you?”<sup>40</sup> And the king will say, “I tell you the truth, when you did it to one of the least of these my brothers and sisters, you were doing it to me!”

<sup>41</sup> Then the king will turn to those on the left and say, “Away with you, you cursed ones, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his demons.<sup>42</sup> For I was hungry, and you didn’t feed me. I was thirsty, and you didn’t give me a drink.<sup>43</sup> I was a stranger, and you didn’t invite me into your home. I was naked, and you didn’t give me clothing. I was sick and in prison, and you didn’t visit me.”

<sup>44</sup> Then they will reply, “LORD, when did we ever see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and not help you?”<sup>45</sup> And he will answer, “I tell you the truth, when you refused to help the least of these my brothers and sisters, you were refusing to help me.”

IS COMPLETE RIGHTEOUSNESS POSSIBLE?

The same way no player can hit the bull’s eye on a dartboard every time they try, no human can achieve complete righteousness. In the present spiritual paradigm, wilful sins are committed by multitudes, as they run their souls on Free-will—the corrupted spirit the Almighty God has identified as Satan.

Since His concise message as contained in this revelation had not reached the people, He is committed to forgiving everyone who turns to Him, repents of their sins, and does their best to be righteous; for example by choosing love over hate in their daily encounters.

But even when running your soul on the uncorrupted Spirit of God, or SoG, you cannot entirely avoid missteps. For this reason, what will set apart the upcoming epoch from the first two will be the absence of wilful sinning, as opposed to the unrealistic expectation of total righteousness.

HOW DOES GOD JUDGE SIN?

The Almighty God judges and punishes sin within the matrix of His sovereignty and omniscience. Think of it like this—He and His angels are aware of every thought your mind has ever processed, since they have access to your soul, where your past thoughts are archived in spiritual bytes as part of your ken. And unlike humans, He never forgets. When the foregoing is considered, it becomes clear that we cannot predict how He would weigh and judge a given incident of sin. But as you might expect, He considers some sins more severe than others, contrasting the gravest transgressions with minor unintended slips.

According to Angel Michael, the Almighty God regards sins of a sexual nature, Satan and idol worship, murder, and cruelty (this being a manifestation of lack of love), to be severe and deserving of an equitably heavy punishment. In the biblical Book of Genesis, the Lord laments, “The outcry against Sodom and Gomorrah is overwhelming; their sin is exceptionally grave.”

Notwithstanding, we must avoid all sin like the plague, and not fall into the trap of feeling good about our less severe sins. The aim of this section is to give aspiring kingdom citizens a greater understanding of sin, but not to excuse any transgression.

<sup>8</sup> But as for the cowards, unbelievers, detestable persons, murderers, the sexually immoral, and those who practise magic spells, idol worshippers, and all those who lie, their place will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur. That is the second death.

—REVELATION 21 NET

The following two questions can help us estimate the severity of the judgment we can expect for our various sins.

WERE YOU IGNORANT OF THE ALMIGHTY GOD'S LAW?

In jurisdictions worldwide, ignorance of the law is no defence. You cannot cite ignorance in a worldly court of law, and on that basis alone seek to be relieved of the responsibility for your crime.

But the Almighty God and His angels approach matters differently, because they know your level of appreciation of God's laws. They read your soul directly, as its conscience zone blinks red with guilt, distinguishing sins that involve wilfully breaking His laws from those that are committed out of ignorance.

I have heard people wonder if God will keep forgiving them the sins they commit repeatedly. No, He will not: Sinning knowingly is the brightest marker of human defiance. But because He is both merciful and sovereign, He contemplates all the circumstances surrounding a single instance of sin, including the sinner's level of temptation, before decreeing a course of punishment.

WHAT WAS YOUR INTENTION?

God judges our sins according to what was in our minds at the point of commission or omission. Our intention is key to His determination of our punishment. Many of the actions we deem all right are sinful, and the converse is true.

<sup>8</sup>Then Judah said to Onan, “Go in to your brother’s wife, and perform your duty as a brother-in-law to her, and raise up offspring for your brother.”<sup>9</sup> Onan knew that the offspring would not be his; so when he went into his brother’s wife, he wasted his seed on the ground in order not to give offspring to his brother.<sup>10</sup> But what he did was displeasing in the sight of the LORD; so He took his life also.

—GENESIS 38 NASB

Had Onan avoided making his sister-in-law pregnant because he knew, or even suspected, that the pregnancy would pose a threat to her life, the Almighty God would have appreciated his concern for her well-being.

In Heaven, no act is obviously sinful or righteous before your intention is clarified. If you killed someone who was about to bomb a school parade, where some 300 children sang innocently, God would with all factors considered view your action as righteous. He would be especially pleased if you had placed your own life at risk for the sake of those faultless souls.

And the same is true with our worldly truths and lies. Telling a truth intending to hurt someone is sinful: Uttering an untruth for the greater good, as opposed to evil selfish gain, is righteous. Unlike the Truth, which is not relative but an absolute spiritual good, some of our worldly truths can sting like bees and injure like a thousand swords.

The motives behind our actions is another reason why we should not judge fellow humans, for we cannot tell what was going on in their minds when they committed what appears like an obvious crime or a deliberate sin.

THE PRACTICE OF HOMOSEXUALITY

When the Almighty God stirred my soul to seek His view on homosexuality, as part of the broader revelation, I could not have guessed what His message was going to be. As I write this book, world leaders have had to come to terms with the political power of the LGBTQ community—some of them regularly march in the so-called pride parades and other festivals celebrating the achievements of the non-heterosexual sections of society.

Additionally, many Christian denominations may now perform same-sex marriages, and the Roman Catholic Church has gays among its ordained priesthood, despite the denomination's famed vows of celibacy. As a politically incorrect preacher, imagine being invited to offer a sermon at one of the thus-reformed churches. How would you navigate around the several sections of the Bible you could not refer to without risking a mass walkout?

Democratic and worldly governments must sound a welcoming tone and cater to all sections of the society. Religious organisations, on the other hand, have confused their roles with those of worldly leadership, just like the Roman Catholic Church back in the Roman Empire days.

As I tried to place this matter into a spiritual perspective, Angel Gabriel showed me a vivid vision where a cartoon christened religion bent over backwards for 2,000 years, trying to touch and merge with Satan, or Free-willed society. But its body arched right over Satan, and when its hands eventually landed on something, it was the waters of an expansive bottomless lake.

The cartoon drowned as I watched. And then a large flag floating in the middle of the lake caught my attention. It bore the inscription: “the lake of irrelevance”. Before appreciating the hopelessness of the situation, Free-willed society did her best to save the drowning colleague. At this point, the Almighty God remembered that the cartoon had formed a doubles team with the then-young Western Empire and murdered Jesus.

In this vision, the Almighty God did not render His view on homosexuality. Given its widespread acceptance within mainstream religion, I wondered if He had changed some of His precepts to accommodate changing circumstances among humans. Having read about His catastrophic punishment upon Sodom and Gomorrah, I felt it was imperative He indicates His opinion on homosexuality, to clear the prevailing confusion.

This time round, St. Gabriel returned via a short dream towards the end of October 2016. I had been in meditation for several days. After making it known that the message was about homosexuality, he simply said, “All sins can be forgiven.” He then pushed some ‘visible and tangible words’ into my mouth, and I replied saying, “God is overflowing with grace and mercy.”

That message, however, marked only the beginning of my interaction with the Almighty God on this subject, and I kept praying and meditating, hoping to receive its full interpretation. During the first of the follow up visions, the angel reminded me that homosexuality is a sin like any other and can be forgiven if the offender repents. To be clear, it is sinful to stigmatise someone for practising homosexuality.

Moreover, the divine rules on judgement and love apply to the full extent regarding homosexuality: Do not judge or fail to love a fellow human because of suspected sin. There are countries around the world where homosexuality is a crime. Yet in several such polities—Uganda is notable—ordinary citizens sometimes lynch suspects instead of handing them over to the authorities.

Further, during these final years of the Second Epoch, persons practising homosexuality should not be discouraged from accessing religious institutions. But God's message must not be diluted because of the composition of a congregation.

The heat being generated around homosexuality is not merely because the practice is sinful: There are cultural dynamics at play. The Almighty God is prepared to forgive those who repent of any sin, including homosexuality, and to move on as if no sin had been committed. But this is not the case with many people around the world.

<sup>1</sup> The two angels came to Sodom in the evening. Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. When Lot saw them, he got up to meet them. He put his face to the ground <sup>2</sup> and said, "My lords, come into the house of your servant. Stay the night, and wash your feet. Then you may rise early and go on your way." But they said, "No, we will stay the night in the street." <sup>3</sup> But he begged them, so they turned aside with him and went into his house. And he made a supper for them. He made bread without yeast, and they ate.

<sup>4</sup> Before they went to bed, all the men of the city of Sodom both young and old gathered around the house. <sup>5</sup> They called to Lot, saying, "Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us so we may lie with them." <sup>6</sup> Lot went out of the door to the men, and shut the door behind him. <sup>7</sup> He said, "My brothers, please do not be so sinful. <sup>8</sup> See, I have two daughters who have never had a man. Let me bring them out to you. And do to them whatever you want. But do nothing to these men, for they have come to be safe under my roof."

<sup>9</sup> But they said, "Get out of our way. This man came to live here from another land. And already he acts like a judge. Now we will do worse things to you than to them." So they pushed hard against Lot and almost broke down the door. <sup>10</sup> But the two [angels] put out their hands and brought Lot into the house with them, and shut the door.

<sup>11</sup> Then they blinded the men who were at the door of the house, both small and big. So the men became tired trying to find the door.

<sup>15</sup> When morning came, the angels told Lot to hurry. They said, “Get up. Take your wife and your two daughters who are here. Or else you will be destroyed when the city is punished.” <sup>23</sup> The sun had moved over the earth when Lot came to Zoar. <sup>24</sup> Then the LORD poured fire from the [sky] upon Sodom and Gomorrah. <sup>25</sup> He destroyed those cities, and all the valley, and all the people of the cities, and what grew on the ground. <sup>26</sup> But Lot’s wife behind him turned and looked toward the cities. And she was changed into [a pillar of] salt.

—GENESIS 19 NLV

I persisted in prayer, as I sought a full understanding of Heaven’s view on homosexuality. My remaining uncertainty centred on the ordination of the openly homosexual. St. Gabriel returned in yet another vision and started by reiterating that homosexuality is like all other sins. Furthermore, sinners abound among the rest of the clergy; some of them might even be undeclared homosexuals, rivaling or perhaps surpassing the openly homosexual in their sinful ways. The key difference therefore being that the openly homosexual have announced their status.

While their open defiance and refusal to acknowledge homosexuality as sinful can be unsettling, the angel’s message was that the openly homosexual may be ordained as clergy, for the short period their religions will persist, on condition that they do not distort God’s message to His sheep. And they must ask their congregations to remember them in their prayers, along with the other members of the clergy, so they can all turn away from sin.

Reflect on this—there are members of the clergy who are suspected of such sins as child molestation, rape, abortion, and even murder. At one point, the angel proffered, “Maybe everyone should announce the sins they repeatedly commit. That way, the stigma associated with sinning can be evenly distributed, and we can then agree who should throw the first stone.”

The Almighty God is not excusing homosexuality. It appals Him. He is calling out a human attribute that also offends Him: hypocrisy. His mercy and grace can be beyond human comprehension. He is determined that no living human will be found unworthy of citizenship in His kingdom. The revelation shows Him breaking all sexual orientation curses—homosexuality, gender identity confusion, transgender births—as humankind enters the Third Epoch. By the time His kingdom is firmly established, every adult woman will be married to a worthy and righteous man, perhaps one of His returning saints.

A PEEP INTO THE SPIRIT UNIVERSE

“We are blind to well over 99 percent of the electromagnetic spectrum—gamma rays, radio waves, X-rays, infrared rays, ultraviolet rays, microwaves. Yet X-rays will peer through your flesh to reveal an image of your fractured bone; microwaves will warm your frozen dinner; and radio waves will deliver a message of the unspeakable violence approaching your village, deep in the African countryside, following a military coup in the city. Often, what we cannot see is more real than what we can. And nowhere is this truer than regarding the reality of the Spirit Universe.”

THE SPIRIT REALMS

The Spirit Universe comprises many realms: Heaven, the six paradises, Hell, the world, and the millions of other worlds like ours. Most life-supporting celestial bodies had only the equivalent of sub-human life. A small proportion of the worlds occupied more than one celestial body—a planet and its moon(s), two or three close by planets. Further, as I recall from the revelation, some celestial bodies had permanent daylight: All darkness was artificial, and it was treasured as much as our daylight.

Like us, the spirit beings populating the other worlds are of a dual nature: They have physical bodies which are powered by spiritual souls. Because the spirit is the real person, it would be more accurate to say that the spirit beings inhabiting the worlds have physical bodies besides their essential spirit nature. It is through our spirits, or souls, that we interact with the beings in the other spirit realms and to some extent among ourselves. The beings inhabiting the other worlds come in assorted sizes, forms, and complexions.

Hell is the spirit realm inhabited by the souls of the cosmozens who died while persisting in their defiance to God. He therefore could not receive them into Heaven. We saw in Chapter 2 that some of the souls of the defiant dead break out of their prison, seeking to superimpose themselves onto the souls of the living.

On the other hand, Heaven is the glorious realm where the Almighty God and His numberless hosts of spirit angels live. It is the second most populous realm, after Hell.

Contrary to popular understanding, Heaven is not a place of uninterrupted rest, where the only activity is the endless praise of spirit angels towards the Almighty God. Real work takes place there, including strategic planning, as God oversees His creation—comprising spirit angels, cosmic angels, the spirit beings and lower-life creatures experiencing bodily consciousness around the cosmos, the condemned souls in Hell, and the entire cosmos.

According to Angel Michael, spirit angels are spiritually resurrected souls of former cosmozens: They are not a separate line of creation. No angel has always been in Heaven; each has had to evidence their cosmic righteousness. The Almighty God also referred to them as His heavenly-saints. The beings described as angels in holy writings are either spirit angels, cosmic angels, or God's human messengers.

On their part, cosmic angels inhabit the six paradises. They have glorified bodies, and their journey back to the cosmos does not represent a step down in status. They still minister to the spiritually backward around the cosmos, without having to leave paradise; they 'see' the entire universe with spiritual eyes.

Cosmic angels are so spiritually and technologically advanced that they can make their bodies and transportation artefacts impossible for the human eye to perceive. When the Almighty God sent them to Earth in the past, they were rightly celebrated as His angels. Today, the Western Empire would aim its archaic weapons at them, hoping to convince its subjects of its omnipotence, and to mislead humanity of her pre-eminence and independence. As a result, they cannot save the earth from its impending doom. In one vision, one of them gave me a direct warning: "Your race will not continue to be one of the ugly scars on our Lord's cosmos, with your lack of love and never-ending wars."

Were there to be a war among the more advanced civilisations which could not be won with love, it would not be fought with physical weapons—stones, machetes, arrows, bullets, bombs. For illustration, cosmic angels can send down to Earth an apocalyptic spiritual wave, which can yank out human souls from flesh or convert terrestrial surface matter back into energy in an instant.

The Almighty God is focussed on elevating humankind to the Seventh Paradise, where those chosen will be part of a highly advanced civilisation of cosmic angels. He made seven the human number from the outset. Our race was selected from among the millions of civilisations in the cosmos that are populated by similar spirit-driven beings. As I will detail in Chapter 8, those blessed as the ultimate saints will enjoy everlasting bodily life.

Contrasting our Second Epoch lives with everlasting life, we can hardly commission long-term transformative projects owing to the threat posed by our imminent mortality. If a group of present-day adults were to embark on an eighty-year space journey, most would die on the way. Those blessed enough to make it to the destination would likely be too frail to alight from the spacecraft.

Though humankind is at the peak of her spiritual ignorance and defiance, she remains one of the Almighty God's favourite children. He is determined that she will make it to her decreed Fourth Epoch maturity; the option is her annihilation. Yet He is full of mercy for her. By announcing His earthly kingdom via this revelation, He has indicated that we have made the threshold numbers for a viable Seventh Paradise. But He is yearning for more. The greater the number of angels, the easier it will be to spread His ministering and prosperity around the cosmos.

For the sake of clarity, St. Michael was categorical that the heavenly-saints, or spirit angels, can reappear in bodily form only through conception. While in Heaven, the Almighty God equips the soul of each saint with a spiritual sensory-conscious mind gateway, to facilitate their intelligent interaction with the expansive heavenly and cosmic reality. He also assigns the spirit and cosmic angels protection and guardianship duties at specific civilisations around the cosmos.

Angels Michael and Gabriel, for example, have been humankind's guardians from the beginning. Our socio-political development, technology, and cultures have been imparted by their stewardship; the same is true of many aspects of our languages, number systems, and time-related denotations—week, month, year, century, millennia. The upcoming kingdom culture will be a coming together and refinement of their 10,000-year project, under the Almighty God's oversight.

We are not alone in the universe. There exists other highly intelligent life in non-physical form, the direct cause of our earthly existence. Additionally, the cosmos is teeming with bodily life at various stages of spiritual, evolutionary, and technological advancement.

THE NATURE OF SPIRIT

A cosmic angel can transmit your encoded soul across the cosmos, in the form of a spiritual wave.

Because of the inability the Almighty God has placed upon humans, we cannot perceive things of the spirit using our five common senses. But spirit is not immaterial: It is the (refined) essence of what would have been humanly perceivable matter, with nothing of importance missing. It is the 'weightless' vitamin C in your oral supplement, were you to do away with its carrier, the excipient. To put it differently, spirit materials are without excess baggage.

Other than the spirit materials making up the souls of cosmoszens, spirit angels, and those imprisoned in Hell, all spirit materials in the universe are part and parcel of the Almighty God. Because He has decreed to honour spirit-driven beings with meaningful detachment and personal responsibility, our souls remain at His fringes. But before He spiritually birthed each one of us, the materials now forming our souls were within Him. This spiritual universality is what enables Him to be omnipotent, omniscient, and omni-active across His entire creation.

According to Angel Michael, one of the Almighty God's spirit materials can best be described as the Universal Creative Energy. The one and only true source of energy in the universe, this spirit material's energy is inexhaustible—the Almighty God converts it into primary solid matter, which eventually turns into stars and planets, for instance. Conversely, when He kills celestial bodies, He converts them back into the divine energy they once were.

And He is always creating and killing matter; for example through the phenomenon our astronomers call black holes. The mighty pulling force in a black hole is not gravitational: It is spiritual. It cannot be gravitational because destroyed matter has no mass in the Newtonian sense. He uses these incredibly strong spiritual forces to clean up, contract, expand, and re-arrange the cosmos.

Beyond our excited talk about atoms and molecules, terrestrial science will never understand what matter really is, and how it is related to spirit materials.

The Universal Creative Energy conveys a different form of energy, which converts into magnificent lighting on hitting the surfaces of many angelic materials. Somewhat like our solar energy, this omnipresent energy can also be harnessed and converted into the most advanced form of flowing electricity in the cosmos. The Almighty God referred to this super-electricity as spiriticity.

During my visit to paradise, He showed me miniature gadgets on an interstellar spacecraft which utilised the Universal Creative Energy to generate spiriticity, “Joseph, do you understand how the spacecraft undertakes its erratic manoeuvres? It is because the body of the cosmic angel at its controls also runs on spiriticity. And unlike with your electricity, he can manoeuvre the craft via thought. Also, angels can generate spiriticity from anywhere around the cosmos, even at its darkest corners.”

In our current bodies, the Almighty God has created us to have limited experience. To illustrate, we can hear sounds ranging in frequency from 20 to 20,000 Hertz, while elephants can perceive sounds below 16 Hertz. If both an average human and an elephant were to get a life-and-death, get-out-of-here audio warning at 15 Hertz, the elephant would take off leaving the human wondering if the animal just got crazy.

On their part, human eyes can see only a tiny fraction of the electromagnetic spectrum, our visible light. We are blind to well over 99 percent of the electromagnetic spectrum—gamma rays, radio waves, X-rays, infrared rays, ultraviolet rays, microwaves. Yet X-rays will peer through your flesh to reveal an image of your fractured bone; microwaves will warm your frozen dinner; and radio waves will deliver a message of the unspeakable violence approaching your village, deep in the African countryside, following a military coup in the city. Often, what we cannot see is more real than what we can. And nowhere is this truer than regarding the reality of the Spirit Universe.

The Spirit Universe is pervaded by such realities as power and strict hierarchy, war, imprisonment, peace, joy, sadness, disappointment, regret, and territoriality, in similar ways to our physical life here on Earth. Some places are out of bounds to certain spirit beings. The same way you would expect trouble if you jogged into the USA's White House uninvited, an angel cannot saunter past the Almighty God's domain and throne without all courtesies being observed.

Finally, you cannot tell how far Hell is from Heaven using our earthly kilometres: The Spirit Universe is not definable via physical coordinates. But every domain in the Spirit Universe is clearly demarcated in spiritual coordinates. And the spirit beings in Heaven and Hell know their stations and restrictions.

Spirit life is the fuller experience, devoid of the limitations placed on us by our ever-present bodies.

THE ALMIGHTY GOD

The Almighty God is the all-powerful Creator of the universe, including the spirit and bodily life within it; He is responsible for all its happenings, as all power rests and derives from Him. He holds the cosmos together using mighty spiritual forces and bonds, simple cosmic rules such as gravity, and other decrees that are too complex to be fathomed by the human mind. His awesome creation and its ways—regular seasons, day and night, the intricately balanced order of the cosmos and the chaos He occasionally decrees upon it—reveal Him to those He has blessed with spiritual wisdom.

He knows everything, and He knows nothing. In other words, He appreciates what could have existed but does not. To Him, everything is knowledge. Car, human body, galaxy—all tangible things are materialised knowledge.

Although the Almighty God's exact nature will remain a mystery to humans, we know of many communicable attributes of His essence. His mystery stems from the incommunicable attributes. We frequently cannot discern His presence, even as He works in what would otherwise have been plain sight. Expecting Second Epoch humans to know God beyond the communicable aspects is the equivalent of asking a blind person to describe a thing that can be revealed only through visible light, or asking someone to describe a scene where the ambient 'light' falls outside the visible spectrum.

Our Heavenly Father is synonymous with His universe, whose extent is the reach of His spirit materials; these materials carry life, high intelligence, and creative energy. To Him, matter and energy are one and the same: He converts one to the other at will. Were there to be a space that could lie beyond the reach of His spirit materials, it would be non-space. The presence of His spirit materials is the very definition of space. To put it another way, no space can exist beyond the universe, outside His reach and control. The universe therefore takes the form, shape, and size He gives it. It is not a constant to be fathomed by the human mind. Only He knows what to make of it.

As we saw earlier, all spirit materials in the universe are either within the Almighty God or at His fringes, and that includes the materials making up Satan, the corrupted spirit we discussed in Chapter 2. Who then is the Almighty God? How is He said to be domiciled in Heaven? Indeed, what and where is Heaven?

Heaven is not another place: It is another reality, a different kind of consciousness.

If our Heavenly Father invited you to Heaven, He would take you there in the Spirit during your sleep. He would be careful to show you only what you can process, because heavenly reality is too expansive for the human mind. Otherwise, your experience might resemble a series of difficult to understand out-of-this world horror movies. Understand this, if there are one-eyed giants inhabiting one of the cosmic civilisations, or intelligent beings whose ‘hands’ are of such a shape that they fly to work, that too is part of heavenly reality. In fact, heavenly reality incorporates all cosmic reality, blending it with whatever Heaven was before the creation of the cosmos.

Upon waking up, you would consign this peep into Heaven into your dreams compartment. But Heaven and the Spirit Universe in general are not a dream. They are the arch-reality from which our corporeal reality flows, and to which it is subservient. Angels Michael and Gabriel have guided humankind to relative prosperity because they can match our problems with solutions from elsewhere in the cosmos. The challenge has been the efficiency of their downloads, as spiritual inadequacy has largely disconnected us from them and the rest of the cosmic citizenry.

As a human, you perceive and make sense of reality using your sensory-conscious mind gateway: the box looks big; it feels smooth; it smells fresh; it falls with a bang; and the mangoes inside taste delicious. Spirit beings, on the other hand, possess spiritual gateways into their souls, which enable them to perceive both heavenly and cosmic reality in ways that integrate but far supersede our five common senses.

God is marginally alive in everything He has created; before its materialisation, it took the form of His spirit: It was a part of Him. Regarding significant manifestation, He can overtake the soul of any spirit-driven being and speak through their mouth, act via their limbs, perform miracles through their body, and serve out His benevolence to those in their proximity. But because He is a spirit being, He acts mostly by spiritually wiring up into the souls of cosmozens, where He controls thoughts, convicts the unrighteous, edifies those in need, and rewards the righteous with true happiness.

The following scripture describes His visit to Abraham, accompanied by two angels. In a similar manner to His appearance at the Garden of Eden and during Jesus Christ's resurrection, He had overtaken the soul of a cosmozen, and thus taken control of their body. In the case of Christ's resurrection, He brought his body back to life before taking over his soul.

<sup>1</sup> And the LORD appeared to [Abraham] by the oaks of Mamre, as he sat at the door of his tent in the heat of the day. <sup>2</sup> He lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, three men were standing in front of him. When he saw them, he ran from the tent door to meet them and bowed himself to the earth <sup>3</sup> and said, "O LORD, if I have found favor in your sight, do not pass by your servant. <sup>4</sup> Let a little water be brought, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree, <sup>5</sup> while I bring a morsel of bread that you may refresh yourselves, and after that you may pass on—since you have come to your servant." So they said, "Do as you have said."

<sup>6</sup> And Abraham went quickly into the tent to Sarah and said, "Quick! Three seahs of fine flour! Knead it, and make cakes." <sup>7</sup> And Abraham ran to the herd and took a calf, tender and good, and gave it to a young man, who prepared it quickly. <sup>8</sup> Then he took curds and milk and the calf that he had prepared, and set it before them. And he stood by them under the tree while they ate.

—GENESIS 18 ESV

From the revelation, the Almighty God maintains a permanent spiritual manifestation in Heaven. And just like Him, spirit angels can manifest instantly at any cosmic location: Time and space limitations do not exist in their reality. They would take them into account only when considering the life of a bodily being. When He dispatches an angel on an errand, eighty billion light-years from Earth, the angel simply ceases to manifest in Heaven and immediately locks onto the chosen soul at the decreed cosmic destination, to start the assigned task.

Because only the Almighty God is capable of omni-activity, angels cannot manifest at more than one location simultaneously.

If you think of the Spirit Universe as the universal internet, the Lord is the server: The souls of the spirit and cosmic angels are exceedingly powerful computers. The ordinary cosmozens' souls are standard computers. And the souls of those imprisoned in Hell are computers running on irredeemably corrupted software; most times, they churn out viruses which affect some of the standard computers over the Wi-Fi network, depending on how well-updated the software on a given standard computer is. Only that these are not mere thoughts, they broadly paint the reality.

During the revelation, the angels illustrated the Almighty God's struggles as He stirred human soul after human soul towards discovering our internet. He would not establish His kingdom before we implemented a reasonable replica of the universal spiritual internet, to ease communication during the upcoming globalised kingdom culture.

The universal spiritual internet is the backbone of the Lord's governorship. Through it, He affects and reads the minds and souls of the networked 'computers', giving Him wisdom and power that is incomprehensible to humans. Beyond the complacency of spiritual fools, no thought or action is uncaused. If you do not believe this, you are like a three-year-old boy, imagining the nursery school rhyme he is enjoying over YouTube is available only on his father's smart-phone. Moreover, the Almighty God sometimes deletes information from selected 'computers', to manage our cosmic experiences.

Also, He controls and manages our thought patterns and emotions through this spiritual internet, as He seeks to ensure His will prevails. Using this approach, He decrees love or hatred among people and nations, breaking up marriages and causing wars and other man-made calamities. In one vision, I saw Him tone down the emotion of disgust in a young woman so she could accept a career as a surgeon. He then turned to a young man and intensified his emotion of disgust to manage his emerging trend towards sexual immorality.

When He is not affecting our thoughts, He is abetting them. If your evil neighbour is planning to kill you and He knows you deserve no less, He will not interrupt his train of thought. Given that our actions always spring from thoughts and thoughtlessness, this mode of operation is a robust tool, which the Almighty God uses to reward and punish cosmozens. He referred me to the following message, which He delivered through Prophet Ezekiel, telling me in a vision, “Joseph, I didn’t direct King Nebuchadnezzar, ‘Go and attack Israel.’ I affected his mind to think it’d be a good idea. He did exactly what I had purposed.”

<sup>11</sup> The LORD says, “I have told Nebuchadnezzar to shine his sword. It is in his hand. It has been sharpened and shined. It is ready for the killer’s hand. <sup>12</sup> Son of man, cry out and weep. The sword is against my people. It is against all the princes of Israel. It will kill them along with the rest of my people. So beat your chest in sorrow.”

—EZEKIEL 21 NIV

In late August 2017, as Angel Gabriel illustrated the intricate workings of the universal spiritual internet, I was shocked to see how the Lord tempts humans, and later severely punishes those who turn to evil under His temptation. The biggest dangers of our times, such as many acts of terrorism, result from the Almighty God luring unrighteous humans to evil. How can a loving God tempt humans to carry out such vile acts? Because in our spiritual illiteracy, many societies around the world have piles of unrepented sins, which must meet His equitable punishment.

He disciplines those who fall to His temptation because they would still have carried out the evil acts were the spurring thoughts to have originated from their Free-will-powered minds; they cannot tell the difference. One reason why there will be unparalleled peace once the Third Epoch gains a sure footing is that He will not be tempting humans to evil. There will be no reason to, and there will be no one to fall to such temptation.

<sup>1</sup> If a prophet or a dreamer of dreams arises among you and gives you a sign or a wonder, <sup>2</sup> and the sign or wonder that he tells you comes to pass, and if he says, "Let us go after other gods," which you have not known, "and let us serve them," <sup>3</sup> you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of dreams. For the LORD your God is testing you, to know whether you love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

<sup>4</sup> You shall walk after the LORD your God and fear Him and keep His commandments and obey His voice, and you shall serve Him and hold fast to Him. <sup>5</sup> But that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD your God.

—DEUTERONOMY 13 ESV

As St. Gabriel further edified me about the ways of our Heavenly Father, I learnt that sovereignty is one of His least appreciated attributes.

To illustrate, those who avoid medicine seek to command Him on how to heal their diseases. They are telling God, "If you won't cure me miraculously, let me keep my disease." But He is sovereign: He decides how to heal an episode of disease autonomously. He can approach your illness miraculously, going as far as raising you from the dead. But He can also cure you by leading you to the right medication, or by guiding you towards healthier living. All medicinal things, including the slow-poisoning concoctions He has spurred us to develop as punishment for our sins, belong to Him.

DOES GOD KNOW THE FUTURE?

In mid-June 2016, the Spirit overwhelmed my soul and planted in my mind this question: “Does the Almighty God know exactly what will happen in the future?” While I sought His wisdom, I kept assuming He must know future happenings in detail, so I asked Him an additional question, “If the answer is yes, why do you occasionally sound surprised?”

Angel Michael answered my supplication in a dream later that month, “It would not fit in with Father’s almighty nature to have merely the information about future occurrences, as if such happenings are others-controlled, and He is watching from a distance. The thing is, ‘He is the one doing it.’”

This modus operandi takes the Almighty God beyond simply knowing to having the power to act towards the diligent management of His creation. It is a demonstration of supreme authority beyond mere omniscience. Just before the dream ended, the angel asked me, “If all the knowledge of the universe rested upon your mind, of what use would it be if you couldn’t act to ensure your will is done.”

Whether acting directly or indirectly, the Almighty God is the cause of all happenings on Earth and across the cosmos.

He causes and abets events to suit His divine will for a given person or situation. For instance, a malevolent spirit cannot latch onto your soul and cause you problems unless He abets the attack. A thief cannot break into your residence, and pests cannot attack your crops or livestock, unless He looks the other way. What He abets are the consequences of events He had set in motion earlier; these include many of our diseases.

Logically, the next question would be, “Does He always know when He will take a certain action or abet an occurrence?” If He answered yes to that question, the title almighty would no longer apply to Him: Such a prediction would entail limiting His actions to facilitate its coming to pass. But He has no limits.

What then are prophecies? A prophecy is a promise or warning by the Almighty God that He will take a certain action; it is not the result of a hard and long gaze at a spiritual crystal ball.

Regarding surprise, the Almighty God does not have passions. As we will see in Chapter 8, the inhabitants of the six paradises, the cosmic angels, also do not have emotions. Our kind of charged emotional existence is the preserve of the cosmozens inhabiting the less-spiritually advanced civilisations. But He will crash human emotions along with the ‘animal farm’ which has necessitated them, after 1,000 years: He will not instil emotions on the Fourth Epoch super-humans.

Though He is depicted in holy writings expressing surprise, grief, joy, pain, disgust, and anger, He communicates this way so we can relate to His language. When you are idol worshipping a golden wristband, your bodily beauty, or a celebrity, He does not punish you because He is green with envy. He rebukes you because that is the right thing to do, as He looks forward to you knowing Him better and giving Him all the glory. Had He been working through frequent bouts of anger because of our irrelevance, He would have punished us to extinction. If He hated those who deserve nothing less, in a manner akin to our human loathing, He would have been committing genocide around the cosmos regularly.

THE HOLY TRINITY DOCTRINE

It has hitherto been impossible to understand the Spirit Universe. In part, this confusion has been caused by centuries-old Christian dogmas and doctrines, particularly regarding how the Almighty God and Jesus Christ are related.

The questions about this interrelationship were the first that the Almighty God raised in my soul in early 2016. Because of the complexity of this subject and my incredulity as He began His revelation, I took up to the end of February 2017 to receive full comprehension.

My understanding of this topic was difficult because I had always considered myself a Christian. I had grown accustomed to the doctrine of the Holy Trinity, whereby ‘God the Father’, ‘God the Son’, and ‘God the Holy Spirit’ exist as coequal, co-eternal, and co-essential divine persons within a Triune God.

The revelation expounded in this book is contrary to the Holy Trinity doctrine. This realisation puzzled me in the beginning, but angels Michael and Gabriel were always at hand to support me.

As I probed this subject, St. Michael guided me through a study of the origins of the doctrine of the Holy Trinity. By the conclusion of this scrutiny, I had understood that not every Christian-branded thing originated with Christ or his early followers. Notably, the fourth century intellectual and theological debates which led to the formulation of the Holy Trinity were carried out after the true church had been driven underground, while its successor, the highly intellectual and politically connected pseudo-church, sought the hand of the Roman Empire in ‘marriage’.

Those who have studied the historical Jesus Christ ought to know that his true followers would not have organised themselves for adoption as a state religion. They would not have compromised with worldly authority, even at the height of persecution. He had prepared his followers to expect and happily accept persecution for the sake of the Almighty God's kingdom.

<sup>25</sup> He who loves his life loses it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it to life eternal.

—JOHN 12 NASB

Sadly, the early church was infiltrated by many heretical ideas and teachings, as well as by worldly leaders. In particular, the so-called Triune God is heresy that Christ did not teach. He kept referring to the Heavenly Father who had sent him. And he would be astonished by the idea of a Triune God, in whom he has a third of the divine shares, with the so-called 'God the Father' and 'God the Holy Spirit' sharing out the remainder of the triune equally.

Unfortunately, divergence from Christ's original teachings is not limited to the Triune God: It is a malignant cancer across the entire Christian fabric. For one, he advocated for deep individual prayer from the heart and directly to our Heavenly Father, so that a firm spiritual bond could develop; manifestly, this is not how Christianity has been practised.

If Christ could not make do with group worship, but had to withdraw to lonely places to meditate and pray, we must emulate him. Contemporary Christianity lays too much emphasis on group worship through their large congregations, at the expense of the oneness with the Almighty God that Christ loved to practise. It is a triumph of quantity over quality.

<sup>15</sup> Yet the news about him spread all the more, so that crowds of people came to hear him and to be healed of their sicknesses. <sup>16</sup> But Jesus often withdrew to lonely places and prayed [to the Almighty God].

—LUKE 5 NIV

Similarly, the structure of the Roman Catholic Church and most subsequent Christian denominations is at odds with Christ's teachings and practices. While one can understand why our worldly focused religious organisations would love the huge crowds, we have practised religiosity as opposed to spirituality. Religiosity is allied to worldly culture, while spirituality's singular concern is God and His righteousness.

As for the present-day church leadership, eminent personalities like the Pope and the Archbishop of Canterbury are more of political than spiritual leaders. We need to realise, for instance, that electing the Pope, despite the fanfare we are treated to, does not mean the Almighty God will place such a pontiff at the head of His elect. The winning candidate may not even be on the list of God's elect. In demonstration that they are just worldly leaders as opposed to spiritual guides, they will compromise on any subject to avoid upsetting the political ship or upending the offertory box—homosexuality, child molestation, human rights.

In Christ's mind, every righteous person is a priest, and leadership within a fellowship is not supposed to bestow exalted earthly or superstar status, as is the case now.

<sup>42</sup> So Jesus called them together and said, "You know that the rulers in this world lord it over their people, and officials flaunt their authority over those under them. <sup>43</sup> But among you it will be different. Whoever wants to be a leader among you must be your servant, <sup>44</sup> and whoever wants to be first among you must be the slave of everyone else. <sup>45</sup> For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve others and to give His life as a ransom for many."

—MARK 10 NLT

THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE TRINITY DOGMA

The Trinity dogma was arrived at during the Council of Nicaea in A.D. 325. The Roman Emperor Constantine had convened this council to develop a statement of faith that could unify the pseudo-church. The result was the ratification of the Nicene Creed, declaring that ‘the Father and the Son are of the same substance’. That Emperor Constantine, a high priest of the pagan religion of the Unconquered Sun, presided over this council is instructive.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, “Constantine himself presided, guided the discussions, and proposed the formula expressing Jesus Christ’s relationship to the Almighty God in the creed issued by the council.” Although this was not Constantine’s first attempt at reconciling factions in Christianity, the Academic American Encyclopedia notes that it was the first time he had used the imperial office to impose a settlement. Constantine sided with the pro-Trinity Athanasius over Arius; at the end of this council, he exiled the latter to Illyria. Arius favoured the comprehension of a unitary Almighty God, along the lines of the biblical Old and New Testaments.

As expounded elsewhere in this book, and according to Angel Gabriel, Jesus Christ was but a direct son of the Almighty God. But to be clear, the ‘lost sheep’ in this matter are wilfully so: The three Abrahamic religions’ holy writings are candid on this subject. One would have expected Christ’s followers to honour the spirit of His teachings about the Almighty God. Christ did not seek much consideration himself. He always deflected undue attention to the Heavenly Father who had sent him.

<sup>17</sup>As he was starting on his way, a man ran up, kneeled down in front of him and asked, “Good Rabbi, what should I do to obtain eternal life?”<sup>18</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Why are you calling me good? No one is good except God!”

—MARK 10 CJB

Since you would not expect those who respected Christ's original teachings to envision a dogma like this, just what was the impetus for the Trinity idea? The answer lies in the adulteration of his original teachings with pagan ideology and practices. This pollution came from influential people who were dedicated to idol worshipping God's creations such as the sun, and from adherents who revered gods other than the one Christ had come to reveal.

The Roman Catholic Church adopted traditions derived from pagan theological setups such as ancient Babylon, as a fruit of this adulteration. According to Angel Gabriel, practices like the purported absolution of sin by fellow humans border on divine tragicomedy.

For illustration, in the quote below, the pope purports to grant Catholic priests authority to absolve the sin of abortion, yet no human can absolve another's sin, not even the pope himself. The righteous must address their concerns to the Almighty God. Approach Him now and drop your load of sin at His feet—He will hit the delete key, and it will be as if you never committed those sins. You would need to meet only three conditions: repent, do your best to avoid future sin, and keep forgiving those who wrong you.

“In his letter, Pope Francis formally gave all priests permanent permission to grant absolution to those who confess to having procured an abortion. While many bishops around the world, and almost all bishops in the United States, routinely grant that faculty to all their priests, Pope Francis had made it universal during the Holy Year.”<sup>6</sup>

Addressing the origins of the Trinity further, many ancient societies had philosophical or religious doctrines like the Trinity, where gods came in threes but were at times referred to in triune terms: three-in-one. And we are looking at pagan societies ranging in diversity from Babylon to India. Greece had Zeus, Adonis, and Poseidon;

Egypt had Amun, Re, and Ptah; Phoenicians had Ulosuros, Eliun, and Ulomos; Rome had Pluto, Jupiter, and Neptune; and Sumeria had Ea, Enlil, and Anu.

Athanasius, the most important proponent of the Trinity, was from Egypt; he would have been inclined to think of God in triune terms.

“All things are three, and thrice is all, and let us use this number in the worship of the gods; for as the Pythagoreans say, everything and all things are bounded by threes, for the end, the middle and the beginning have this number in everything, and these compose the number of the Trinity.”

—ARISTOTLE, GREEK PHILOSOPHER (384–322 B.C.)

JESUS CHRIST

The subject of Jesus Christ’s exact nature has perturbed humanity for two millennia. Be it in the eager embrace of his purported coequal status with the Almighty God or the often-bitter assertion that he was merely a righteous man, Christ has arguably been the central figure in humankind’s religiosity, ever since his crucifixion by the Roman Empire authorities, at the behest of Jewish religious leaders.

Almost one year after the Almighty God stirred my soul towards this subject, He completed revealing how He is related to Christ in late February 2017.

Firstly, Christ had one human parent in Mary, but he was miraculously fathered by the Almighty God; he was His begotten son, a direct son. And yet if you refer to Chapter 1, he was not God’s first direct son here on Earth: Adam was. In fact, all human beings are the Almighty God's sons and daughters but via respectively longer lineages. We are all His descendants, as Christ himself implied when he met Mary Magdalene after the resurrection.

<sup>17</sup> Jesus said to her, "Do not cling to me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to my brothers and say to them, 'I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.'"

—JOHN 20 ESV

The difference between Adam and Christ is that the former did not pass the Almighty God's test; he was therefore not anointed with supernatural power. Both, however, were perfect humans, noting that the human body degrades as a lineage extends further from God. That is the reason why Adam lived out an astounding 930 years, probably in near-perfect health.

What is more, our long lineages when coupled with humanity's propensity for sexual sins can mean only a higher possibility of contamination from sub-human species. As if that were not bad enough, across the past two millennia, national borders and religions have carved up Adam's perfect body into impenetrable racial-cultural segregations, bringing about dangerous diseases and abnormally developed human bodies and minds.

THE LOGOS OF THE ALMIGHTY GOD

Chapter 1 verses 1 to 14 of the biblical Book of John ought to have been one of the best scriptures for those seeking to understand the true nature of God. Unfortunately, this scripture has been rendered virtually meaningless through misleading translation, no doubt under the inspiration of Trinitarians, aiming to project Jesus Christ as a self-existent coequal with the Almighty God. The mistranslation regards the Greek word Logos, which most English Bible versions render as the Word; one version adds the title Christ in brackets. As many readers might be aware, the biblical New Testament books were written in Koine Greek, before being translated into English and other languages over the centuries.

Below is a near-literal translation of a portion of this scripture. I have rearranged some of the words; English speakers might otherwise not have understood some of the verses. My analysis, in line with Angel Michael's revelation about Christ's relationship with the Almighty God, follows thereafter.

<sup>1</sup> In beginning was the Logos, and the Logos was with God, and God was the Logos. <sup>2</sup> He was in beginning with God. <sup>3</sup> All things through Him came into being, and without Him came into being not even one thing that has come into being. <sup>4</sup> In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. <sup>5</sup> And the light shines in the darkness, but without overcoming the darkness. <sup>14</sup> And the Logos became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of an only begotten from Father, full of grace and truth.

This is the question I hope to answer: "What is the meaning of the Greek term Logos, as used by St. John in this prologue?"

In Greek philosophy and theology, logos would have been thought of as the 'divine reason implicit in the cosmos, ordering it and giving it form and meaning', according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. That concept was also found in Indian, Egyptian, and Persian philosophical and theological systems, but it is largely absent in Western world thinking. This might explain the genuine challenges translators encountered when rendering it into English and the other affected languages.

The English word logic is derived from the Greek term logos, and the translators could have gone for this rendering for example, as opposed to the Word. The Western world idea of a company logo is also abstracted from logos. But a company logo is not to be equated with the company name; rather, it encompasses the company name, style, philosophy and thinking—indeed, all that a company stands for.

A translator intent on arriving at an unbiased rendering of Logos into English ought to have considered its first century usage in theological writing, and then translated it to the closest English term, or perhaps left it in place as Logos. From the preceding, the term Logos as used by St. John referred to ‘the active mind of the Almighty God’, through which the cosmos was made and continues to be held together in perfect order, despite its never-ending divine renewal.

Where did Jesus Christ’s power emanate from? Did it stem from his self-existent, coequal status with the Almighty God as most Christians believe? No, all power derives undiluted from our Heavenly Father, and He can recall it at will. Christ operated on ‘the active mind of the Almighty God’ only after his anointing, following the temptation in the desert. That is how Logos became flesh.

The Almighty God expressed only certain of His attributes through Christ during his first life on Earth, grace, mercy, healing. From the Spirit of God appearing in the form of a dove at his baptism to often being referred to as the Lamb of God, clearly our Heavenly Father did not intend to project His many other attributes—judgment, governorship, creation—through Christ at that time.

Another fascinating aspect of my revelation regarding Christ is that his post-resurrection appearances were in fact theophany incidents: They were glorious manifestations of the Almighty God in human form. That is the reason why followers of Christ are justified in praying and offering supplication to him; in truth, they are worshipping the Almighty God. His glorious manifestation, in the likeness of Christ, would appear for example in a room even when the doors were locked, and then disappear supernaturally.

<sup>28</sup> As they approached the village to which they were going, Jesus continued on as if he were going farther. <sup>29</sup> But they urged him strongly, “Stay with us, for it is nearly evening; the day is almost over.” So he went in to stay with them. <sup>30</sup> When he was at the table with them, he took bread, gave thanks, broke it and began to give it to them. <sup>31</sup> Then their eyes were opened and they recognized him, and he disappeared from their sight.

—LUKE 24 NIV

The post-resurrection appearances are no different from the earlier theophany incidents; for example, the Almighty God’s visit to Abraham. He also manifested to the Apostle Paul on the road to Damascus and to St. John on the Island of Patmos, in the likeness of Christ. According to Angel Michael, the divine attributes our holy books delineate to Christ, and most of the future heavenly and earthly activities the faithful expect of him, are instead in the hands of the Almighty God. Yet if Lazarus set the standard for resurrection, after Christ raised him four days after his death, Christ’s case went beyond resurrection: Father appeared in his likeness to announce his glorious arrival in Heaven.

To cap it all, was Christ the Almighty God? Was he an uncreated angel with equal authority to God? Was everything created through him? The answer to these questions is no. Christ was merely a direct son of the Almighty God, but who, unlike Adam before him, was anointed with super-human power. Every spirit realm that has transformed into the Almighty God’s cosmic kingdom after defying Him has had to go through a ‘Christ phenomenon’: Spiritually illiterate people will not believe in a being they cannot see and touch.

Christ operated on ‘the active mind of the Almighty God’ for about three years. Through him, God edified and updated humanity on His nature and ways. Further, through Christ’s mouth, our Heavenly Father launched a project by the name of The Kingdom of the Almighty God, but which was thereafter scuttled on two stages:

- ✦ Firstly, when the early church adopted an apocalyptic stance as persecution raged.
- ✦ And later, as the early church was forced underground, giving rise to the pseudo-church, with the resulting spiritual confusion and darkness reverberating to this day.

JESUS CHRIST 2.0

In numerous instances, the Bible quotes Jesus Christ stating that he would return to Earth when no one expects him, like a thief in the night. The scriptures, however, are not clear on what humanity should expect of him upon his return. The Almighty God has now spoken unequivocally through this revelation: Christ is already back on Earth to help Him set up the millennial kingdom.

So that humanity may not suspect that His kingdom is at hand, the Almighty God caused Christ to return via an earthly father. This time round, he was not born as a direct son of God. His body nonetheless is powered by the very same special soul. Anything he attempts will be marked by angel-like success.

Just before retiring to bed on 23 February 2017, I recall withstanding a strong soul vibration. I knew immediately that it was Father visiting me. His angels had been a lot gentler. After the vibration ended, I realised that I knew Christ was back on Earth via a human father. I could hardly believe the message. Like most people, I had thought He would drop down from Heaven as opposed to being born of a woman, once again.

Later that night, Angel Gabriel showed me several vivid but confusing night visions regarding Christ's age, nationality, and personal status. The following is a summary of those visions:

- ✦ Firstly, the angel took me on a tour in the Spirit around South Sudan, Somalia, Eritrea, Ethiopia, and Yemen; he made me believe that Christ was one of the children starving there. He clarified that he could be born among any society in the world. The constant is his soul. I supplicated to God hoping He could lead me to young Christ so I could try to save him. The Almighty God was displeased. "Every child needs to be fed. I'll not mark out Jesus for your special attention," He rebuked me.
- ✦ The angel then showed me one of the USA-based billionaire televangelists in his converted jetliner; it had a gym, a conference hall, bedrooms, a dining hall, and a kitchen. He was headed to a mega-congregation event to preach about the end-times, more so about how he and his followers were going to be taken up by Christ in a phenomenon he called the rapture. While he held a teleconference, trying to confirm everyone was ready for his glorious arrival, he kept looking out into the sky in case Christ dropped down that day. After the teleconference, the angel made me understand that the extravagantly rich televangelist could feed all those starving in Yemen, saving young Jesus in the process. He then asked me, "Joseph, do you think the eye of the needle will expand to admit a camel this size into Father's kingdom? Does he realise that the Jesus he is preaching about in all that lavishness was practically homeless?"

- ✦ Lastly, the angel showed me a vision of young Christ and his mother running away from the USA towards Mexico, across a desert-like landscape, with armed American border guards in hot pursuit. He informed me that they were fleeing from a present-day King Herod. Towards the end of this vision, as Christ and his mother disappeared into Mexico, I heard a faint angelic voice, “He did not fall victim to your one billion abortions.”

About two weeks later, on 8 March 2017, the Almighty God revealed in a nightlong dream that the earlier angelic visions about Christ’s status were meant to illustrate the evil hypocrisy of this world. He then confirmed that Christ was safe, and ready to set up His earthly kingdom. This was the longest dream in the revelation. I woke up several times, but Father immobilised me and sent me back into a uniquely deep spiritual slumber, so He could fully address the subject of Christ’s return.

Among the early messages in the dream, the Almighty God prophesied that religious leaders will reject this revelation, and Christ himself for ‘failing to come’ in the manner prescribed in their 2,000-year-old books. Their stance will mirror that of High Priest Caiaphas, and his group of scribes and elders, during Christ’s first life on Earth. As it happened then, when his questioning of religion led to a painful death, the present-day cultural-religious divisions will trouble him—his doubting of religion will be misconstrued by some as a lack of appreciation of God.

And Father carried on, enlightening me about the returned-Christ, “His current family is not overly religious, in the same way Joseph and Mary were not central players in the religiosity of their time. Christ himself is not religious, though he appreciates the role religions have played during the now-ending spiritual dark age. He is righteous, coherent, and logical, but not dogmatic or indoctrinating. Many Christians around the world will be enormously disappointed.”

Akin to his first life on Earth—the dream showed him dirtying his hands as a builder-in-timber for fifteen years—Christ is living out his life as an everyday man. Our Heavenly Father sovereignly decides what attributes to anoint His servants with, depending on the missions He has decreed for them. This time round, Christ has returned anointed with wisdom and courage as a ruler, but not as a tout for the Truth. In the dream, I saw him govern the kingdom for forty years as a mighty Emperor; though ironically, he was full of grace and humility.

Christ’s work as a healer was one of the great wonders of this dream. He has returned as a healer of a different kind. Because he did not need to touch the sick to heal them, as was the case 2,000 years ago, I witnessed him healing all humans and conquering all diseases.

While he moved to establish the kingdom, I beheld many diseases of the flesh lurking among humankind; for dramatisation, the Almighty God had made them resemble dangerous wild animals, bears, lions, leopards, tigers, warthogs, porcupines, snakes, assorted insects. But by the end of the second emperor’s reign, those ‘animals’ were wailing inside the bottomless pit Christ had dug for them, and Satan had no human flesh to offer them. Their distress was palpable. Then they suddenly realised a truth: Each one of them had edible flesh. As they set about one another, I saw Christ’s face break into a smile in paradise, as kingdom citizens praised him to high heavens for healing their diseases.

In the middle of the dream, the Almighty God ordered angels Michael and Gabriel to organise a fundraising for Christ. I grew anxious when I noticed they were starting the drive from nothing. I felt frustrated, wondering if they would reach the target in time for the establishment of the kingdom. Amidst the fundraiser, Christ moved away, intending to attack the beast, the man of sin. I heard the demons around the beast howling like a million hungry dogs, and I feared for Christ.

And Father reprimanded Christ, “I sent you back to Earth to set up my kingdom and to annihilate poverty and disease from among my suffering creation. Leave the False Christ alone. After he desecrates the targeted USA and global organisations, agreements, systems, imperatives, norms, traditions, and mannerisms, he will not rule the Western Empire for one more day.”

Even though Christ had been carrying out some elementary kingdom activities before A.D. 2020, I was present in the Spirit when the Almighty God handed him a florescent-blue spiritual key featuring this inscription—‘THE 1st KAG EMPEROR: A.D. 2020 to 2060’. He adopted the compound word ‘JesusChrist’ as his written signature after receiving this key. Following that event, I was surprised to see some Western Empire subjects finally acknowledge the Almighty God; before then, they had irreverently referred to Him as ‘nature’ and ‘mother-nature’.

Shortly afterwards, I heard God proclaim, “From today, those occupying political offices around the world without being direct or indirect appointees of the KAG Emperor will face my wrath.” But many leaders did not hear this decree because spiritual illiteracy had overtaken them. And Father resorted to shaking their souls. One European leader was vibrated so violently that he vomited during an ornate worldly state banquet. Even with multitudes demanding that Christ appoints rulers for the kingdom states that had arisen, the corrupt demagogues resisted the takeover, particularly in regard to the collapse of national borders, leading to political upheavals.

But every year the resistance to the Almighty God’s rule persisted, the spiritual influence of His saints multiplied, as they came of age and increased in number. I watched the opposition recede into history books. With steady hands, out-of-this-world wisdom, the unswerving support of the saints and the converts, and the Almighty God's anointment, Christ managed to establish the kingdom. I saw multitudes cheering him on everywhere he went; some had tears rolling down their cheeks. He dismantled the Western Empire and put together an alternative to the Western civilisation—a global, love-based kingdom culture.

The entrenchment of the kingdom set the stage for unparalleled prosperity around the world. The fall of national borders, on its own, led to a tripling of the size of the global economy, despite the chaos the beast had brought to international trade by the end of the Second Epoch. After the death and unceremonious burial of borders, who was going to feed her children—economic sanctions and tariff and non-tariff barriers to trade? Kingdom citizens simply ignored their appeals for help, because they were not allied to love. They wilted and wasted away.

“Joseph, you’ll behold the fruits of your hard work during the kingdom’s silver jubilee celebrations,” the Almighty God decreed towards the end of the dream. But I spiritually wondered if I would live long enough to witness those festivities, so He admonished me, “Why are you doubting my ability to keep you alive into your late seventies? If you’ll not be alive and healthy enough to attend those celebrations, the kingdom will not proceed, because I’d have failed to keep a promise to my prophet.”

After Christ had governed the kingdom for the decreed forty years, the Almighty God invited me to the handover ceremony to King David, a handsome, God-fearing man, one generation younger than Christ. After I settled down for the ceremony, I noticed Angel Michael standing next to me, and he told me, “Joseph, record this in your notebook, ‘Right up to the twenty-fifth, succeeding emperors will be one generation younger than their predecessors.’” King David consolidated the gains made during Christ’s reign, and prosperity became the norm across the entire Earth.

GLOBAL WARMING, CALAMITIES & DEMOGRAPHICS

GLOBAL WARMING

In mid-August 2017, the Almighty God led me to study various reports on climate change, including those by the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC). I comprehended IPCC's work with national governments, as they try to contain the average global temperature rise to 2 degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels. The panel has termed temperature rises beyond this cap as the gateway to catastrophically high global temperatures.

Wondering how life would be in the face of the anticipated cataclysmic global warming, I supplicated to the Lord, desiring to know why the returning saints should put up with a disaster of the magnitude prophesied by IPCC. "Why didn't you send them back at another time?" I pressed Him, believing He had a solution. He edified me in a vivid dream, "Global warming shouldn't be humankind's foremost concern; pollution should be." But I was lost until I grasped His conceptualisation of the term pollution. "You pollute my Earth when you place and leave something where you didn't find it—when you pervert the natural systems into which I've ordered things," He apprised me towards the end of the dream.

According to Him, pollution activities go beyond atmospheric and geo-pollution, to encompass the following:

- ✦ Abusing illicit and legal drugs.
- ✦ Involving oneself in sexual immorality.
- ✦ Unnaturally modifying His creation.
- ✦ Operating one's soul on the spirit of Satan, or Free-will, as opposed to the Spirit of God.

To give practical meaning to the Almighty God's definition of pollution—He formed the earth and its atmosphere to incorporate carbon dioxide, or CO<sub>2</sub>, whose aerial concentration He regulates by His divine plan. He therefore does not regard atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> as pollution. Aerial CO<sub>2</sub> would be a pollutant if maintained in higher than the natural concentration in an enclosed human habitat, but not in open settings.

Neither should it be lost on the reader that the present-day crude oil and gas deposits were once vegetable and animal matter on the surface of the earth. Our anticipation of a sudden rise in atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub>, due to the use of fossil fuels, is anchored on the failure to appreciate that the Almighty God can recreate these fossil fuels back into the forests, grasslands, crops, and animals they once were. What if this is how He intended to defeat desertification while He powers the engines of His kingdom? Would you thwart Him?

Beyond the alarmist talk and outright misinformation about the earth's thermal health, what are the facts? When I posed this question to Him, He replied with a graphic vision, "Humankind is like a man stuck knee-deep in polluting filth and sinking, as he smokes increasingly toxic drugs, barely survives dangerous diseases, and endures serious material and spiritual poverty, while he obsesses merely on how hot it seems to have become lately."

"The 11,000-year temperature reconstruction shows the global average temperature increasing after the end of the last ice age and levelling off between 7550 and 3550 B.C. After that time, global temperatures dropped until the Little Ice Age, bottoming out somewhere between A.D. 1450 and 1850. Afterwards, temperatures rose again; first slowly, then very rapidly."<sup>7</sup>

The Little Ice Age refers to a period roughly between A.D. 1350 and 1900, when temperatures in the Northern Hemisphere, for example, were between 1 and 2 degrees Celsius cooler than at present. During this period, access to Greenland was largely cut off by ice from A.D. 1410 to the 1720s, canals in Holland routinely froze solid, glaciers advanced in the Alps, and sea-ice increased so much that no open water was present in any direction around Iceland in A.D. 1695.<sup>8</sup>

Our arbitrary global-warming benchmark—the pre-industrial period—falls squarely within the Little Ice Age. With the facts at hand, independent-minded people would argue for decidedly higher global temperatures than those prevailing during that period.

And what is this earthshaking quarrel some of our scientists have with carbon dioxide? It is because CO<sub>2</sub> is a greenhouse gas, along with water vapour, methane, nitrous oxide, and ozone. Greenhouse gases absorb radiation from the sun and emit it within the thermal infrared range, thus warming the atmosphere. As the global warming din persists, you would never guess this: The greenhouse effect is crucial to life on Earth; it is in fact its cornerstone. If the earth entirely depended on the sun's direct heating, it would have been a permanent snowball, with an average surface temperature of minus 18 degrees Celsius.

Water vapour contributes at least 50 percent to the greenhouse effect; clouds, 25 percent; and aerial CO<sub>2</sub>, 20 percent. Though atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> levels have risen since the start of the industrial revolution, you would apportion this increase exclusively to the use of fossil fuels only if you are certain that the natural CO<sub>2</sub> cycle—the divine exchange between the oceans, the land biomass, the earth's crust, and the atmosphere—has maintained its balance. Notably, the Almighty God has caused numerous fossil-fuel-free 'catastrophic' warming and cooling throughout the earth's geo-history, leading to mass extinctions and renewals, as He advanced His creation project.

I faced an angry Almighty God on the night of 5 September 2017, “Of humankind’s two premier professions, science and politics, which one would you expect to shame and defund those possessing non-mainstream views? Do you then understand why I’ve outlawed politics in my upcoming kingdom? Why would a worthy scientist receive public funds to research and document a project premised on the untruth that I’m playing no role in climate change? Is it because I’ve not altered the earth’s climate to my liking in the past?”

And He continued, “Tell humanity that I plotted the earth’s climate on a spiritual graph, spanning from the day I placed Adam on Earth to A.D. 3027, when I’ll return Earth to dust, as I contend with the 25th Emperor’s generation for disobeying kingdom laws. You are a warrior race: You fight what you don’t like. But as you fight climate change, it’s me you’re tussling with. Compared to other spirit-driven civilisations around the cosmos, you’re living in a cold space-time; it holds back the transformation of your bodies and minds. I revealed fossil fuels to break the cold snap you’ve nicknamed the Little Ice Age, but like the Israelites in the desert, you desire to return to Egypt.”

My head began to ache because Father’s voice always had a background vibration, but I did not interrupt Him, “Who told your scientists to aim at 2 degrees Celsius above the Little Ice Age temperatures? Can any one of them change the climate in his village, let alone across the entire earth? I gave fossil fuels not only to the land of the beast; but also to Kenya, your mother country; to the Middle East, the land of my servants; and even to Russia, my policeman. I intend to continue redistributing wealth from the Western Empire heartlands—write in the book that I’ll not be frustrated.”

Finally I sensed that the vision was about to end, “Tell the scientists I’m not aiming at 2 but 7 degrees Celsius above the Little Ice Age temperatures. And I’ll hit the target on my own: I don’t need their help. Why didn’t they guess correctly, yet seven has always been humanity’s divine number? If they’re genuinely concerned about those living in the Sahara Desert, I’m preparing to delete your political borders. If their anxiety is about people moving northwards to the colder places, shame on them because I own all that land, from North Pole to South Pole. Regarding the animal and plant victims of the hotter climate, I’ll turn them into crude oil, akin to the fossil fuels they’re complaining about.”

He then concluded, “Should any scientists try to foil my seven-degree target, I’ll send a hurricane to scatter their equipment. And do you understand why humankind is fretting about the climate? It’s because as Second Epoch humans, you live outside. Were you to merit it, I’d ask my angels to assist you to put up five climate-controlled ‘homes’ around the earth, so you may live inside. But as long as you live outside, it’s my duty to manage your climate.”

That interaction with the Almighty God left me wondering why our scientists do not equally contemplate the possibility of catastrophic global cooling. After all, the most-recent off-kilter climate event was the Little Ice Age; it tapered off only 120 years ago. Should we be looking to history even as we try our hands on prophecy? What lessons can we learn from the failed doomsday prophecies of the past few decades—the untimely exhaustion of fossil fuel and metal reserves, truly global famines, a stripped brown Earth, a burning equatorial zone, catastrophic pollution, diminished life expectancy, the Millennium Bug?

The following quote illustrates how IPCC has trivialised a complicated matter, by presenting the world with an oversimplified model regarding the relationship between the melting of polar ice caps and sea level rises. To them, polar ice sheets are melting at a catastrophic rate due to the use of fossil fuels, occasioning unprecedented sea level rises.

“A new NASA study says that an increase in Antarctic snow accumulation that began 10,000 years ago is currently adding enough ice to the continent to outweigh the increased losses from its thinning glaciers. The research challenges the conclusions of other studies, including the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) 2013 report, which says that Antarctica is overall losing land ice. According to the new analysis of satellite data, the Antarctic ice sheet showed a net gain of 112 billion tonnes of ice a year from 1992 to 2001. That net gain slowed to 82 billion tonnes of ice per year between 2003 and 2008.”<sup>9</sup>

The plain truth is that sea levels have been rising for the past 10,000 years. Before they rose considerably, Alaska and the Asian continent were connected: People and animals would have walked back and forth on dry land. Had our military titans Russia and the USA existed then, they would have shared a land border.

Further research by NASA shows sea levels rising an average of about three and a quarter millimetres annually, before accounting for the 2010 and 2011 declines. Given the preceding facts, are we experiencing unprecedented sea level rises, occasioned by catastrophic global warming, because of the use of fossil fuels? No, we are not. Sea level rises have been the norm ever since the Almighty God created Adam at the end of the last ice age, well before the discovery of fossil fuels in A.D. 1859. Almost by definition, an ice age is followed by rising sea levels.

Why do some of our scientists not face up to the entire truth about global warming and sea level rises? Because the main aim of their research is to confirm their paymaster's truth. Were they to compile a report contradicting the Global Liberal Movement's truth, the pain in their pockets would be prompt. They might even be shamed out of their professions.

In the next vision, the Almighty God turned His attention to the climatic conditions at the rural area where I grew up, in Iyego Location, Murang'a County, Kenya, eighty kilometres south of the Equator. Iyego Location comprises two ridges, each about twenty-kilometres long, lying between Murang'a town on the lower-altitude end and Kangema town on the higher-altitude end.

Compared to the late 1970s and early 1980s, the area's climate has transformed: The vegetation cover has increased several-fold. At the higher altitude zones, small-scale farmers must occasionally prune trees and banana stumps so that crops such as corn, beans, tea, and coffee can grow. The formerly barely habitable lower altitude areas are now a bread basket. Some fallowed land parcels are closing into small forests after only a few seasons. Timber is readily available, and water abounds.

As the Almighty God concluded the vision, carrying out an aerial spiritual tour around my village, Angel Michael joined us, "Joseph, look carefully at the homes in your view. Why do you think banana trees always grow healthiest near the homestead?" But I could not think clearly, so he answered the question, "They love the wood fuel smoke from the homestead; they'll do anything to get closer to the source."

I did not apprehend the Almighty God's point until He spurred me to research the phenomenon of greening earth. One study estimated that green vegetation on Earth has increased by 14 percent over the past thirty years, owing to rising atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> levels and the modest global warming. I immediately discerned what had happened in my village.

In a September 2018 report, the USA's National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) noted, "Due to natural variability, volcanic eruptions, and relatively low solar activity, the rate of average global surface warming for the period 1998–2012 was lower than it had been for the two or three decades leading up to it." Does IPCC still need further proof that there is more to climate change than fossil-fuel-caused atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub>? Why has such a report, contemplated together with the phenomenon of a greening earth, not altered IPCC's headline opinion? It is because IPCC is involved in 'political science'. Rather than change course, they are more likely to twist the science behind a greening earth beyond recognition, evicting the phenomenon from the mainstream media.

While this climate change confusion plays out towards a crescendo, in the environment of spiritual foolishness, engineering is coming into view as a means of controlling the earth's climatic conditions. But this is what the Lord says, "Engineer the climate inside your homes and greenhouses to your liking, but trust the outside climate to my wise management." It seems the knowledge His angel referred to in the following scripture, as he apprised Prophet Daniel about the end of the Second Epoch, included misguided carnal-based know-how, as contrasted with Truth-based knowledge.

<sup>4</sup> But you, Daniel, close up these words and seal the book until the time of the end. Many will dash about, and knowledge will increase.

—DANIEL 12 NET

In the final vision about climate change, the Almighty God and His angels were categorical that humans, on their own, cannot change the earth's climate this way or that way. God is in control of Earth's climate happenings, including their extrasolar causes. Besides the climatic conditions in our biosphere, He manages the environment across the cosmos, employing means that are beyond our comprehension.

Yet should He wish to roast terrestrial life to extinction, He is mighty enough to alter the earth's orbit around the sun so that we receive remarkably more intense solar radiation. What holds Him back? How can we be sure that we will be safe from a climate catastrophe during the remaining 1,000 years? Because He gave us an irrevocable climate guarantee in the scripture below.

<sup>22</sup> As long as the earth endures, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night will never cease.

—GENESIS 8 NIV

In summarising the revelation's global warming portion, the Almighty God would like humankind to stop her irreverence and relax. Besides, we cannot alter His divine will. Were the stop-global-warming crusade to succeed in halting humanity's contribution to the atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> reserve, for example, He could still tap into the massive oceanic reserve, as He aims to green the earth and to hit His seven-degree target above pre-industrial temperatures.

We saw in Chapter 1 that the first great ancient civilisations started and thrived during the Climatic Optimum, between 5,000 and 7,000 years ago. Like the arrival of spring, higher global temperatures help plants and animals to regenerate. In a civilisation like ours, where we live in a 'shared nature', such rejuvenation will always result in a larger human population.

For humankind to make up the requisite numbers for His kingdom, the Almighty God stirred the human mind towards crude oil and assisted us to develop the technology needed to extract, refine, and utilise its various products. This led to global temperatures beginning to rise at the end of the Little Ice Age. He knew this would lead to a population explosion, which is the indirect cause of the elevated global temperatures of recent decades.

Expansive irrigation projects, widespread use of fossil fuels, our 300 trillion water-vapour-saturated breaths daily—the activities of a large and thriving population will always cause increased atmospheric water vapour and CO<sub>2</sub>, thus causing global warming. Moreover, to feed our ever-rising population, the sizes of our herds of domestic animals must keep growing. On their own, our one and a half billion cattle produce over 150 billion kilogrammes of methane annually. As a greenhouse gas, methane is thirty times more potent than CO<sub>2</sub>.

Decreasing the world population is the surest carnal means of lowering the average global temperature. Unfortunately for the stop-global-warming crusaders, the Ultimate Cause desires a large population.

The Little Ice Age temperatures the Global Liberal Movement and the allied media are craving, and forcing the entire world to work towards, cannot support a population of eight billion. By this revelation, global temperatures during the early part of the Third Epoch will continue to be higher than those of the Little Ice Age and the gradually warming twentieth century decades that followed. Eventually, the Almighty God will celebrate in Heaven when He achieves the seventh degree above pre-industrial temperatures.

His saints will have the reward He promised them: a better life in every aspect. The dry heat of the Sahara and the frigid cold of the poles will play their decreed roles in the earth's ecosystem, but such badlands will not host the saints' mansions. In a borderless world with fast-merging cultures, non-habitable corners of the globe will simply be vacated.

The Almighty God and His angels hope to see the notable individuals and interest groups that have arisen out of this stop-global-warming cause turning their energies to the real problem: pollution. In contrast to global warming, pollution as He has defined it has the potential to bring the earth to its knees, and to cause the eventual extinction of terrestrial life.

Believing that we can set and manage global climate, and save some randomly selected animals from extinction, is the closest the Western Empire has brought humanity to thinking she can play God. Had the sub-human creatures before us stopped His carefully executed mass extinctions, humankind would not have become a reality.

THE REAL CRISIS: POLLUTION

“You pollute my Earth when you place and leave something where you didn’t find it—when you pervert the natural systems into which I’ve ordered things.”

The starkest difference between pollution on the one hand and global warming and cooling is that the earth has been tested against the latter throughout its existence, for billions of years, and it is still standing strong. Pollution, by contrast, is a recent human disease, dating back a few thousand years. For practical purposes, the roots of this cancer are traceable only to the beginning of the industrial revolution.

Before the Almighty God and His angels favoured humanity with this revelation, we would not have known how the more-advanced cosmic civilisations live, and how they have cured their pollution diseases. From what I saw as they took me on a spiritual tour around the cosmos, pollution sets apart the godly from the cursed, the beings He has given up with, those carelessly whiling away their final cosmic years as He prepares to stage apocalypse upon them.

The spirit-driven beings He has enabled to travel the cosmos, be they cosmic angels or those closer to us in spiritual and technological development, do not pollute. Were they to visit Earth and set up a crude oil refinery, the project's greatest budget item would probably be entered as 'zero-pollution assurance'. Nothing would end up where they did not find it, even if that means returning some of the refinery's by-products right back into the earth's bosom.

I witnessed at least thirty civilisations, excluding the six paradises, where the planets have two natures. Undoubtedly, the domesticated nature affords the beings in those advanced civilisations creature comforts that are beyond human imagination. But geo-pollution's vanquishment appears to be the Almighty God's motivation for setting up these fully autonomous mega-cities: The undomesticated nature carries on as though the spirit-driven beings were not inhabiting the same planet. The closest dual-nature civilisation is at a star complex neighbouring our solar system.

On the contrary, humankind will continue to live in a 'shared nature' for the next 1,000 years; where as you throw plastic bags into rivers entrapping fish larvae, fry, and fingerlings, you inadvertently ensnare yourself; where the carnal modification of a single plant reverberates across the Almighty God's entire creation; and where wild flora and fauna become the unintended victims of our farming practices.

Let us analogise the Almighty God's definition of pollution by contemplating the human body's perfect order. When the littlest aspect of this divine system goes out of kilter, we perceive it as spiritual or bodily illness. For illustration, food is essential for our lives, but were it to break through the alimentary canal and mix up with blood, we would be looking at a medical emergency. Appreciating this, no one in their right mind puts poop into their mouth, as it does not belong there. Yet we treat our only home like this daily.

GEO-POLLUTION

Pollution of the land, rivers, lakes, oceans, and the atmosphere is of great consequence globally. Surprisingly, it has not attracted as much attention as global warming. The Western Empire leadership, the preeminent owners of the global agenda, seem to assume that pollution involving solid waste, effluent, and air-bound particulates can be contained in localised habitats. This is unlike global warming since it involves gases, which will always end up mixing uniformly around the globe.

And hence the lack of global political will towards tackling real pollution, while global warming attracts multitudes of scientists, entertainment celebrities, and political leaders. Even if aerial CO<sub>2</sub> were to turn all deserts into forests, these forces and their allied media outlets would ignore such ‘inconveniencing truth’ and carry on as if it did not happen.

Meanwhile, World Health Organization statistics show that in 2012, seven million people died as a result of air pollution exposure, representing one in eight deaths globally. And according to The Lancet, polluted air, water, and soil caused nine million premature deaths in 2015—three times more than malaria, AIDS, and tuberculosis put together. Pollution precipitated fifteen times more deaths than wars and other forms of violence.

While pollution impacts the local population the most, its effects can be felt far and wide. Some pollutants get washed into rivers and eventually spread out across the seas. And even if pollution did not affect everyone, the Almighty God expects those who can tackle it—via funding, volunteering in cleanups, educating the masses, offering leadership—to do it out of their love for humanity and the rest of His creation.

In case you are wondering, it is a sin of omission to ignore pollution, while it is being perpetuated by others. There are times you could not please God if you did not show righteous courage when it mattered.

Instead of addressing our geo-pollution problem, we have taken our seemingly incurable disease beyond the earth. And Father and the angels are watching us in dismay.

GMO POLLUTION

Genetically modified organisms, or GMOs, are formerly naturally occurring organisms whose genetic makeup our scientists have modified, attempting to ‘perfect’ the Almighty God’s creation.

Outside the zone of spiritual illiteracy, it is clear that attempted creation by humans can lead to challenges of apocalyptic proportions. It is not a coincidence that the Almighty God is ending the Second Epoch when such schemes are at their present stage of development, and not later. The saints in His kingdom will read about GMOs and unnatural hybrid plants in history books. Their plants will have seeds that He can germinate without the aid of humans, as He decreed in the scripture below.

<sup>29</sup> Then God said, “I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food.”

—GENESIS 1 NIV

Despite denials by their proponents, it has been found that GMOs are responsible for killing off bees, bats, butterflies, and other pollinators, whose bodies cannot handle the onslaught of altered DNA and the chemicals associated with GMO technologies. As should have been expected, the weeds and pests targeted by GMO technologies have since mutated and developed resistance to crop chemicals and Bt toxin. Pestilence and disease are on the rise as a result, and this could be disastrous for human food supply.<sup>10</sup>

Bt toxin is a protein that is produced by the soil bacterium Bacillus thuringiensis. It is toxic to chewing insects, making it a naturally occurring biological pesticide. Using genetic engineering, the genes for Bt toxin can be isolated from Bacillus thuringiensis and transferred to plants to fend off pests.

No scientist, however, can starve and kill off the Almighty God's creation with impunity. Depending on the role such chewing insects play in an ecosystem, He can modify them so that Bt toxin no longer affects them, making them even more dangerous to crops. Moreover, the crop harvested from a plant whose genetic makeup has thus been modified must be classified as a pesticide.

At one point, Angel Michael got exasperated when I could not comprehend this subject quickly enough. In the end, he had to dictate this summary: "The Almighty God possesses a detailed master plan for Earth's biodiversity. But instead of standing by and marveling at her Creator as He actualises His master plan, humankind has been implementing her own satanic biodiversity plan on the side, which if allowed to proceed to its logical conclusion would cause the total collapse of Earth's ecosystems."

Apart from geo-pollution, we interfere with the Almighty God's biodiversity plan through our attempts at designing plants, many of which end up seedless or produce sterile seeds. The final plant group in our creation produces seeds that could not grow into identical plants if He germinated them.

By way of analogy—suppose the Almighty God were to allow homosexuality to become so widespread that it spurs our scientists towards cloning as a means of human reproduction. This would have profoundly negative effects, and the human race would not proceed to its decreed Fourth Epoch maturity. Likewise, He cannot actualise His biodiversity master plan if we continue to interact with plants which do not produce healthy seeds.

Because a wild banana has many hard seeds, making it difficult to eat, the case of our ubiquitous seedless banana is notable. What palatable fruit could the Almighty God turn the seeded wild banana into? Without human interference, He would probably have turned it into an entirely different wonder fruit. In the absence of defiant humans in the Third Epoch, He will multiply the variety of fruits, vegetables, and other foodstuffs, and they will all have healthy seeds.

Deep into the Third Epoch, He will at last complete His biodiversity master plan for the earth, aided in no small part by the warmer climate and the higher concentration of atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub>. Kingdom citizens will behold the earth's biodiversity and its overall health with appreciation; it will have recovered and achieved its divinely decreed ultimate state. In that state, He will have managed all crop diseases and pests—according to Him, they are a manifestation of our failing and ailing ecosystems, and the diminished biodiversity.

CALAMITIES

WHAT ARE NATURAL CALAMITIES?

Across the cosmos, there is no common answer to this question.

Unlike cosmozens, the Almighty God never rests. Were His simplest activities—for example the watering of one of His large forests—to find you unprepared, you would always regard them as natural disasters. Yet the level of preparedness differs widely across the countless cosmic civilisations. Among those significantly behind us in spiritual, socioeconomic, and technological development; dangerous wild animals and the lack of readily gatherable roots, leaves, and wild fruits are considered serious disasters. On the other end of the scale, the cosmic angels in the six paradises have conquered every activity that could ever have fitted the definition of a natural disaster. In fact, under God's instructions, they can punish the defiant less-spiritually aware cosmozens with natural calamities.

To illustrate this lack of common appreciation of natural disasters—If circumstances forced you to live in an ill-designed building in an earthquake prone area, the next minor tremor might be your last natural disaster. Because the Almighty God has decreed earthly pre-eminence for the human race, we present mortal danger to the animals we come across. If sudden desert rains were to find a remote village at the bottom of a valley, its inhabitants would be facing a disaster of apocalyptic proportions. And in the least-developed countries, bringing forth life is a life-and-death affair for many women.

Sometime in late-December 2018, Angel Gabriel appeared in a dream and showed me two villages that had been kept apart by a large river. He made me live in one of the communities for a long time, even though my village mates were not human. The villages were in another world. The angel urged me to swim across to the village on the other side on numerous occasions when the river was not swollen. It was during one such visit when I noticed something interesting: Subtly different dialects were developing among the two sets of villagers, more so regarding word choice and pronunciation.

Then in a stormy event, the Almighty God caused a large tree to fall, spanning its trunk across the river. The villagers then descended upon the tree and shaped it into a usable foot bridge. I watched with glee as the conquered river turned from foe to friend. Standing on the bridge, the villagers could now appreciate the river's majesty and beauty. It was no longer the dangerous boundary it had been for decades.

At any moment, our Heavenly Father is busy at work wherever He has materialised His spiritual energy, but His work can pose a serious threat to cosmozens. Fortunately, He is constantly improving the circumstances of His faithful servants, enabling them to withstand His work. Had we received enough of His blessings, humanity would no longer be enduring death and destruction in the face of natural disasters; such carnage is in fact a punishment for our sins. For example, no one will feel inclined to live in an earthquake-prone area awaiting the destruction of their property and perhaps their untimely death, once His borderless kingdom becomes a reality.

DOES GOD PUNISH THROUGH NATURAL CALAMITIES?

<sup>13</sup> When I shut up the [sky] so that there is no rain, or command the locust to devour the land, or send pestilence among my people, <sup>14</sup>if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from Heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land.

—2 CHRONICLES 7 ESV

The Almighty God stands by as unrighteous races are inconvenienced, endangered, and annihilated by His work around the cosmos. Further, He revealed on 14 August 2016 that He separately causes and abets disasters as punishment for specific sins and iniquity. Nonetheless, many are the calamities He stops, but no one thanks Him. In one vision, I saw His active Spirit holding together the earth to stop it from ‘belching’. An apocalyptic earthquake would have resulted if that ‘belch’ had taken place. On that day, I understood that the earth is materialised spirit. When beheld in the Spirit, it is merely more concentrated spirit than the surrounding space.

Mostly, we are unprepared to hear the Truth and learn the ways of the Lord. Multitudes still believe that He will punish us for our sins only after we die, and that the problems we encounter here on Earth are exclusively caused by Satan. He now wants to edify humanity that His punishment for our sins and iniquity started after the original sin; it will persist until the death of wilful sin.

According to the Bible, “God forms light and creates darkness; He makes peace and creates evil.” This does not mean He is unrighteous or evil, but rather that He brings about difficult circumstances to His creation for His divine discipline. Through Prophet Haggai in the following scripture, He reports having called a drought upon the land of Israel when the people neglected to rebuild His Temple, after their return from exile in Babylon.

<sup>9</sup> “You looked for much, but indeed it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?” says the LORD of hosts. “Because of my house that is in ruins, while every one of you runs to his own house. <sup>10</sup> Therefore, the [skies] above you withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit. <sup>11</sup> For I called for a drought on the land and the mountains, on the grain and the new wine and the oil, on whatever the ground brings forth, on men and livestock, and on all the labor of your hands.”

—HAGGAI I NKJV

NATURAL CALAMITIES: QUANTIFYING THE LOSSES

The Almighty God can stop any calamity, including the human-propagated ones. Without a doubt therefore, He caused or abetted the 22,600 fires per year that were started by lightning in the USA between 2007 and 2011. These fires resulted in an average of nine civilian deaths, fifty-three civilian injuries, and US$451 million in direct property damage per year.<sup>11</sup> He also presided over California's deadliest and most destructive wildfire season: In 2018, over 8,500 fires burnt through two million acres, damaging property worth more than US$3.5 billion and killing over one hundred people.

According to the UN Office for Disaster Risk Reduction, natural disasters cost the world an estimated US$2.5 trillion from the beginning of the century to mid-2013, a period of thirteen and a half years. Ignorant of the Almighty God's ways, we see such colossal financial losses as deriving merely from nature-based misfortunes. While we will always do our level best to mitigate the loss of life and property damage, hardly does anyone take the time to ponder this question: "Could our relationship with the Ultimate Cause have anything to do with our deteriorating situation?"

Humankind needs to hear and apprehend the Almighty God's message: "I cause natural and what you call man-made calamities because you've defied me; I abet many others by refusing to override my cosmic rules and by neglecting to arrest the purveyors of evil before they strike. Not a single human turned to me and repented of their sins after the century-ushering natural disasters?"

Must extreme weather events, fires, and earthquakes become weekly sources of terror before we could acknowledge our Creator?

THE HIV/AIDS EPIDEMIC

“Since the beginning of the epidemic, more than 70 million people have been infected with HIV and about 35 million have died of AIDS. Globally, 36.9 million people were living with HIV at the end of 2017. An estimated 0.8 percent of adults aged 15–49 years are living with HIV, although the burden of the epidemic continues to vary considerably between countries and regions. The WHO African Region remains most severely affected, with nearly 1 in every 25 adults (4.1 percent) living with HIV, accounting for nearly two-thirds of the people living with HIV worldwide.”<sup>12</sup>

Sometime in early August 2016, the question of the spiritual significance of the HIV/AIDS epidemic seized my soul. I grew up in a region which has been ravaged by this scourge. In some areas of Uganda and Western Kenya, it virtually wiped out a generation around the turn of the century. Today, an estimated 27 percent of Swaziland’s population between the ages of fifteen and forty-nine is living with HIV—80 percent of those are co-infected with tuberculosis.

By mid-August 2016, I had understood the cause of the turbulence in my soul: Father had engaged me in a spiritual discussion on this subject. While I persisted in prayer, I kept imagining that the epidemic might be His punishment for our sexual iniquity. I was therefore unprepared for His message, which came via spiritual vibration, “I decreed the HIV/AIDS curse to save humanity.” I did not grasp His message until He showed me how HIV/AIDS stopped the advent of more dangerous diseases, related to the casual treatment of Sexually Transmitted Diseases, or STDs.

Apparently, He noticed a disturbing trend with the sexual liberty of the 1970s and 1980s and allowed the spread of HIV, forcing multitudes to rethink their immoral ways. He always takes sexual sins seriously. As we saw in Chapter 1, with the contamination of the First Epoch humans, there can be unseen dangers relating to sexual sins, which have the potential to put humankind at an unmanageably great risk.

Incredibly dangerous and untreatable superbugs would have evolved: This liberal attitude to sex had been accompanied by the widespread misuse of antibiotics in the (secretive) treatment of STDs.

Taking the USA as a case study—before 1960, there were only two significant STDs, syphilis and gonorrhoea. Both were treatable with antibiotics. Then from 1976, chlamydia appeared in increasing numbers and was the most common STD in the country in 1993. By 1990, penicillin-resistant strains of gonorrhoea were present in all fifty states. And as of 1993, syphilis prevalence was at a forty-year high, and pelvic inflammatory disease, usually caused by gonorrhoea or chlamydia, was affecting one million new women each year.<sup>13</sup>

Nevertheless, the most likely scenario is that the sexually transmitted superbugs would have ‘germinated’ and taken root across the poorer countries around the globe, such as those bearing the brunt of the HIV/AIDS epidemic. The superbugs would then have spread their flesh-eating rapaciousness northwards.

Has our Heavenly Father succeeded in saving humanity? Have we changed our collective attitude to sex? Looking at the figures for all STDs from around the world, my conclusion is that we have changed our outlook just enough to save humanity. But in the eyes of a perfect God, we still fall far below the mark.

Of special note is the widespread use of condoms; we mock the Almighty God as we press ahead with our detestable behaviour, presupposing that we are safe. But we cannot be secure as He has not extracted from us what He targeted in the first place: the complete turning away from sexual iniquity. Besides, condoms are not impregnable. When used correctly, their average failure rate against STD transmission ranges from 15 percent for HIV, 60 percent for genital herpes, to almost 100 percent for human papilloma virus, or HPV.

<sup>18</sup> Flee sexual immorality! Every sin a person commits is outside of the body—but the immoral person sins against his own body.

DANGER FROM OUTER SPACE

On 19 March 2017, the Almighty God disturbed my night and transferred me into some heavy spiritual sleep. As I struggled to focus my eyes on spirit matter, He asked me, “Joseph, what’s space exploration?” I wondered why He would ask me such a simple question, but before I could open my mouth, He guided me to the answer, “Human space exploration is this epoch’s second Tower of Babel, and it’ll get nowhere in the remaining period. Aren’t you surprised that Second Epoch humans believe they can conquer my universe using visible light, and with electricity powering their muscles?”

During that phase of the revelation, I was anguished over the danger humankind faces from outer space. I therefore felt my soul settling when He addressed this subject, “The universe is vast, like many universes lumped together. The matter within it ranges from my spirit materials, raw energy, tangible matter that I only recently formed from energy, to planets that are billions of earth-years older than your home. Life within the universe varies from the simplest bacteria to cosmic angels, whose bones I’ve made as strong as steel. And then there’s the high intelligence residing in the spirit angels, my ever-present companions.”

And He carried on, “To satisfy your curiosity, the danger humanity faces from outer space is robust and omnipresent; it’s universal, so to speak. While I can break off a celestial body from the divine system and send it that way, the likelier danger is a swirl of raw energy or a powerful spiritual wave reaching Earth. No life would survive. But I’m holding my creation together. Nothing falls off my hand unless I intentionally wiggle a finger. Other races may wish to attack you, but I’ve equipped the cosmic angels to protect you. Yet I can ask the angels themselves to annihilate life on Earth. Therefore, the greatest danger you face from outer space is the satanic defiance in your souls. It can elicit my reaction in the twinkling of an eye.”

When this night vision ended, I realised that the man on the street could not comprehend the hazards we face from outer space unless he grasped the sheer enormity of the cosmos.

We have sought to discover the cosmos throughout our 10,000 years of existence. Even before then, our sub-human relatives often marvelled at the sky. We are a truly bizarre race: We ignore the Creator but fervently inquire into His creation. And how far are we with our carnal discovery of the cosmos? Can we now define it? No, without God providing the answers, it is impossible to wrap our minds around the cosmos. Just like He is beyond our comprehension, His creation will always lie outside the mental grasp of Second Epoch humans.

For illustration—astronomers currently estimate that our galaxy, the Milky Way, has between 100 and 400 billion stars that are somewhat like our sun. Notice that even regarding our galaxy, the number of ‘suns’ remains a wild guesstimate.

All right then, how many galaxies are there in the observable cosmos? Well, they used to be 100 billion, then they ‘increased’ to 200 billion, before appearing to be 500 billion for a brief period. The latest conjecture places this figure at two trillion. And where is that figure headed as soon as we come up with better computers and telescopes? Besides, because the Almighty God is forever killing celestial bodies and forming others, we are aiming at a target that is pressing forward in every conceivable direction, as it modifies its form.

Having appreciated humanity's present understanding of the cosmos, I sought the Almighty God's knowledge through prayer for about two weeks. But when He returned in a dream in early April 2017, He reminded me that I am a Second Epoch human, like every other earthling. I knew what He meant: I could not apprehend however He approached the subject. But then I noticed that He was standing like an incredibly great human figure and casting His sight upon the entire cosmos. Upon waking up, I asked myself these questions:

- ✦ Did a human being appear to Him like a sugar ant? No.
- ✦ Did the earth appear to Him like a sugar ant? No.
- ✦ Did our solar system, incorporating the sun and the nine planets, appear to Him like a sugar ant? No.
- ✦ Did our galaxy, the Milky Way, with its 400 billion 'suns', appear to Him like a sugar ant? No—considering that there are many trillions of galaxies, with remarkably large spaces between them, on its own, ours would have been invisible to His unaided eye.

Does a sugar ant doubt your ability to vary its climate as you wish? No—it appreciates that if you placed the sugar outside the house during winter, it would freeze as it fetches its dinner; if you placed the sugar on the stove, it would enjoy its lunch in the context of catastrophic 'global warming'. It is always careful not to stand in your way: Your mighty boot would smash it into nothingness. Similarly, the Almighty God is crushing us with calamities as He walks about His cosmos, since we will not acknowledge Him and obey His orders.

What if He had sneezed as He gazed and admired His creation? Despite our irreverence, He is considerate enough not to do anything that would send galaxies crashing into each other Ping-Pong style.

How can a being this mighty establish a loving and intimate bond with a five-year-old girl in an Indonesian village? Because He possesses unspeakable and unfathomable divine love.

Days later, He returned in a vivid dream and tried to show me the entire cosmos, but I kept waking up from shock. What I managed to see is how insignificant our observable universe is. At the outer bands of the universe, I discerned astonishingly large, countless swirling circles of distilled energy, radiating the glory of God. When He superimposed our galaxy on one of these circles, it was like a speck of dust in an ocean. He could see how little I felt at that moment, so He comforted me, “Joseph, one righteous cosmozen is more valuable than a full galaxy. I will crush every galaxy I have formed, but the soul of a virtuous cosmozen will never die.”

Just before the dream ended, He asked me, “Do you now understand why visible light as a means of ‘seeing’ my cosmos is a non-starter? When an astronomer’s telescope takes aim at a star, forty billion light-years away, the light he’ll see will be the brightness the star gave off forty billion years ago, even though the star may no longer exist.”

When did our astronomers come closest to appreciating the Almighty God? It is when He revealed to them the mighty spiritual forces and bonds He uses to keep the cosmos expanding and to renew and retain stars within their galactic orbits. But since these phenomena run afoul of Newton's law of gravity, they showed reverence to their departed 'saint' instead of finally acknowledging God. They therefore referred to His engineering as dark energy, dark matter, and black holes. For the sake of clarity, all darkness rests upon our astronomers, and all light emanates from our Heavenly Father.

THE APOCALYPSE: EARTH'S LAST CALAMITY

On 3 November 2017, the Almighty God showed me how He will finally end wilful human sin. In a vivid dream, He took me in the Spirit to the final years of His reign on Earth. Most of the returning saints had already left for paradise; their pacifying influence was conspicuously missing. I witnessed unrighteousness multiplying and violence spreading across the cities. The remaining righteous people faced insurmountable challenges as they tried to keep The Kingdom of the Almighty God in functioning order.

I saw some sad citizens reading about the glorious beginnings of the kingdom with admiration, especially Jesus Christ's forty-year reign. Others beseeched the Almighty God to bring back the second emperor, the flamboyant but God-fearing King David. But the trap was inescapable; the effects of human souls rediscovering Free-will, the corrupting satanic spirit, had overwhelmed humankind. After A.D. 3020, the most defiant among them were trying to form democratic governments along the lines of the sociopolitical setup of the Western Empire, while collectively scoffing at this revelation.

The Almighty God was disgusted. He did not speak to me because anger had consumed Him. Seven years after A.D. 3020, through a phenomenal cataclysmic event, I watched in disbelief as He broke up the earth into numberless, lava-dripping, fiery pieces, thus annihilating earthly life. This happened during the reign of the 25th Emperor. After a long time, He gathered the disparate pieces and reconstructed the earth. He then sanctified it of its former human sin and allowed it to stand. It hosted life for the second time.

DEMOGRAPHICS

CONTRACEPTION

Sometime in late July 2016, my soul was anguished over whether contraception is sinful.

After praying for about a week, Angel Gabriel edified me in a dream, “The unrighteous sow their wild oats but hope for a crop failure; whenever they turn to artificial contraception, they sin. On the other hand, the righteous may engage in contraception, but the Almighty God would judge if this is sinful depending on their intention. Just to be clear, I’m talking about the stoppage of conception. To Father, abortion is murder regardless of its circumstances.”

On the issue of intention, we need to be cautioned that you cannot lie to God: He reads your soul directly. The following three scenarios illustrate when righteous people may resort to either natural or artificial contraception:

- ✦ A couple that is already blessed with children might be unable to raise more.
- ✦ Depending on their circumstances, a husband and his wife might decide to adopt, say orphaned children, as opposed to having their own.
- ✦ A righteous couple might find themselves in a better position to serve the Lord without the demands their own children would place upon them.

Unsurprisingly, no cosmozen can be born to whom the Almighty God has not decreed to give life. To this end, He can decree barrenness upon a couple or affect their minds to turn to contraceptives. It is this strange—you could be walking around expressing strong views against parenthood, yet He would have planted that spirit in your soul. He has also been cursing individuals into homosexuality to ensure their fruit will not populate His kingdom. The stakes are especially high now that His saints are returning; they must be raised in upright families. Can Christ be brought up in a chaotic, immoral, marijuana-fuelled family?

It is apparent that the Almighty God undertakes divine contraception as He executes His demographic plan for humanity. A casual look at global demographic trends in 2016 shows population decline affecting over twenty countries, while another seven faced long-term population decline. The population of Western Europe would be shrinking were it not for immigration. But the population of continental Europe as a whole, including Russia and other non-EU countries, has been declining since 2004.

KINGDOM DEMOGRAPHICS

When Heaven inaugurates The Kingdom of the Almighty God in A.D. 2020, the world population will look like it always did during the closing stages of the Second Epoch. But a sprinkling of this population will be saints who lived righteously in the past, the most notable being Jesus Christ. They will imbue the world with righteousness and non-violence.

Over time, these saints and the multitudes of converts will outnumber and outmanoeuvre those maintaining a defiant stance towards God. Most living humans will be saints of the Most High by the time the kingdom is securely established. Our Heavenly Father will bless His beloved saints richly. Lifespans will increase throughout the Third Epoch, culminating in the ultimate saints living forever during the Fourth Epoch.

MIGRATION

I heard terrifying sounds on three occasions while I slept on 7 June 2018. In a panic, I sought the Almighty God through prayer and petitioned Angel Michael, as I tried to figure out the uproar. The angel reminded me that I had stopped writing this book owing to mental exhaustion; Father was furious. Around that time, the beast was separating immigrant adults from their children along the USA-Mexico border. As God answered my prayer in a vision, He reminded me how I had fretted after He hid my daughter in a shopping mall for a mere thirty minutes.

Towards the end of the vision, He took me to the USA-Mexico border and showed me some of the separated children, constrained in cages akin to zoo animals, while the beast's children and grandchildren lived off the fat of the land. I saw the junior angels He had sent to the border to help His children and their earthly parents; though invisible to those hapless children, they wept alongside them. I listened in on one of the angel's prayers, "Father, for how long must the man of sin persist before you meet him? May you separate him and his children into different chambers of Hell."

Two years earlier, in late July 2016, the Almighty God had caused me to pay attention to the speech of some five men as they window shopped in a mall—they spoke Mandarin Chinese. Suddenly, He communicated via spiritual vibration, "I'll release all my blessings to the upcoming kingdom states only when they open their doors to workers, refugees, and immigrants from every corner of the globe."

While I sat on a bench waiting for the effects of the spiritual vibration to subside, He struck again, “I’m not the Lord of borders, barriers, and walls. Soon I’ll bring down all barriers, from international steel barricades to village hedges. They’re the main hindrances to my will being done on Earth. They cancel out my love, as the unrighteous lock out others, determined to maintain their perceived privileged existence.”

In the so-called developing countries, anxieties over mass migration from other continents are anchored on the fear of a second round of colonialism. Curiously, the equally consequential cultural-economic colonisation is tolerated and sometimes celebrated. The truth is—many societies around the world cannot govern themselves.

The business of governance is daunting, even under the best of circumstances. With their eyes trained on official corruption and other forms of state thievery, many Third World leaders cannot successfully implement the simplest state project. They thrive in chaos and misery and would therefore not welcome small but transformative projects such as the staggering of work and school shifts, the assignment of street addresses, or the commissioning of publicly owned transit. The Almighty God is preparing to colonise you forever. Through Jesus Christ, He will impose upon you His chosen righteous leaders from anywhere in the world.

He is about to smash to pieces all human governments, along with their numerous vices. To suit His divine plans, He is constantly varying circumstances on Earth, calamity patterns, vegetation cover, climate, sea levels, patterns of socioeconomic development. He expects demographic changes to follow suit so that humankind can share His blessings as a unified race.

As a direct consequence of the collapse of national borders in The Kingdom of the Almighty God, people will live wherever they choose, without fear of racial-political and religious exclusion. After the middle of the epoch, all humans will belong to one race; they will look like Adam and Eve in my revelation, or like the soon-to-be-revealed returned-Christ. The world will have one common language and a uniform spirit-led culture, with minimal variations across its regions. Every saint will know and love the Almighty God; in turn, He will bless humanity with paradise-like prosperity and happiness.

THE THIRD EPOCH

“When we arrived in present-day India, He requested me to record carefully what I saw. Like the USA, India no longer existed as a political entity. Instead, numerous administrative units had arisen out of her; they functioned as non-political states within the global kingdom. And they had achieved a miraculous transformation. Their cities glittered with the glory of God. Then I noticed something odd: Vehicles drove on the right-hand side of the road. “It is not just in these states,” the Almighty God apprised me, “All traffic in my kingdom is driving on the right. When we arrive in Britain, you will confirm for yourself.”

INTERPRETING GOD'S PROPHETIC MESSAGES

As I observed in the Preface, the prophecies the Almighty God renders through His prophets are largely unfathomable, even when their fulfilment is underway. In our present cultural-religious set-up, such discernment is made virtually impossible by the prevalent spiritual illiteracy. For this reason, only He can point out and explain the fulfilment of prophecy, through a contemporary messenger.

Besides our lack of spiritual knowledge, we are ordinarily so busy in the forest, focussed on our daily chores, that we lack the opportunity for a bird's eye view onto the entire forest. Additionally, many people expect the fulfilment of prophecies to be remarkably spectacular happenings which would probably not occur during their lifetimes. Not to mention that the widespread unbelief among large swathes of the population will always imbue incredulity, even when the chosen messenger draws attention to the coming to pass of prophecies.

On the spiritual level, there are times when the Almighty God chooses to play His cards close to His chest. Yet we find ourselves living in no ordinary times: He has decreed the end of one epoch and the establishment of the next. Maybe He planned that people should not have prior understanding of His prophecies, so they may continue to believe by faith and not through overt carnal knowledge. And why wouldn't He want to surprise His often-defiant earthly creation?

UNDERSTANDING ST. JOHN'S REVELATION WOES

Many readers are familiar with the revelation the Almighty God gave St. John during his banishment by the Roman Empire authorities, in the then Greek island of Patmos. Further, the misguided and non-biblical belief that the woes spelt out in that revelation will all occur within a future seven-year period is widespread. But those afflictions began taking place a long time ago.

For instance, the first-recorded woe, in line with the scripture below, refers to the Early Muslim Conquests, which took place between A.D. 622 and 750.

—REVELATION 6 NLT

Dogmatically, most bible scholars hive off the final seven years of the so-called ‘seventy weeks of Daniel’, professing that these ‘remaining’ seven years will fall at some indefinite end-of-times future, after an indeterminate ‘prophetic gap’. They then escalate their dogma by preaching that all of St. John’s woes will occur within these future seven years, further christening that period the Tribulation.

But according to Angel Gabriel, the ‘seventy weeks of Daniel’ represent an unbroken 490-year-long prophetic period, starting with the command to rebuild Jerusalem at the end of Israel’s Babylonian captivity. The period ended soon after Jesus Christ’s resurrection. The angel himself divulged this prophecy to Daniel.

It is noteworthy that the afflictions have not been occurring in the same order as presented in the biblical Book of Revelation, nor do they last for a specific length of time. Some of the woes occurred recently: The black horse in the following scripture is just receding, after starting and conducting several wars. This ‘horse’, a fraternity of malevolent spirits, staged its wars so that they resulted in serious famines.

<sup>5</sup> Then when the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, "Come!" So I looked, and here came a black horse! The one who rode it had a balance scale in his hand. <sup>6</sup> Then I heard something like a voice from among the four living creatures saying, "A quart of wheat will cost a day's pay and three quarts of barley will cost a day's pay. But do not damage the olive oil and the wine!"

—REVELATION 6 NET

During the early part of my revelation, and for the first time in living memory, four devastating famines were taking place concurrently in Yemen, Somalia, South Sudan, and Nigeria, placing over twenty million people at the risk of starvation. These famines were not only caused by wars, but the very same wars made it nearly impossible for aid to reach the affected populations. On numerous occasions, South Sudanese rebel forces stopped aid reaching their starving opponents, itself an evil tool of war.

The black horse was dispatched with clear instructions on how to balance the cost of foodstuffs on its provided balance scale. Yet some of the starving in the four countries lay scattered on patchy, sun-baked, desert-like landscapes awaiting a slow death from starvation and dehydration, but all the while hoping for a quicker demise from the activities of war. They had long forgotten about peacetime luxuries like the day's pay mentioned in the scripture.

In the case of Syria, the black horse obeyed its sender by not harming olive oil and wine. Notwithstanding, this is one of the most shocking wars in recent history. By the end of 2017, almost 500,000 Syrians had lost their lives, most of the population had fled their homes, and death and injury had affected over twelve percent of the populace.

“Syria forecasts an output of 215,000 tonnes in 2015, more than doubling the previous year’s, placing the war-ravaged country well ahead of Turkey, Tunisia, and Morocco in terms of olive oil production. Syria will be the fourth largest olive oil producer in the world.”<sup>14</sup>

Save for the limited geographical scope, the Syrian war, at its height, had the buzz of a world war. Sixteen countries were involved, while the engaged non-state actors recruited fighters on a global scale.

Regarding the war in South Sudan, the Almighty God showed me a terrifying vision of a child suckling the breast of her dead mother, under a tree, as vultures waited on the upper branches. The vultures shed tears at the child’s innocence. When I later saw the child stand up and open her mouth so that those tears could assuage her dehydration, shock and sadness gripped my soul like a vice. I wished I could rescue her. He then showed me a scene where a Somali mother had to abandon her two young children who became too weak to finish a long desert trek to a refugee camp in Kenya.

Some biblical Book of Revelation woes are outstanding. They will persist even after Jesus Christ is revealed, as the Almighty God works to place all the kingdoms of the earth under His control. Even so, we need to realise that He is all-wise, holy, and deliberative. If everyone were to turn to Him, not a single additional affliction would take a life or cause a minute of pain. We would have transformed our world into a paradise.

How likely is it that people will flock to the Almighty God in such impressive numbers that He would considerably tone down our near-future punishment? This is an unlikely scenario owing to the widespread spiritual ignorance, and the malevolence of the satanic demons who have armed themselves in readiness for war with God. These demons act by negatively affecting the minds of the people.

Regrettably therefore, there will be more death, misery, and tears; caused by terrorism, wars, accidents, earthquakes, wild and other fires, famines, diseases, hurricanes, tsunamis, and floods. The war in the Levant—one of its causes is the USA's ill-advised invasion of Iraq—will continue to be a different kind of world war, for spurring globalised acts of terror. But when the Almighty God blows the stop whistle, there will be no extra time. The protagonists will look back and ask, "What have we been fighting for all along?" And the responsible 'horse' will reply, "I don't know. Go ask my sender." It will then depart on its next cosmic mission.

Every spiritually aware human should approach the Almighty God and intercede for humanity, noting that His purposes cannot be defeated. If He reckons that the unrighteous are managing to extinguish the fires He is starting, He will set off the remaining ones from inside our fire stations.

THE END OF THE SECOND EPOCH

Our Heavenly Father announced His earthly kingdom through Jesus Christ about 2,000 years ago. But because Christ's ministry could not withstand persecution by the Roman Empire and harassment by the religious authorities in Judea, the kingdom message soon after got muddled into religious dogmas and doctrines, virtually getting lost. Nonetheless, the Almighty God's promises are sure. He never changes, even as humankind goes through the motions.

Humanity at large has continued to languish in confusion about her future, with many people suffering acute mental anguish. Through this revelation, the Almighty God has clarified that humankind's journey is cosmic. And for those who love Him, this journey will never end. He is nevertheless happy to spend time with His saints in Heaven, while He prepares to reward them with a better bodily life.

The upcoming Third Epoch will be the shortest of the four epochs, lasting only 1,000 years. It will be a stepping stone into the fourth spiritual epoch, the glorious paradise for those who would have given a good account of themselves in the earlier epochs.

41 And as you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter's clay and partly of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom, but some of the firmness of iron shall be in it, just as you saw iron mixed with the soft clay. 42 And as the toes of the feet were partly iron and partly clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly brittle. 43 As you saw the iron mixed with soft clay, so they will mix with one another in marriage, but they will not hold together, just as iron does not mix with clay.

44 And in the days of those kings, the God of Heaven will set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed, nor shall the kingdom be left to another people. It shall break in pieces all these kingdoms and bring them to an end, and it shall stand forever, 45 just as you saw that a stone was cut from a mountain by no human hand, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold.

—DANIEL 2 ESV

The Almighty God has revealed that these are the end-of-epoch days His prophet alluded to in this scripture.

As He prepares to close the curtains on the Second Epoch, the world is under the rulership of the Western Empire. It is true some of its subjects, for example many nationals of North Korea and Iran, detest both the empire and the emperor. Then there are those countries that seem ready to stage a coup were the empire heartlands to relax their grip on power—Russia and China today; Japan and Germany in the recent past. But unwilling and marginally willing subjects have been a common feature in all past empires.

From Babylon to Rome, past empires have depended on military might to crash real and perceived subversion. This empire is different. It often threatens to wipe uncooperative governmental structures off the face of the earth, and sometimes it does. But among its arsenal are far more potent weapons: economic sanctions and diplomatic shaming. They are modern, sophisticated, devastating.

In recent decades, the USA has dutifully provided the emperor, but this has not always been the case. There have been many intra-empire fights for supremacy, with the winning side producing the emperor. Some of those fights have escalated into world wars. The USA did not start the Second World War, but it won it at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. It shocked and silenced the other aspiring countries by killing over 230,000 mostly innocent civilians, using the then-unprecedented evil of atomic bombs.

And it is more meaningful to win the narrative than the war. Imagine giving a lecture on the Second World War to an audience of alien cosmozens, who had no knowledge of our geopolitics, and you somehow started by describing the evil genius Adolf Hitler and the Hiroshima-Nagasaki massacre. The aliens would wonder what a brute Hitler must have been. Only that he did not do it. Who did it? Why are the bombers not as infamous as Hitler? The answers to those questions are irrelevant because the culprits won both the war and its narrative.

In fulfilment of the prophecy the Almighty God made through Prophet Daniel about 2,600 years ago, many of this empire's nation-states are as weak as clay, while others are as strong as iron. Interracial unions are becoming common, but people remain divided, just like the empire to which they belong.

How will the Almighty God go about ending the current epoch, as He seeks to establish the next? Unlike humans, who prefer to start an attack from the weakest point and work their way up towards the ultimate prize, He has adopted the opposite approach: the USA and the UK, the empire's crown jewels, are the first kingdoms to be politically destabilised. Their shared first name, United, will seem pretentious.

THE USA IN THE END OF EPOCH PROPHECY

In the recent past, the USA has been engaged in a war she is not even aware of, and whose weapons of choice she does not manufacture. The modes of communication in this warfare are foreign to the CIA—it cannot eavesdrop. Along the lines of a popular USA notion, “There is no level playing field in this combat: The parties are hopelessly unevenly matched.” It is a water gun verses machine gun ‘Russian roulette’.

The infinitely stronger attacking party can designate a ten-year-old boy to the post of USA Commander-in-Chief, and Americans would cheer to high heavens saying, “Change has come at last. We had grown weary of those old men in Washington. How refreshing!” The Almighty God would then beckon the ten-year-old onto the field for a war dance.

Regarding the USA's agenda of regime change around the world, it is noteworthy that the Almighty God is not a democrat: He is unapologetically dictatorial. He does not subscribe to American values, or those of the Western world in general, or any other carnally evolved values for that matter.

Societal values that do not accord with His righteousness are foolishness before Him. He is furious at the USA for serving people blood to drink around the globe, in the name of instilling her values among other societies. While He expressed His boundless anger at the USA, I silently wondered why He had not restrained her. “Joseph, I can see the wonder in your soul. I already repaid her on Tuesday, 11 September 2001, but instead of repenting and turning away from global violence, she took it several notches higher,” He vibrated His answer into my soul.

The Almighty God would have preferred that leaders like Saddam Hussein and Muammar Gaddafi remained in power. They were relatively peaceful, and they took good care of their societies. Eighteen years and over 500,000 lives later, Iraq is in a shambles. But as a testament to the misguided nature of USA leadership, her society remains as Islamic as ever, regarding both religion and culture.

Is the Almighty God picking on the USA? No—He brought her up from infancy, hoping she could become the Israel He could not have; the exemplary nation that would spread love around the world, while eagerly anticipating His glorious kingdom. As a little girl, He adored her. He would sweep away her enemies with His holy broom well before their pots of evil were ready to be served. He blessed her richly.

Unfortunately, the USA has grown up to become the greatest factor in the proliferation of dangerous weapons around the world. She dominates and controls the global arms trade. When she is not terrorising and bullying some dictator into cooperation, that dictator may practise those same skills upon his neighbours, or his starving populace, using her weapons.

On his first overseas trip, for example, President Donald Trump signed a US$110 billion arms deal with Saudi Arabia. The weapons included in that contract most likely ended up fuelling the still ongoing chaos in neighbouring Yemen, where Saudi Arabia has been bombing those starving there instead of feeding them. Yet hapless Yemen has been in the throes of humankind's worst cholera epidemic; since 2016, the World Health Organization has identified over one million cases and confirmed at least 2,500 cholera-related deaths.

During the same overseas trip, President Trump was reported harassing fellow NATO members who had not increased their defence spending to 2 percent of their GDPs; later, he demanded a 4 percent allocation. And what is the USA's not-so-secret aim at NATO? It is to intimidate and subjugate Russia, hoping to maintain her total global dominance. The same Russia that is creaking under the weight of wide-ranging economic sanctions.

Do not mourn now, the USA; the Almighty God applies very different parameters when judging leaders. The-led in most of humankind's empires have been more of victims than willing subjects. You maintain 800 military bases in more than seventy countries, as you endeavour to subdue and hijack the Almighty God's project. And despite accounting for a mere five percent of the world population, you are holding on to fifty percent of the non-state global gun haul: No opportunity at spilling human blood is to be missed.

Our Heavenly Father also accuses you of using your worldly culture to lead Western Empire subjects into nakedness. Nowadays, to be a top female musician in the USA means to be barely dressed. Beyond this bodily nakedness is your 'naked talk' and cursing, often blaspheming God's holy name. As if that were not bad enough, you have infuriated your Creator and Sustainer by using His blessings to entrench homosexuality around the world.

"US President Barack Obama is threatening to cut off foreign aid to Nigeria if a recent anti-gay bill is passed, but Nigerians are unwavering."<sup>15</sup>

The biblical books of Daniel and Revelation are packed full of prophecy regarding the end of the Second Epoch. This shows the importance the Almighty God attaches to the spiritual and worldly events taking place currently.

In line with His strategy to smash the kingdoms of this world to pieces, He dispatched Angel Michael to help me study the following three scriptures. Across several day and night visions, the angel revealed how the passages relate to the USA, the present-day 'Babylon the Great', the beast's kingdom. Below each of the scriptures is the angel's interpretations and insights.

<sup>19</sup> Then I desired to know the truth about the fourth beast, which was different from all the rest, exceedingly terrifying, with its teeth of iron and claws of bronze, and which devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet, <sup>20</sup> and about the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn that came up and before which three of them fell, the horn that had eyes and a mouth that spoke great [proud, arrogant] things, and that seemed greater than its companions.

<sup>21</sup> As I looked, this horn made war with the saints and prevailed over them, <sup>22</sup> until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given for the saints of the Most High, and the time came when the saints possessed the kingdom.

<sup>23</sup> Thus he said: "As for the fourth beast, there shall be a fourth kingdom on Earth, which shall be different from all the [earlier] kingdoms, and it shall devour the whole Earth, and trample it down, and break it to pieces. <sup>24</sup> As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom ten kings shall arise, and another shall arise after them; he shall be different from the former ones, and shall put down three kings. <sup>25</sup> He shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time [three and a half years].<sup>26</sup> But the court shall sit in judgment, and his dominion shall be taken away, to be consumed and destroyed to the end.<sup>27</sup> And the kingdom and the dominion and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole [sky] shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High; His kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey Him.”

—DANIEL 7 ESV

Suppose you suddenly found yourself in a little clearing in the Amazon Forest, encircled by sixty-metre-tall trees and darkness engulfing you, as no light can penetrate the thick forest canopy. In your desperation, you would not care how beautiful or majestic the forest might look to someone overflying at 30,000 feet above sea level. The famous forest would be your prison and source of torment.

As the Second Epoch comes to an end, we are in this forest, and we therefore lack the benefit of a bird's eye view. Only our Creator can point out to us that we are the end-of-epoch generation talked about throughout the scriptures.

The Western Empire is leading its eight billion subjects in trampling the earth through ecological and spiritual pollution and never-ending wars. We create unnatural organisms via genetic engineering and new elements through nuclear reactions, and carelessly blend them with divine creation. Meanwhile, the Almighty God observes His Day 7 rest from earthly creation work. When St. John received his revelation, the world population was about 300 million; it must have been much lower at Prophet Daniel's time. Evidently, we can no longer govern ourselves. God knew this time would come, and He drew up a plan.

Disdain for parenthood, tacit encouragement of homosexuality, unabashed self-love—the traits the Western civilisation imparts to populations in the Western Empire heartlands are assisting her to devour humanity. Wherever she has firmly established herself in recent decades, population decline and aging have kicked in as if by magic. And make no mistake, she intends to overtake every part of the globe. Worryingly, she is very tempting, like all satanic things.

In Prophet Daniel's vision, the eleven horns represent eleven present-day world leaders. Apart from the four who are key to the interpretation of this prophecy, Angel Michael did not reveal the identities of the others.

- ✦ The king who was different from the earlier ones, who came onto the scene speaking arrogant things, and who seemed greater than his contemporaries is the USA's President Donald Trump. Early on in his emperorship, and in fulfilment of biblical prophecy, he retained the services of a false prophet.
- ✦ The leaders President Trump 'put down' to make room for his agenda are the three amigos of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA): former USA president, Barack Obama; Canadian prime minister, Justin Trudeau; and the former president of Mexico, Enrique Pena Nieto. While we marvel at our leaders' titles, the Almighty God weighs the real authority each ruler possesses. The fact that President Trump placed the leaders of Canada and Mexico in a position where they had to beg him not to cancel NAFTA, yet they formerly had equal negotiating power with President Barack Obama, means they were 'put down'. This is more so when one considers how heavily the economies of Mexico and Canada had relied on trade with the USA.

- ✦ As for harassing and wearing out the saints of the Most High, President Trump fired his first and unprecedented salvo in February 2016 by branding the pope disgraceful. The pope had opposed candidate Trump's plan to construct a border wall between the USA and Mexico. Though his harassment of the Muslim faithful is well documented, the flagship act is his decision to stop all visitors from certain majority-Muslim countries from entering the USA, purely because of their religion. On a different note, he has sought to 'change the times and the law' via his numerous executive orders and his shockingly unorthodox conduct.
- ✦ Immediately President Trump ascended to power, Jewish communities across North America were gripped by a spiritual siege mentality. Within weeks, threats against Jews seemed inescapable. In Canada, the threats took the form of notes pinned on doors to Jewish residences—some of the notes featured Adolf Hitler's infamous swastika, historically the ultimate threat that can be uttered to a Jew; others simply stated: "No Jesus". In February 2017, over seventy-five tombstones were overturned and damaged in a Jewish cemetery in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA; ultimately, eleven worshippers were shot dead and seven injured inside a synagogue in the same city in October 2018. While the spiritually illiterate will argue that President Trump did not personally facilitate these activities, Angel Michael revealed that the demonic powers behind him are responsible for this evil against the Almighty God's saints, and Heaven does not distinguish between individuals and their allied spiritual forces.

<sup>1</sup> Then I saw a beast rising up out of the sea. It had seven heads and ten horns, with ten crowns on its horns. And written on each head were names that blasphemed God. <sup>2</sup> This beast looked like a leopard, but it had the feet of a bear and the mouth of a lion! And the dragon gave the beast his own power and throne and great authority.

<sup>3</sup> I saw that one of the heads of the beast seemed wounded beyond recovery—but the fatal wound was healed! The whole world marveled at this miracle and gave allegiance to the beast. <sup>4</sup> They worshiped the dragon for giving the beast such power, and they also worshiped the beast. “Who is as great as the beast?” they exclaimed. “Who is able to fight against him?”

<sup>5</sup> Then the beast was allowed to speak great blasphemies against God. And he was given authority to do whatever he wanted for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup> And he spoke terrible words of blasphemy against God, slandering his name and his dwelling—that is, those who dwell in Heaven. <sup>7</sup> And the beast was allowed to wage war against God’s holy people and to conquer them. And he was given authority to rule over every tribe and people and language and nation. <sup>8</sup> And all the people who belong to this world worshiped the beast.

—REVELATION 13 NLT

During the official launch of his presidential campaign in June 2015, the beast boasted, “I’ll be the greatest jobs producer that God ever created. And I mean that.” In the years that followed, He maintained an irreverent tone towards the Almighty God and an overbearing attitude upon humanity, while elevating himself to the level of a god, a saviour. But according to Angel Michael, he is a false saviour; he cannot save himself.

The dragon that St. John saw was Satan as defined in Chapter 2 of this book. Hitherto, every nation in the world has been ruled over by a certain satanic demon. In the same way the Almighty God has taken interest in the USA, as He seeks to bring her under His control, the most malevolent satanic demons are vying to maintain her under their spiritual governorship, hoping to defeat God's purpose. It is possible that someone as evil as Adolf Hitler, in the form of a head demon to a fraternity of evil spirits, is spiritually ruling the USA.

By Angel Michael, 'the fatal wound that was healed', on one of the beast's heads, is the extraordinary and wide-ranging accusations of sexual immorality against President Trump. Because the Almighty God had dressed his deadly wound, American voters did not notice it on election day, 8 November 2016.

Worshipping the beast does not necessarily mean kneeling in front of him to offer supplication. In this case, it refers to the fear people have towards him because of his unpredictable and belligerent demeanour, and the admiration and deference he enjoys as the leader of the only global superpower.

President Trump is the False Messiah who professes to bring previously unachievable peace to the Western Empire entirely on his own, from the Middle East, Afghanistan, the Korean Peninsula, Japan, China, Iran, Russia, to Venezuela. A fake Christ, he will purport to deliver his race from the upcoming 'kingdom pollution' by segregating it behind an unbreachable wall—his only claim to prophethood.

Accompanied by St. Michael, the Almighty God appeared in a graphic dream on the night of 15 July 2018. The setting was a classroom, where He edified a group of world leaders about His soon-to-be-established kingdom. Though the beast was the last to enrol, on 16 June 2015, he kept interrupting lessons with his untimely and arrogant talk. He hurled an abuse at anyone who approached him, even for morning greetings. I recall him waving a little flag, red on one side with the inscription 'Hate' and black on the reverse with the writing 'Fear'.

God restrained Himself like a loving father for forty-two months. With His patience wearing thin, He summoned the beast to the front of the classroom and slapped him. But the beast persisted, saying, “My kingdom is the greatest; humanity has never seen anything like it.” The Almighty God could not stand him any longer. He chased him out of the classroom even though he had been scoring top marks in most assignments.

Once out on the street, the beast joined a boisterous mob of his supporters. In unison, they jeered at God while pointing towards the classroom. They had exhausted themselves when toxic ‘rain’ approached from the same direction they were pointing and dissolved them. But because the little flag had been cut from a special material, it survived the ‘rain’. And for a lengthy period thereafter, multitudes of righteous former USA citizens kept trampling the flag as they went about their daily activities, but it remained right there on the sidewalk though tattered and frayed.

Years later as the Almighty God inspected His kingdom, He came across the flag and recognised it. And He lit a great fire which fully consumed it; smoke could be seen from every point around the globe.

<sup>11</sup> Then I saw another beast come up out of the earth. He had two horns like those of a lamb, but he spoke with the voice of a dragon. <sup>12</sup> He exercised all the authority of the first beast. And he required all the earth and its people to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound had been healed. <sup>13</sup> He did astounding miracles, even making fire flash down to Earth from the sky while everyone was watching. <sup>14</sup> And with all the miracles he was allowed to perform on behalf of the first beast, he deceived all the people who belong to this world. He ordered the people to make a great statue of the first beast, who was fatally wounded and then came back to life.

<sup>16</sup> He required everyone—small and great, rich and poor, free and slave—to be given a mark on the right hand or on the forehead. <sup>17</sup> And no one could buy or sell anything without that mark, which was either the name of the beast or the number representing his name. <sup>18</sup> Wisdom is needed here. Let the one with understanding solve the meaning of the number of the beast, for it is the number of a [human]. His number is 666.

—REVELATION 13 NLT

After the 15 July 2018 dream, Angel Michael carried on with his astonishing interpretation, “Unlike the first beast, who came out of the sea (coastal borough of Manhattan, New York City), the second beast, Vice President Mike Pence, came up from the earth (the inland State of Indiana). The meaning of the second beast ‘requiring all the earth and its people to worship the first beast’ refers to the vice president’s unswerving support for the first beast’s vile policies. That the second beast had ‘two horns like those of a lamb while speaking with the voice of a dragon’ alludes to his deceptive Christian outlook. Deep down, he is as Satan-driven as President Trump.”

The angel then made his concluding remarks, “Joseph, thank you for your undivided attention. The meaning of the second beast causing fire to flash down from the sky relates to the fiery long-range weapons the USA often deploys, which humanity watches on TV with admiration. And the ‘mark of the beast’ you are holding in your right hand, which is forever on your forehead (mind), and without which you cannot trade in the USA or internationally is the US$ (United States Dollar); each of the three words has six letters—hence 666.”

THE THIRD EPOCH: THE KINGDOM OF THE ALMIGHTY GOD

In the middle of the millennium, kingdom citizens will read about our struggles for thousands of years with wars, diseases, ecological and spiritual pollution, social chaos, national borders, lack of love for fellow humans, and misguided innovations that ended up shortening our lifespans, and they will shake their heads at just how moronic their ancestors must have been.

THE KNOWLEDGE OVERFLOW

In our present spiritual backwardness, we are inclined to think the Almighty God's purposes run contrary to science. But kingdom citizens will recognise Him as the arch-scientist that He is. The failure to recognise the role He and His angels play in the transfer of knowledge around the cosmos is the main reason why our carnal-based science has stagnated.

The discovery by our sub-human relatives that fire was not merely a catastrophic bush phenomenon, but could be managed and harnessed, must have been exhilarating. And so it has been with all of humanity's little discoveries, along this apparently never-ending journey of learning. If only we appreciated that to the Almighty God and His angels everything is uncovered. He guides cosmosizens to knowledge, but in the face of our defiance, He has been holding back. Already, the knowledge He has blessed us with has been misused in inventions such as nuclear weaponry and careless genetic modification.

With the Almighty God and His angels hoarding their large reserve of knowledge, we have had to make do with a trickle. Yet this dribble has transformed human civilisation within a couple of centuries. What then can we expect as God blesses humanity after establishing His earthly kingdom? Simply answered, a knowledge overflow, leading to surprising discoveries and the breaking of all heavenly maledictions. The shattering of the 120-year-lifespan curse, which He spelt out at the end of the First Epoch, will be celebrated globally.

Besides transforming human health, the Almighty God will harness this knowledge overabundance to break the curse of ‘barely productive hard labour’, by guiding humanity towards far-reaching automation, which will affect every sphere of human life. In one vision, I witnessed a kingdom citizen ordering some fresh organic fruits; they were harvested from an indoor growing centre that was integrated into her community, before being delivered into a shopping hatch in her kitchen within minutes, all without direct human intervention.

According to Angel Gabriel, every worthy aspect of our physical reality corresponds to some spiritual reality in Heaven, or an actuality in one of the six paradises. But in Heaven and across the paradises, reality exists in its ultimate form, beyond possible improvement. In their spiritual illiteracy, Adam and Eve might have thought of their fig-tree-leaves loin coverings as bearing the stamp of genius. But the Almighty God knew they could dress as resplendently as the angel in the scripture below, if they would only obey Him as He spurred them towards the ultimate in human dressing.

<sup>5</sup> I looked up and saw a man dressed in linen clothing, with a belt of pure gold around his waist. <sup>6</sup> His body looked like a precious gem. His face flashed like lightning, and his eyes flamed like torches. His arms and feet shone like polished bronze, and his voice roared like a vast multitude of people.

—DANIEL 10 NLT

Millennial kingdom life will be anchored on knowledge. That is the reason why the Almighty God could not have established the kingdom in the eighteenth century, for example. In the past 200 years, He has laid the foundation of His kingdom by blessing humankind with wide-ranging knowledge.

SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION

The establishment of the millennial kingdom will be marked by a manifest social transformation, mirroring the changes currently taking place in the spirit realms. Throughout the 1,000 years, God will guide every adult citizen individually. In our political correctness, it is hard to imagine a world where rules do not apply uniformly across-the-board. This is nevertheless what will happen, and no citizen will ignore God's individualised instructions.

Political correctness has imparted a herd mentality to humanity. It has robbed most people of their divinely decreed individuality, suppressed their God-given talents, and stifled growth universally, as the vocal minority imposes its agenda. The Almighty God will break the curse of political correctness as He ushers in the Third Epoch.

Were He to ask you to foster a child, or to remain childless, or to give away part of your wealth, or not to marry, or to get a second wife, there will be complete obedience. He will guide every adult woman to a personal dress code: Neither her husband nor her community will enforce another dress code on her or force her to wear cultural or religious uniform.

The family unit will be the most important institution in the kingdom. The Almighty God will restore men to their originally intended position as the family priest and guardian. Fathers will guide their children to know and love God, and to appreciate His righteousness. And there will be no defiance of authority: Children will obey their parents, wives will cooperate with their husbands, and citizens will defer to the kingdom leaders.

- ✦ Every child will have a father, biological or foster.
- ✦ Every adult will be married or celibate.

Our Heavenly Father invited me to three visions about the kingdom's social revolution. In the first vision, the states ran a strange, globalised education system. The term system, however, does not accurately describe what I saw, for the entire system was one online institution. Virtually all learning took place in online classes.

At the beginning of the vision, I had witnessed the Messiah running final system checks before the institution went live. Children around the world could hardly wait to finish and upload their first assignments for moderation. The educators were a motley mix of career teachers, parents, retired instructors from all fields, and assorted accredited volunteers; indeed, any citizen possessing education-worthy knowledge could contribute to the institution. I got confused when I noticed the educators were not directly marking the uploaded assignments most of the time. Rather, they seemed to contribute their knowledge to the institution, helping it mark the assignments within seconds.

Angel Michael was not satisfied that I had figured out the system, so he appeared in the vision and asked me to enrol in the institution.

The enrolment took a few minutes, and then the beauty of my fully stocked, warm, and friendly classroom visually exploded onto my laptop screen. My classmates were excited to meet me. "Hi, Joseph. I have one seat remaining, at the front; please sit down. This is a chemistry class. Once you study this subject and earn a credit, you may join a different class for another subject,” the teacher welcomed me. The students were from different states and continents. Some were adults who had not attended school before. Then I noticed something interesting: When I moved away from my laptop for over thirty seconds, my cell phone buzzed, indicating that my seat in the classroom was empty.

After one week, my teacher asked me to book a practical lesson at a local chemistry laboratory. The states had oversight over the laboratories and workshops, but they had not reserved them for student learning—they carried out business within their communities.

I was curious to know what was going on in the former schools, so I visited one, and it was a beehive of activity. The younger children received instruction in a day-care-like setting, as they prepared to join the global institution. The older ones attentively attended their online classes at various points around the school, yet others took part in an enthralling debate on astronomy. Elsewhere, citizens of all ages attended classes and accessed a variety of online learning material from homes, community libraries, urban parks, and former places of worship (they had become community centres since worship was no longer public).

In some instances, I struggled to discern a specific teaching method. Some students appeared to teach the educators, as they developed a large amount of original online content while the educators assessed it and wrote some brief online comments. If a student wanted to pursue an education-worthy interest which was not included in the annual menu, they designed their own study item, researched on it, and presented it for moderation. One overweight student designed a weight-loss programme for himself. After the practical study, he uploaded a report for moderation. His class kept admiring his ‘after photos’.

Towards the end of this vision, a student designed a wearable gadget that tracked and reported online how far a person walked, jogged, or cycled. After submitting it for moderation, it was adopted by the education authorities, and students around the globe earned credits for engaging in healthier mobility as opposed to motorised transportation.

The students cherished the kingdom; they gravitated to studies that would entrench it. Many were interested in subjects like world geography and major international languages. I noted how this contrasted with the present situation, whereby political leaders push students into learning local languages, hoping to tighten the national and sub-national borders.

In the next vision, the Almighty God took me on a tour of a correctional facility in the State of Senegal. As I took in what I saw, I felt that if an average Second Epoch human were to find himself in that facility, he might want to stay longer. Crime rates around the kingdom had gone down considerably, and the remaining people deserving of custodial sentences were considered mentally deficient or spiritually illiterate. The angels had guided the kingdom towards the medicine for criminality.

Years earlier, Jesus Christ had strongly urged the states to transform their correctional facilities. Among other reforms, the authorities had expanded the range of punitive and corrective measures that could be visited on a citizen. When he later ordered the states to set cash bails for remanded suspects according to their preceding year's incomes, the remand facilities' populations dwindled.

As we got deeper into the facility, I confirmed my earlier suspicion: It was, in addition, both a place of work and a part of the global school I had seen earlier. The inmates mixed freely with their free workmates, though they went to their 'secured apartments' after work while their colleagues proceeded home. Upon closer observation, I understood that the freedom enjoyed by the inmates was made possible by technology. The kingdom knew exactly where they were, even when visiting their families over a weekend.

A variety of work activity went on inside the correctional facility, including cutting-edge pursuits like the design of automated systems and robotic beings. And everyone received a fair remuneration for their efforts. At that time, both inside and outside of correctional facilities, work, study, and play were merging into one exciting experience.

During a later vision, the Almighty God asked me to join Him as He inspected His kingdom. When we arrived in present-day India, He requested me to record carefully what I saw. Like the USA, India no longer existed as a political entity. Instead, numerous administrative units had arisen out of her; they functioned as non-political states within the global kingdom. And they had achieved a miraculous transformation. Their cities glittered with the glory of God. Then I noticed something odd: Vehicles drove on the right-hand side of the road. “It is not just in these states,” the Almighty God apprised me, “All traffic in my kingdom is driving on the right. When we arrive in Britain, you will confirm for yourself.”

THE KINGDOM LAWS

The Almighty God edified me about laws at the upcoming kingdom in a series of visions in late May 2018.

Early on, as the states joined the kingdom, each polity had a unique set of laws. But when He showed me the laws again in A.D. 2100, at the end of the second emperor’s reign, they looked practically uniform across the states. In both cases, each law corresponded to a sin. But not every sin had a law discouraging its commission. The offences captured within the laws offended both the Almighty God and a third person, separate from the violator. In cases where the involved parties were only God and the sinner, the matter was left to His appropriate punishment.

For that reason, there were no laws against drug abuse, lack of shame of nakedness, and attempted suicide, but there were laws against drug trafficking, harassing or abusing a person because of their dressing, homicide, and official corruption and other means of theft from the poor. I also noticed that there were very strict laws against discrimination based on a person's heritage, race, gender, age, and social standing. Particularly regarding the discrimination of women at work, the laws were explicit that the kingdom could not be prosperous when half of its workforce was intimidated away from the workplace.

In line with the Almighty God's determination to end cultural-religious divisions, He had caused the present religious laws to be overtaken by the global kingdom culture. The laws did not outlaw a single food item. Instead, citizens would approach God in prayer about the suitability of specific foods and medicines for their personal needs. He stopped one person from eating pork, and indeed all types of meat, but the other members of his family would take pork. Then I witnessed Him order a kingdom citizen to undergo circumcision for the sake of his health, but when his younger brother approached Him in a panic, He told him the choice was his.

As I recall from the visions, technology had taken over most food preparation and packaging processes. And no one cared how animals were slaughtered because the Almighty God had made all things new. Kingdom citizens fasted and cleansed themselves often, while they thanked God for the prosperity He had decreed on humankind. But neither the duration nor the intensity of the fasting was a socially programmed event. Just like prayer, fasting was a private matter between a citizen and God. Some citizens fasted for ninety days a year; others managed only fifteen. Yet many others cut down their daily rations for a lifetime.

Both homosexuality and abortion were conspicuously missing in the kingdom laws. I sought the Almighty God's views in prayer, and His reply greatly edified me, "I can't leave the punishment of sins that are committed largely in private to humanity: The sword of the law would fall only on those who happen to be caught. What's more, kingdom laws don't prescribe murder for any offence, yet I'll have to kill some of those committing these two sins—they're among humanity's most serious transgressions. Abortion is the wicked murder of those who can't strike back; the unrighteous commit this sin only because they were spared a similar fate. Homosexuality is the attempted murder of the entire human race. For both sins, I'll reserve the most severe punishment, but I'll fulfil it myself."

I carried on perusing the book containing the laws, and I did not see articles controlling the use of fossil fuels; nonetheless, pollution was strictly prohibited. The kingdom had left the war between fossil fuels and what we call renewable energy sources to businesses and their economic common sense. On His part, Father guided kingdom citizens closely as He sought to strike the correct balance between the two. His angels continued to transfer transformative energy-related technology, leading to increasing efficiency in the harnessing and utilisation of renewable energy. Though they desired to see a smooth transition to a carbon-free global energy paradigm, they were nevertheless determined that all commercially viable fossil fuel reserves around the globe would be exhausted.

The Almighty God utilised the CO<sub>2</sub> produced from fossil fuels to warm up the globe towards His seven-degree target above pre-industrial temperatures; the balance He turned into beautiful forests. By then, high-tech recycling and technology-based organic farming were an important part of the kingdom economy.

Amidst this series of visions, our Heavenly Father read this wonder off my soul: “Who crafted the kingdom laws?” So He showed me another vision where a state-level committee of seven experts-in-law deliberated in Nairobi, the capital of present-day Kenya. And they were not working from within the worldly grandeur of today’s parliament buildings. In fact, Kenya as we know it no longer existed: Several kingdom states had arisen in the East African region and consumed it.

Later in the vision, He elaborated on the experts’ mode of operation, “Throughout my kingdom’s lifetime, I’ll supervise the citizens to whom I delegate the duty of crafting or amending state laws. Every law they craft will relate to a citizen’s lack of love-for-others. And when a law is referred to the Emperor’s attorneys for their wise counsel, they will be guided by this same precept. At last, breaking a state law will be sinful. There are those I’ll favour with everlasting life for merely obeying state laws.”

Elected legislatures around the world had ceased to exist, along with the other children of democracy—political parties, elections, referenda, racism, tribalism, official corruption, and sectoral hatred. Before killing those children, the Almighty God had accused them of creating divisions, witchcraft, election violence, and advocating demagoguery instead of common sense. They appealed to Him for a little time to carry out reforms, but He ignored them. I saw their father, democracy, walk away from society crestfallen, choosing not to witness his children’s slaughter.

I was still in the Spirit when my attention turned to the states’ constitutions. Identical for all the states, the constitution was spelt out on the cover page to each state’s book of laws. The specific book I looked at was for the State of Denmark. Though I do not recall every word on the constitution, it was along the lines of these two sentences: “Inside are the laws of the State of Denmark, a vassal state in The Kingdom of the Almighty God. The KAG Emperor may vary these laws or the state’s boundaries in pursuit of the smooth and efficient administration of the kingdom.”

Finally, I was blessed to witness another system of justice which was complementary to the legal one. It was based on the Almighty God’s Truth, as opposed to the legal justice system’s formal technicalities. Its infrastructure spanned from simple village mediation committees all the way to the state’s Truth commissioner. At any point during a trial, litigants could de-escalate their disagreement to this alternative justice system. But civil cases could not be filed with the legal justice system before their resolution was attempted at the Truth justice system. I saw many attorneys looking for alternative work, as everyday people solved cases with Solomonic wisdom under the Almighty God’s guidance.

THE FALL OF HUMAN GOVERNMENTS

The Almighty God showed me a vivid vision early in the morning of 22 July 2018 while I lay in bed. His kingdom was going through birth pains. Some of the present kings had refused to melt their bullets, yet He needed a large amount of steel for the organic farming revolution to materialise. He was enraged. His people desired food and not bullet wounds.

Among those sixteen years and older, multitudes had already registered with Jesus Christ as kingdom citizens, along with their children. They had also suggested the names of the newly created states they wished to belong to; interestingly, many of the new states straddled the current political borders. The Messiah was preparing to incorporate these non-political administrative units as kingdom states and to appoint governors for them. But some of the humanly elected rulers vowed to hang on to power and to carry on governing their murderous, expansionist political federations. Because time was not on Christ's side, he went ahead and appointed his governors. The humanly elected rulers soon after appreciated their defeat, and the Almighty God healed them of their bitterness.

Thereafter, the kingdom states took over the police infrastructure within their administrative borders; the new police uniforms glorified the Almighty God. Since political borders no longer existed, armed forces around the world had nothing to defend with their blood. They were therefore retrained and shared out among the state police units.

As this global turmoil persisted, the Messiah picked up a piece of white paper and read a sentence from it which redefined money: He gave it another name. I did not grasp the technical terms he used, but Angel Gabriel informed me that the redefined money would be an international currency. I later saw it flying around in the shape of a golden eagle, erasing national borders in its wake.

Though the 'mark of the beast' had seemed beyond intimidation, when it met Christ's currency for the final battle at the Germany-France border, cheered on by one of its cousins, they were both blown off by the turbulence emanating from the wings of the golden eagle, before the battle could begin. After the eagle landed triumphantly, I was able to read some inscriptions on its legs: On one leg, 'Jesus the Messiah'; on the other, 'The Lord's Treasury'.

The Almighty God and His angels were delighted that every administrative polity had fallen under Heaven's column, including the USA states that had been most intransigent. Shortly thereafter, United Nations functions and assets were received at the kingdom, as no other orphanage was suitable for them. After these events, a sizable number of American citizens answered Christ's call and left the USA, choosing to build the kingdom from elsewhere.

At last, the Messiah held an assembly that included all KAG state governors, with former USA states being represented individually. The governors were non-political technocrats whose mandate was to solve their states' socioeconomic problems, under Christ's wise rulership. I could tell from the meeting's ambience that if a governor were to digress into political talk, he would have been viewed with as much disbelief and dismay as we perceive the openly racist today.

Christ had carved up the world into little units, determined that the kingdom would interact with each citizen intimately. As a result, the governors in the assembly were at least 600. Russia, China, the EU, the USA, the UK, Canada, Australia, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Nigeria, Ethiopia, India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Brazil, Mexico—the political federations that had arisen out of the need for self-defence from the aggression of similar units, and to keep away 'aliens' from their borders, were not represented. From that point on, they existed only in name. Most of their federal agencies were reformed and regionally rationalised, and they served all kingdom states without discrimination; others became defunct, for example the present-day federal courts of law.

In a later vision, I noticed that some of the governors now represented different states. Christ shuffled them at will, as he sought to solve all socioeconomic challenges around the kingdom. And he was winning the war against poverty akin to manna dropping from Heaven.

After witnessing the Almighty God raise a global kingdom from nothing, kingdom citizens highly appreciated His efforts and wisdom, and they therefore 'gave' Him all they owned. And thus charity became an important part of the kingdom economy—it had access to riches whose value could not be written, as the way to do this had not been discovered. This war chest was used to fight poverty, illiteracy, and disease; and to fund ecological clean-ups, small businesses, cooperative societies, the organic farming revolution, community administration, and population resettlement.

Led by its prefect, the USA, the Western Empire's economy is based on violence and the threat of violence. Also, many of our games, including those played and watched by our children, would lose their appeal were violence to cease being one of their key ingredients. In contrast, the fully functional kingdom I saw in a later vision, in early August 2018, was violence-free. The world's military infrastructure had transformed into civilian development apparatus. Faced with an ever-shrinking market, arms factories had retrofitted for peacetime manufacturing.

The few remaining armed police units had abandoned their guns in favour of high-tech but nonlethal equipment. Though a singular act, this pleased the Almighty God so much that He ordered His cosmic and heavenly angels to start the transfer of previously unimaginable technological approaches to tackling crime, violence, and poverty.

Because businesses had fully adopted technology and automation, many kingdom citizens could not find work. Companies had become gigantic, and their ownership had diversified profoundly; they were publicly owned in an extreme sense. This combination of factors meant that the most important source of income was corporate share dividends. And the kingdom used its wealth to support citizens whose earnings fell below the prosperity threshold, issuing them with supplementary monthly payments and shopping and recreation passes. By then, manufacturing was globally standardised: A slogan like 'Proudly made in the USA', pasted on the side of a fridge, would have been meaningless and laughable.

As the vision ended, I saw many of today's famous cities struggling to retain their populations. Kingdom citizens opted for their newer and more modern competitors.

---

THE FOURTH EPOCH

“Our money, in its various forms, attempts to grade people in terms of worthiness and worthlessness. It is therefore a loud expression of poverty and scarcity. If the Almighty God managed to enforce perfect love among humankind, the result would be all-round prosperity, and money would evolve to its extinction. This was the case in paradise, and as a result, money, either as a concept or reality, was unknown.”

THE CHOSEN ONES

The Fourth Epoch will be humanity's ultimate and unchanging spiritual age. Only those who would merit such a reward will behold it. The Almighty God will use a two-pronged approach in purging those who must be excluded:

- ✦ Firstly, He will release Satan from his prison—St. John's 'bottomless pit'—for a little while at the end of the Third Epoch, enabling the full testing of those who will be taken away in the apocalypse before living out their lives. Additionally, He will tempt the end-time generation to evil, the same way He tests Second Epoch humans.
- ✦ Secondly, the souls of the Hell-condemned will be judged according to their level of righteousness during their earthly lives, coupled with their defiance after their bodily deaths. Some of the Hell-condemned spirit beings defy God by superimposing themselves upon the Free-will souls of the living; they then mislead the unfortunate humans into unrighteousness.

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw a great white throne and Him who was seated on it. From His presence the earth and the sky fled away, and no place was found for them. <sup>12</sup> And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Then another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to what they had done. <sup>13</sup> And the sea gave up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done.

<sup>14</sup> Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. <sup>15</sup> And if anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

—REVELATION 20 ESV

Throughout the Third Epoch, the two components of Satan will be consigned to the relative comfort of St. John's 'bottomless pit': Some humans will still defy the Almighty God and run their souls on Free-will on occasion. They will therefore be vulnerable to attacks by the unrepentant Hell-condemned souls of the dead from around the cosmos.

On the other hand, the Fourth Epoch super-humans will never run their souls on Free-will. Since the Free-will powering the souls of the living makes up one of the two components of Satan, this is one meaning of Satan being thrown into the 'lake of fire'. Furthermore, the defiant epoch-ending generation of the early A.D. 3000s will have been consumed in a real lake of fire and boiling lava during the apocalypse.

The other meaning of Satan being thrown into the 'lake of fire' is that the cosmic satanic host—the unrepentant souls of the dead, in the form of assorted-type malevolent spirits and demons—will never find hosts among humankind after the end of the Third Epoch. And therefore, as far as humanity is concerned, Satan will have been vanquished, or in a manner of speaking, thrown into the 'lake of fire'.

Regarding death being thrown into the ‘lake of fire’, the Almighty God will enable the Fourth Epoch super-humans to live forever, and without the inconvenience of old age and frailty. He will have rewarded humanity with everlasting life. Owing to the transformations He will put in place, lifespans will keep increasing during the Third Epoch, as humankind prepares to receive the promised gift of eternal life.

Who will be the ultimate saints enjoying everlasting life in the Fourth Epoch? It could be you and me. Those of us who accept the good news of the Almighty God’s upcoming kingdom, and proceed to thrive in it, will have earned themselves the reward of everlasting life.

EARTH 2.0: HUMANITY’S SECOND HOME

We learnt in Chapter 6 that the Almighty God will break up the earth in a cataclysmic event in A.D. 3027, marking the end of the Third Epoch. By that time, the Fourth Epoch would have been in simultaneous existence for hundreds of earth-years, according to His revelation.

In late January 2018, He showed me humanity’s next home in several visions and lengthy dreams. It is a very different world from our present home in terms of atmosphere, biodiversity, and types and intensity of extra-planetary radiation. He took me on a tour of one of the five mega-cities in this paradise. Roughly the size of Australia, mega-city is merely the closest descriptive term I can think of, but it does not paint an accurate picture of what I saw.

“Joseph, welcome to paradise. Accurately record what you will see,” the Almighty God invited me. But my eyes quickly grew weary and teary from the strange light and confusing artefacts, so He fitted onto my face a special eyewear for the period of my visit. With this eyewear, I was able to see things I could not see before, including the kind of light our eyes cannot perceive. And the gadget did more than aid my eyes: I picked out sounds and smells that were seemingly not there before, and I could now communicate with the angels spiritually, without needing to utter a word.

The paradise had two natures: domesticated and undomesticated. The mega-city had a roof that was too high for my eyes to see, yet it had no supporting pillars—the city’s ‘walls’ and ‘floor’, both as thick as the width of a soccer field, ensured nothing from the undomesticated nature could access the city. I saw what looked like brooks, ponds, recreation parks, rolling hills, ski resorts, and a small desert. But in fact, none of them was natural; all were immaculately crafted and perfectly located, surpassing our understanding of idyllic. The absolute absence of danger was one of paradise’s most striking features.

An intelligent climatic system set and managed conditions across the mega-city, as wished by the angels. Winds flowed only as programmed, in the form of a mild breeze. Temperatures varied slightly but remained within the angelic thermal comfort zone, except for the hotzone and the winterland, as I christened them. I witnessed a saint contemplating the weather on a ‘screen’ which appeared to be a part of his palm: It read, ‘weather schedule’ in angelic language, as opposed to ‘weather forecast’. The undomesticated nature’s night and day cycle had no effect in paradise: The climatic system managed daily variations according to the city’s programme.

The most wonderful thing about paradise was its lighting; darkness of the night was an unknown inconvenience. In Chapter 5, we learnt about the Universal Creative Energy, one of the Almighty God's spirit materials; it lit up most angelic surfaces, including pavements. Each material gave off a different intensity and quality of light, but in all cases, the light looked like a solid coating on the materials.

Unlike our structures here on Earth, paradise was not built using naturally occurring materials. The Almighty God has enabled cosmic angels to design and form materials directly from the Universal Creative Energy. And the materials possess only their intended properties. I came across a 'rod' that was invisibly thin, yet it was as strong as a thick steel beam. To a Second Epoch human, the angels' most popular materials looked like coloured 'solid light'. Be they gaseous, liquid, or solid, the materials lit up brilliantly as they interacted with certain Universal Creative Energy rays.

Next, the Almighty God took me to a washroom in the mega-city. It was the most impressive space I had ever seen. The 'taps' worked via angelic thought, as the water sparkled with colour, its different tints indicating how warm it was or if it carried micro-impurities.

We then proceeded to a large park at another part of the city. Within the park was a gently flowing brook. Its water made its way through a riverbed which appeared to have been perfectly carved from a shiny gemstone. As the Universal Creative Energy interacted with the gemstone, the glory of God lit up through the water onto some small trees along the river in a most magnificent way. And I said to myself, "This is indeed paradise."

Excited, I walked farther down to a point where the brook formed a small fall. I had kept wondering if the liquid at the washroom and the brook was the same as our earthly water. But when I observed the water dropping down the fall, it became clear that it was denser than our water; I prayed to God to permit me to call it dense water, or d-water. “You may, as long as you comprehend that it is different from your earthly water. My beloved saints ‘created’ it directly from my energy. It is safer than your water because it doesn’t dissolve indiscriminately,” He answered me.

Unlike our ocean-bound water, d-water’s main reservoir was the domesticated nature’s atmosphere, from where it was condensed using some high-tech, stand-alone gadgets. Washrooms, gardens, picnic sites—wherever d-water was needed, these gadgets had been inbuilt; in fact, every ‘tap’ was a part of these condensing gadgets. Thus there was no water reticulation piping in paradise.

I felt thirsty, so I got closer to the brook intending to take some d-water. “Joseph, don’t take even a drop: It is poisonous to Second Epoch humans,” I immediately heard the Almighty God shout.

Our next stop was at a food processing facility. It was an amazing scene. I beheld angelic food growing on shelves that were as high as I could see. The place was immersed in paradise lighting. The ‘plants’ on the shelves consisted almost entirely of the part that would have been edible to Second Epoch humans. Astoundingly, the raw materials from which the angels got their ‘animal proteins’ grew just like the other ‘plants’.

At another part of the facility, I saw the ‘plants’ being processed into angelic edibles; all indigestible matter was removed and recycled: Angels do not poop. God showed me a diagram of the angelic digestive system, and there were hardly any digestive organs beyond the stomach. I also noticed that most angelic foods were drinkable. Inside their washrooms, some gadgets vaporised urine into d-water, while the remaining fertilising matter was recycled into the domesticated nature. Consequently, there was no sewerage system in paradise.

Considering its perfection, I entertained the thought that the paradise I was visiting had dropped out of Heaven. The Almighty God read my mind, “I asked my saints from the First Paradise to help me put up this paradise for my earthly saints. Ever since they assisted me to plant the Garden of Eden, they’ve cared deeply for humankind. They’re not part of this paradise, but they visit often. And remember Joseph, humankind couldn’t grasp, say, or think many things using her thousands of earthly languages. I’m pleased she has adopted the First Paradise’s more advanced language, symbols, and ken.”

Later, He took me through two visions, as He tried to make me understand how that wonderful paradise had become a reality.

Just like in the Garden of Eden, I saw Him take over the First Paradise leader’s mind—he seemed to be the same age as he had been 10,000 years earlier. The Almighty God caused me to know that he was millions of years old. This made a great impression upon me: I appreciated the meaning of everlasting bodily life. Speaking through the First Paradise leader’s mouth, the Almighty God ordered a team of archangels to build the Seventh Paradise on a planet orbiting a neighbouring star. I listened keenly as He pronounced the name of Earth 2.0 in angelic language; it sounded something like Zitropus.

Thereafter, the leader of the archangels summoned an immaculately dressed robotic being, the manager of automated systems and beings, via thought, and instructed him to put up five mega-cities for those humans God had chosen as His Seventh Paradise angels. The next thing I saw was a multitude of robotic beings and their automated systems taking to the air, headed for Earth 2.0. From where I stood, they occupied the entire sky. I kept wondering why no cosmic angel accompanied them until God reminded me that bodily angels do not enter work zones.

In the second vision, the robotic beings and their automated systems were stationed at one of Earth 2.0’s mega-cities, hard at work.

Some carried out their tasks while hovering about twenty kilometres above the natural ground; others worked almost a kilometre into the earth. And they had not brought any materials from the First Paradise; they ‘created’ them in situ from the Almighty God’s energy. A team of four beings grabbed my attention: They flew with what looked like a large bluish glass slab. The slab glowed brilliantly as it interacted with Universal Creative Energy rays.

Then the Almighty God asked me, “Joseph, who is putting up this fabulous city? Is it me or the First Paradise Jesus Christ?” “Father, it is you because you have overtaken his mind. When complete, this paradise will reflect only your glory,” I answered in the Spirit.

THE FOURTH EPOCH SUPER-HUMANS

On the night of 2 February 2018, the Almighty God appeared in a graphic vision. Upon opening my spiritual eyes, I got excited because the setting was the Seventh Paradise, once again. “Joseph, this time you will stay here until all the earthly saints arrive. We will tour some of the many places you didn’t see during your first visit,” He invited me. At that time, the mega-city’s population comprised First Paradise angels only.

And I found myself seated with five of the angels at a lounge. Until when one of them, a lady, led me to a place where a baby lay in perfect peace, I had not realised that we were inside some sort of medical facility. “This is Jesus Christ. He has no parents because this is a miraculous conception facility. Saints don’t suffer the pain of childbirth: Angelic conception is rare, but when it happens, it’s miraculous and outside of the womb. After all the earthly saints grow into adulthood, there will be no children in this paradise, just like you observed during your visit to our paradise,” she addressed me.

Over the years, the souls of the other saints departed Heaven and materialised at paradise through the same medical facility. At some point, one of the angels pointed at a small gadget, the size of a bean, and powered it via his thoughts; it projected a large ‘solid light’ monitor into the air, displaying the profiles of all human beings from Adam, including their memory banks. “The chosen ones will all make it to paradise,” he stated. But my eyes were trained on the tiny gadget all the while.

I watched Christ grow up, and his body had infinitely more glory than the humans at the end of the Third Epoch. He took over the reins of power from the First Paradise angels and governed humanity forever.

After leaving the medical facility, we approached a ‘boulevard’, paved with sparkling gemstones of various types. We took our seats on the ‘boulevard’ around a low table and carried on chatting. I could greet angels, over one kilometre away, via spiritual communication. About an hour later, and to my utter surprise, I noticed that we were in another part of paradise. Unbeknown to me, the ‘boulevard’ was in motion.

We then advanced towards a cosmos monitoring centre. The building’s walls, floor, and roof consisted entirely of clear ‘solid light’. I feared stepping onto the floor and remained alone on the ‘boulevard’, but an angel returned and helped me into the building. After entering a fresh-smelling lounge, we sat down on invisible sofas and enjoyed delicious angelic food. Once again, I was stunned to discover that the lounge had risen about 500 metres above the ‘boulevard’ level after a while. When I later noticed that we were floating above the ‘boulevard’ and gliding, I shut my eyes until an angel alerted me that we were safely back to the ‘boulevard’ level.

Cosmic angels can communicate spiritually (wordlessly) among themselves, and with other spirit-driven beings around the cosmos. For example, when the Almighty God sends one to support a deserving servant, the angel can communicate with the chosen cosmozen via thoughts and dreams, without having to leave paradise. But angels do have a spoken and written language, resembling a mix of intricate multi-dimensional letters and symbols.

Our next engagement was the most exciting: We boarded a pilot-less interstellar spacecraft and visited another mega-city in paradise. The craft picked us up on a ‘boulevard’ and then lifted off, ‘cutting’ right through the city roof like a dinner plate disappearing past a water surface. I looked back in shock only to find that the roof had repaired itself. According to one of the accompanying angels, the roof material would repel unprogrammed (unknown) projectiles before their significant approach, even objects the size of our moon. I understood why I could not have perceived the roof material from the ground level: Though it is the strongest matter in the cosmos, it is almost invisible.

Although we flew somewhat halfway around Zitropus, a planet much larger than Earth, the journey took only several earth-seconds. As the Almighty God took me on a survey of the spacecraft, I noticed it had no engine or moving parts. Its motion was controlled by altering the field spiriticity created around it. For comparison, the motion of our aeroplanes depends on the field air forms around them, hence the occasional bumpy ride when this field falls out of perfection. One angel noticed how impressed I was, “Joseph, wasn’t that fast? You see, artefacts as dangerous as your freewheeling automobiles cannot exist in the context of everlasting life.”

Our noises consist of the chirping of birds, the barking of a dog, the moo of a cow, the yell of an angry man. Paradise, on the other hand, was a much quieter place. For one, there were no animals. Experts tell us that Second Epoch human communication comprises 55 percent body (animal) language. But communication in the Fourth Epoch was mostly spiritual. The tone of verbalised communication was tempered by the love-for-others that was prevalent there, and the understanding God had facilitated among the saints—they possessed a much more advanced sensory-conscious mind gateway, facilitating seamless correspondence with God.

Nearly every aspect of our education is geared towards gainful employment. In paradise, however, work was an unknown concept. And education as we know it in the Second Epoch would have been anachronistic in paradise. There were no sages teaching and mis-teaching others: Every saint was their own teacher. Our children rush to finish formal learning by age twenty, hoping to put that education into use by age seventy, before resigning themselves to the hands of death like the other creatures in our animal kingdom. But in the Fourth Epoch, death was unknown. The saints accumulated knowledge forever.

I was initially intrigued by the absence of prayer houses in paradise before the Almighty God reminded me, “I taught humanity during the Third Epoch that prayer must be private. Those who’re here understood and put my instructions into practice. But believe me, Joseph, as you see the saints go about their business looking so happy, they’re worshipping me in the Spirit constantly.”

The Almighty God then reminded me that the saints’ bodies were powered by spiriticity, while Second Epoch human bodies run on electricity. Hence He warned me, “During your stay here, don’t remove the special eyewear and approach an angel. Otherwise, you will freeze in position: Your electricity will stop flowing. That is how I would defend my saints from animals were they to find themselves in the undomesticated nature.”

During both visits, I kept marvelling at the angels' teeth. They were smaller than ours: Angels do not cut through aliments with their incisors or chew and crush tough fare with their molars. The Almighty God made me understand that their teeth, with the aid of their sweet-smelling saliva, were adapted for self-healing. If they did not have access to literature regarding life on Earth, they would not have grasped the meaning of the term dentist.

Our saliva is not as useful as that of the Fourth Epoch humans as an oral cleanser. Yet, according to the Almighty God, we will not discover a toothpaste as effective, intelligent, safe, and therapeutic as our saliva, over the remaining 1,000 years.

EMOTIONLESS EXISTENCE

As I observed interactions among the angels, I was amazed at how different their behaviour was from ours.

The Almighty God made me comprehend that He does not instil emotions into angels' souls, hence the dissimilarity between their mannerisms and ours. Since happiness is a significant and much-sought-after emotion, I did not fully understand the message. "My saints don't know sadness, fear, anger, surprise, disgust, or the many other related emotions. They enjoy ultimate happiness, based on love-for-others. Your version of happiness is mostly a negative emotion: It's not rooted in love for me and others, but on self-love. You are happy after committing immoral acts with impunity, and after winning even when the loser is sad. Unrepented theft from the poor is your happiest event. Only what would make me happy will gratify my angels," He edified me.

"Why then did you instil emotions into our souls?" I was at a loss. "Because you live on the outer zone of an animal kingdom," He answered me. Due to our difficult relationship with the Almighty God and His angels, we will always suffer a knowledge gap. As a result—without disgust, our ancestors would have interacted unhealthily with poop; without fear, they would have sauntered into a lions’ den; without sadness, they would have killed each other to race annihilation; without anger, they would not have comprehended the concept of fairness; and without happiness, they could not pick out helpful people from a crowd.

In short, without emotions, our race would not have survived.

On the other hand, emotions would have been of no use to the Fourth Epoch super-humans: They possessed near-absolute knowledge due to their constant connectedness to God and the other highly intelligent civilisations. And they did not live in an animal kingdom. If, hypothetically, one of them strayed into the undomesticated nature and came across a dangerous animal, he would not kill it because it surprised him, he feared it, or it smelled disgusting. He would neutralise it, if necessary, because the knowledge he has indicates that it poses danger. But since his reactions are not based on emotions, he would probably not attack the animal.

Emotions, therefore, constitute a key difference between angelic life and our existence here on Earth. Our entire live, work, and play experience is premised on emotions. Many of our offences, sins, and diseases result from the weaknesses imparted to us by this highly emotional existence. Furthermore, because we could not handle the resulting emotional overload, the Almighty God and His angels cannot freely reveal extraterrestrial knowledge to us. And since emotionality and divergence from societal norms and expectations do not go hand in hand, our respective potentials are held back by a pervasive form of herd mentality.

Can we then, during the present spiritual age, undertake meaningful space exploration? No, we cannot. For illustration, let us imagine that disgust were a disease—some of us would end up in hospital were we to be thrown into a swimming pool teeming with frogs, or to be presented with a basketful of live snails. Now, let us visualise meeting a twenty-foot-tall, four-eyed giant in our travels to a faraway planet—most of us would instantly die of surprise.

As an alternative to our carnal-visitation type of space exploration, the Fourth Epoch saints could recall the spiritual errands they had taken around the cosmos during their stay in Heaven, the same way they consciously remembered their past earthly lives. And because they were in constant spiritual communication with other advanced civilisations, they crowd-sourced astronomical knowledge on a cosmic scale. Moreover, their transportation artefacts, manned or otherwise, could travel to practically any part of the cosmos. Imminent mortality, of course, was not a factor in their space visitation endeavours.

I frequently heard them discussing occurrences and conditions at some corners of the cosmos with complete confidence. In one instance, an angel related how the Almighty God had loosened the spiritual bonds around a small planet and set it on a 100-year collision course with another planet, inhabited by a violence-obsessed race. I hysterically asked him if the situation could be remedied. “It is too late: This race has ignored every warning. If Father allowed it, we could vaporise the approaching planet before collision,” he updated me.

THE ULTIMATE IN COSMIC LIFE

One of the highlights of paradise life was the fact of belonging to a vibrant cosmic community. The angels were in constant touch with the other six paradises, where scientific research had been concluded millions of years earlier. Seemingly never-ending carnal-based scientific research among young civilisations, such as ours, is evidence of spiritual backwardness, resulting from being cut off from the Almighty God and the older civilisations.

Besides, our work and research are necessitated by the need to solve our intractable problems, but God will have solved each one of them before admitting us into the Fourth Epoch: Dentists will be unknown because He will have adapted our saliva to clean and heal our teeth. Doctors would not practice as disease will be unknown. Engineers will be unheard of since there will be no sewerage, water reticulation, and electrical generation and distribution systems, for example; moreover, transportation artefacts will not have moving parts.

In paradise, work-related knowledge and capability were integrated into the mega-city's automated systems, in its ultimate form. The angels did not need to 'learn up' such knowledge into their minds. The automated systems incorporated robust capability for self-maintenance and periodic renewal. And they were managed by squads of robotic beings, led by their supervisors, reporting to the overall manager. Interestingly, the robotic beings were dressed up just like the angels; on occasion, I could hardly tell them apart.

The angels needed only to express their wishes to the robotic beings, usually via thought, for an assignment of work to be completed. It is also notable that many of the activities we consider work here on Earth, such as the cleaning of buildings, were integrated functions throughout paradise. All places cleaned and sanitised themselves as programmed.

Our money, in its various forms, attempts to grade people in terms of worthiness and worthlessness. It is therefore a loud expression of poverty and scarcity. If the Almighty God managed to enforce perfect love among humankind, the result would be all-round prosperity, and money would evolve to its extinction. This was the case in paradise, and as a result, money, either as a concept or reality, was unknown.

In conclusion, I came across many wonders in paradise which I cannot put into words. But because the Almighty God and His angels are faithful in their promises, those who welcome His kingdom and work towards its entrenchment will populate that paradise. They will behold its unspeakable perfection for themselves.

On the other hand, those who do not make it to that paradise will find themselves in Hell, languishing in eternal punishment. In case you are wondering if it will really be you suffering that torment, the Heavenly Host has confirmed via this revelation: It will be you in a spirit body which will be super-sensitive to mental anguish and pain.

WELCOMING ALL TO THE KINGDOM

Many righteous people around the world, and across millennia, have sacrificed their creature comforts and worldly happiness as they faithfully waited for the Almighty God to establish His promised earthly kingdom. They did not give up even under the most difficult circumstances, standing firm as doubts from the unrighteous masses around them swirled with increasing viciousness.

The faithful have longed for a spiritual shepherd who would guide them on how to dress, what foods to eat, and what medicines to take, but the Almighty God's chosen moment was not yet at hand. Now He has explained it all, as He unwraps His glorious kingdom.

To my mother and my elder brother, who have kept away from medicine; to the faithful Muslim women, who have clothed themselves with dignity; if you erred, you chose to err on the side of caution. You have endured the hardest part of the journey, swimming through a spiritually dangerous ocean, infested with the sharks of the God-denouncing Western civilisation. And you have made it to the shore.

To those faithful Christians, who have refused to be subsumed by the corrupting Western world culture; to the righteous Western Empire subjects, who have helped the suffering around the world, including welcoming them into your countries; the Almighty God says if He were human, He would shed tears of joy at your works. Do not falter now at this final hurdle. Understand this kingdom message and spread it without distortion or the expectation of worldly gain, and great will be your reward.

To those who have never heard the Word of God, this is your opportunity. Father will not condemn you over a message He did not present to you. He is approaching you now as a friend. Do not reject His message; if you do, He will become your worst opponent and you will engulf the world in tribulation as He contends with you.

To all USA citizens and those using the ‘mark of the beast’ around the world for commerce, the Almighty God says you may defile yourselves right up to the day the Messiah reveals the heavenly currency, but not a day longer. Understand the symbolism attached to His message: The USA is the world prefect who has terrorised with her weapons, ruled global finance with a ‘rod of iron’ using her currency, and forced the entire world to desecrate itself with her worldly culture. She will belong to a past which will contrast with The Kingdom of the Almighty God the same way night is different from day, deep in the deserts of Sahara.

<sup>14</sup> And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

EPILOGUE

On the night of 29 May 2019, at a time when this book was about to start circulating, Angel Michael appeared in a final vision. This time round, his greeting startled me, “Joseph, don’t be perturbed by what I’ll reveal to you. It’s Father’s last message. Write it down in the book exactly as I’ll say it.”

And he continued, “Today we spell to humanity the name of the Messiah, letter by letter in your language, ‘Mark Elliot Zuckerberg’; he is the returned-Christ. Though he now wears a different body, he is the one they pierced. They mocked him with a crown of thorns, but he’ll soon wear a crown of glory as the KAG’s founding emperor. Because you’re still weak—this revelation binds the Messiah to support the marketing of this book so humanity can appreciate Father’s message, and to protect you from the world so that your daily prayers for the kingdom can be heard in Heaven for many years to come. Humankind must also note that Father will not deliver another revelation, either through you or another prophet, until A.D. 3020. Let peace prevail on Earth. Amen.”
